APPORTIONMENT BILLS READY FOR SOLONS IN CAUCUS

Allegheny County Will Gain Ten Additional Law Makers.

NEW DISTRICT LINES

W. T. Tredway and Representative McWhinney Are Authors of the Proposed Laws.

MEMBERS TO WORK FOR THEM

Senator John W. Crawford will introduce into the senate at the opening of the extra session next week a bill to apportion the state into 50 senatorial districts. Two measures have been prepared for him, and he may present both. One gives Chester and Delaware counties separate representation and the other combines them.

Under a new apportionment, Allegheny will secure six senators, an increase of two. A representative apportionment will give the county 24 instead of 16 members of the house. A bill to accomplish this has been prepared by Representative Robert McWhinney. His measure and the senatorial bill will be considered at a caucus of the Allegheny county delegation at a meeting to be held in Harrisburg on Monday. The county is particularly interested in its own representation and offers the measures as a basis for the legislature to begin work in enacting apportionment legislation. The lines in the Allegheny senatorial and representative districts as shown in the bills are generally satisfactory to the Republican leaders.

Local Senatorial Districts.

W. T. Tredway drew the senatorial bill, and has divided the local districts as follows:

Fortieth district—The city of Allegheny. Population 129,896.

Forty-first district—All of the boroughs and townships in that portion of Allegheny county lying south of the Ohio and Monongahela rivers, and the Thirty-sixth, Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth and Fortieth wards of Pittsburgh. Population 130,152.

Forty-second district—All of the boroughs and townships in that portion of Allegheny county lying north of the Ohio and Allegheny rivers, and the Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twenty-first and Thirty-seventh wards of Pittsburgh. Population, 129,847.

Forty-third district—The Eighth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth and Twentieth wards of Pittsburgh. Population 130,878.

Forty-fourth district—The Twenty-second ward of Pittsburgh, city of McKeesport, and all the boroughs and townships in that portion of Allegheny county lying between the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers. Population 131,702.

Covers Much Ground.

Forty-fifth district—The First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Tenth, Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, Thirty-first, Thirty-second, Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth wards of Pittsburgh. Population 122,479.

Mr. McWhinney's representative apportionment bill makes these new districts in Allegheny county:

The First, Third, Seventh, Eighth, Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth wards in Allegheny shall constitute the First district and elect two members.

The Second, Fifth, Sixth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh and Fifteenth wards in Allegheny shall constitute the Second district and elect two members.

The First, Fourth, Fifth, Ninth, Tenth, Twelfth and Fifteenth wards in Pittsburgh shall constitute the Third district and elect one member.

The Second, Third, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Eleventh, Thirteenth and Fourteenth wards in Pittsburgh shall constitute the Fourth district and elect three members.

The Sixteenth, Seventeenth and Eighteenth and Twentieth wards in Pittsburgh shall constitute the Fifth district and elect two members.

The Nineteenth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Twenty-third and Thirty-seventh wards in Pittsburgh shall constitute the Sixth district and elect two members.

The Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, Thirty-first, Thirty-second, Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth and Thirty-eighth wards in Pittsburgh shall constitute the Seventh district and elect three members.

McKeesport Gets a Member.

McKeesport shall constitute the Eighth district and elect one member.

The boroughs of Braddock, Edgewood, East McKeesport, East Pittsburgh, North Braddock, Oakmont, Pitcairn, Rankin, Swissvale, Turtle Creek, Verona, Versailles, Wilmerding and Wilkinsburg and the townships of Braddock, North Versailles, Plum, Penn, Patton, South Versailles, Sterrett, Versailles and Wilkins shall constitute the Ninth district and elect two members.

The boroughs of Bridgeville, Carnegie, Crafton, Cornapolis, Duquesne, Elliott, Elizabeth, Baden, Greentree, Homestead, Hays, Knoxville, Montooth, Mt. Oliver, McKees Rocks, Munhall, Oakdale, Portview, Sheridan, West Liberty, West Elizabeth and West Homestead and the townships of Bethel, Baldwin, Chartiers, Collier, Crescent, Elizabeth, Finley, Forward, Jefferson, Lower St. Clair, Lincoln, Mifflin, Moon, North Fayette, Neville, Robinson, Snowden, South Fayette, Scott, Stowe, Upper St. Clair and Union shall constitute the Tenth district and elect four members.

The boroughs and townships north of the Ohio and Allegheny rivers, shall constitute the Eleventh district and elect two members.

Philadelphia Gains Two.

Under the McWhinney bill the membership of the house will be increased from 204 to 207. Philadelphia gains 2, having that city a total of 41 members. The gains are as follows: Allegheny, 8; Blair, Clearfield, Fayette, Jefferson, Northumberland and Westmoreland, 1 each; Luzerne and Lackawanna, 2 each.

These counties each lose one member: Adams, Bedford, Centre, Chester, Clarion, Columbia, Crawford, Huntingdon, Indiana, Lancaster, Lycoming, Mercer, Montgomery, Schuylkill, Susquehanna and Wayne.

ALL WOMENS' CLUBS TO HELP PURIFY POLICE FORCE

Womens' Union Missionary Association Instructs Committee to Continue the Work.

The investigation of the women of Pittsburgh into the moral tone of the police force yesterday took a new form. The committee appointed last fall by the executive board of the Women's Union Missionary association was instructed to ask all the women's clubs in Allegheny county to further the investigation and help purify the police force of the city. The committee, of which Mrs. R. C. Wylie is chairman, made a verbal report to the executive board, at the conclusion of the morning session of the semi-annual meeting of the association, held in the Second Presbyterian church.

The report was accepted and believing that the resignation of Superintendent Wallace of the police bureau was brought about largely through the work of this investigating committee aided by the newspapers in the creation of public opinion, the committee was instructed to go before all the women's clubs in Allegheny county and appeal to them to take up this work of purifying the moral tone of the police force, and promising the further support and co-operation of the Women's Union Missionary association.

The object in appealing to the clubs is to add greater strength to the agitation of public opinion. With this end in view an effort will be made to present the subject at the annual mid-winter conference of women's clubs, which will be held in the First Presbyterian church under the auspices of the permanent civic committee, on Thursday, February 15.

This appeal to the clubs was not decided upon without a good deal of opposition. The president of the association, Mrs. S. S. Gilson, spared no words in stating her opinion of women's clubs, which, in her estimation, do nothing but study Shakespeare and occasionally other subjects. The appeal to the women's clubs for their active co-operation met with strong supporters in Mrs. R. C. Wylie and Mrs. William C. Anderson, both of whom, besides being members of women's clubs, are engaged in active philanthropic and civic work originated by the Woman's club of Wilkinsburg and other women's clubs.

Emerson Leads for Assembly.

MEADVILLE, PA., Jan. 11.—At the special election held today in Crawford county to fill the assembly vacancy, 37 precincts out of 61 in the county gave John L. Emerson, Republican, 2,580, Claude Williams, Democrat, 988.

SERIOUS DAMAGE AT GREENVILLE STEEL WORKS

Fire Follows Explosion at the Carnegie Plant, Causing Loss of Over $400,000.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENVILLE, PA., Jan. 11.—Fire started by an explosion destroyed the works of the Carnegie Steel Company here tonight. Thomas Lewis, a fireman, and Mike Stubencyitch were badly burned. A flue in the boiler of a heating furnace blew out, deluging the furnace below, which exploded into fragments and scattered fire in all directions. The force of the explosion was so great that fireballs were lodged in the roof of the 10-inch finishing department, and the flames spread rapidly.

The explosion occurred at 6:50 o'clock, and in 10 minutes there was no hope of saving the building, known as the old mill. A half hour later a strong wind swept the flames into the new tandem mill, built last July, shipping sheds and boiler houses. The plant is out of the city water district and hose had to be laid long distances. The plant figures among the assets of the United Steel Corporation at $1,000,000. Much of the machinery was saved, and the foundations, hot beds, etc., are uninjured. The loss of product will be serious, as the plant was running day and night on high-grade orders.

The loss is between $500,000 and $600,000. Four hundred men are thrown out of work. No one connected with the company was in a position to state anything definite as to the rebuilding of the mills, which are located on the United States Steel Corporation's railroad. The fact that the corporation has been spending large sums here for improvements leads to the hope that the plant will be rebuilt. The mill was originally built in 1871, was operated by the late Peter L. Kimberly for years and passed into the Carnegie company's hands a few years ago.

WEIL SAYS PITTSBURGH IS BOSS RIDDEN CITY

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Reformers from many cities gathered today in the rooms of the City club to attend the opening session of a conference called by the Municipal Voters league to discuss the extent to which municipal elections should be separated from national politics. More than 50 delegates registered before the meeting. Among those present were A. Leo Weil of Pittsburgh and C. R. Woodruff of Philadelphia. A Leo Weil painted a dark picture of political conditions in Pitsburgh and declared that the city was boss ridden.

TO BE OVER THE HILLS FROM THE POORHOUSE

Daughter of James H. Giles, a Pittsburgh Architect, Finds Him After Eight Years.

Aged and disabled, James Giles will no longer write "poorhouse" as his place of abode. His daughter has found him. He had been lost eight years. There is all the pathos of the ballad "Over the Hills to the Poorhouse" in the 79 years of Giles' life, while Cupid and a wartime romance under the balmy skies of Cuba played him the cruel turn of separating him from his daughter. He has erased 10 of the score recorded by Father Time since "Julia is found." James H. Giles was a former well-known architect of Pittsburgh.

Eight years ago his daughter, Julia Giles, went to Cuba. It was about the time of the American invasion of the island, and in the muddled condition of the postal service correspondence between father and daughter was interrupted. She did not learn of his reverse in fortune. In time she married C. Frank Gardner. And still there were no letters from home. When Mr. and Mrs. Gardner moved to Meriden, Conn., they continued an unavailing search for the father of Mrs. Gardner, of whom all trace had been lost.

While all went well with the daughter, James Giles, through reverses, was forced to accept a position in Uniontown. Again the turn of fortune's wheel proved unlucky and he became James Giles of the poorhouse, a public charge of Fayette county, but now James Giles is "found."

The effort of years of the daughter and son-in-law were rewarded this week through the aid of a Uniontown newspaper. Mr. Gardner or his wife is expected in Uniontown in a few days to take Giles to their home.

COULD USE THE ARSENAL.

Quartermaster General Humphrey Can Occupy Lawrenceville Grounds to Store Army Supplies.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Quartermaster General Humphrey has indicated to the secretary of war that he could use the Allegheny arsenal as a storehouse for supplies. He made this suggestion when the papers recommending the abandonment of the arsenal were referred to him.

"I do not know what disposition will be made of the Allegheny arsenal," said Gen. Humphrey to The Gazette correspondent tonight, "but at present I am in need of mere storehouse room. Of course it is for congress to say what shall be done with the ground. I have not protested against the abandonment of the arsenal, but have merely said that I could use it for a storehouse."

MUCH SPOTTED FEVER.

Seven Naval Apprentices Die at Newport and Others Are Ill—Quarantine Is Tightening.

NEWPORT, R. I., Jan. 11.—Seven deaths from spotted fever have occurred among the draft of 350 naval apprentices who were brought to the training station here last November. Harry G. Bottenburg of Roanoke, Va., died tonight, and Frederick Friend is very ill. Three other boys are less seriously ill. The body of John F. Relfe, who died yesterday, was shipped to McCook, Neb., tonight.

Quarantine regulations were extended today to all the 1,900 apprentices.

CHOKES ON SHOE BUTTON.

It Slips Down Child's Throat and Death Ensues Before the Arrival of Physician at House.

Charles Roland, aged 4, of 504 Doyle avenue, West Homestead, choked to death on a button at his home last night. The boy was playing about the house and put a shoe button in his mouth. It slipped down his throat and the child began to struggle. Physicians were summoned, but the boy died before they reached the house.

BELLEVUE RESIDENT SUFFERS FROM A PERPLEXING MALADY

James T. Garber, Prostrated Five Days Ago, Has Since Remained Unconscious—Several Members of His Family Likewise Afflicted.

James T. Garber of 26 Ellsworth avenue, Bellevue, is prostrated by a strange malady which thus far has baffled his physicians. Mr. Garber was stricken on Monday and has not recovered consciousness. It was reported that he had been poisoned by eating codfish, but this is denied and his symptoms in some respects indicate acute indigestion.

A brother of Mr. Garber, who has arrived from New York, stated last night the patient was suffering from an affliction which frequently manifested itself in his family. One brother died after a brief illness which affected its victim in the same manner. A nephew of Mr. Garber is said to be subject to similar attacks.

"We hope for the patient's early recovery," said Mr. Garber's brother last night. "We should be more alarmed if his physical history did not show a recurrence of these attacks. I am convinced that he is not suffering poison. Something which he ate has doubtless caused indigestion and this is followed by sheer exhaustion. This is the feature of the case which perplexes physicians in making a diagnosis and which distinguishes it as a disease seldom brought before the attention of medical science."

Mr. Garber is a department manager for McCreery & Co., and last week was elected treasurer of the congregation of the Bellevue Baptist church. It was while attending services last Sunday that he was stricken.

MAY LOSE $50,000,000 IN EXPORT OF PORK

Secretary Wilson Again Appeals to Congress for Additional Inspectors.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—"Unless congress speedily grants the emergency appropriation of $135,000 requested by me for additional inspectors and microscopists, it is probable that over $50,000,000 worth of orders for American pork and beef products placed by German dealers will go unfilled."

This statement was made by Secretary Wilson today. Anticipating the high rates of duty on products emanating from the United States imposed by the new German tariff, which becomes effective March 1 next, and Germany at the present time being in urgent need of meat supplies, Secretary Wilson said that German dealers have flooded the packing houses of this country with orders.

In speaking of this condition of affairs he referred to recent strictures upon his action in creating what was stated to be a deficiency of $135,000, the amount asked by him, in alleged violation of the statute on this subject enacted during the last congress. "These statements," he said, "do me a grave injustice and do not credit me with trying to relieve our packers from the desperation in which they have been placed by reason of the lack of a proper inspecting force."

TWO MEN LOSE THEIR LIVES IN TAYLOR MINE

While Examining Workings Chief Engineer Charles Hubbard and a Slav Are Killed.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

UNIONTOWN, PA., Jan. 11.—(Special.) A fall of slate this afternoon at the works of the Taylor Coal and Coke Company, resulted in the death of Charles Hubbard, aged 36, chief engineer of the company, and Michael Jenlek, a Slav. A shot had been exploded before noon, and Hubbard and Frank Boyd went down later to see the condition of the mine. A fall of slate occurred and Hubbard was covered by debris, while Boyd, who was five feet away, escaped. Hubbard died without speaking and his body was recovered a few minutes later. Jenlek's body was completed buried and was recovered later.

Hubbard is survived by his widow, who is a sister of ex-District Attorney W. E. Crow and Dr. A. E. Crow of Uniontown, and one child. This is the third serious accident at the Taylor works in less than a year.

POPULATION IS 372,500.

Figures Are Gleaned from Dr. Malson's Report of January 1—The Weekly Death Roll.

The population of Pittsburgh is now 372,500, according to Dr. E. G. Malson, registrar of vital statistics of the bureau of health. The number is the new computation, based on his reports on January 1.

There were 151 deaths in the city last week, an annual death rate per 1,000, based on the new figures of population of 22.36. The principal causes of death were pneumonia, 23; typhoid fever, 13; diphtheria, 3; measles, 2; consumption, 16; bronchitis, 5; heart disease, 5; apoplexy, 5; violence, 17. There were 21 infants under one year, and 18 between 70 and 99 years; 29 died in hospitals. During the week there were reported 197 cases of measles, 25 of typhoid fever, 20 of scarlet fever, and 13 of diphtheria.

GENERAL MORALES WOUNDED.

Santo Domingo Is Still in a State of Turmoil and Troops Are Massing for Attack.

CAPE HAITIEN, HAITI, Jan. 11.—Advices received here today from Monte Cristi, Santo Domingo, say that Gen. Morales was wounded recently in an encounter with troops of the temporary president, Gen. Caceres. The government forces captured a doctor belonging to Gen. Morales' army.

A detachment of Gen. Caceres' troops is on the track of Gen. Morales, and it is said he probably will be captured. Recruiting is being actively pushed in the northern provinces of Santo Domingo to obtain men to march against Gen. Cuello, who has announced himself as a candidate for the presidency, and who is now planning to attack Santo Domingo, the capital.

FALSE PROPHET ARISES.

Porto Ricans Numbering Thousands Are Following Him, According to Colporteur of Tract Society.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Emanuel Paris, colporteur to the American Tract society, states that in Ponce, Porto Rico, a false prophet has appeared, representing himself as the spirit of St. John the Evangelist.

He commands people to follow him and to wear three crosses hanging from their necks so that Satan may not carry them away. In this manner a great part of the country people follow him, something like 3,000 leaving their labor. He announced a service, and there met to hear him about 10,000 people.

WOMAN CHALLENGES PASTOR.

The Rev. I. M. Imhoff Quickly Modifies His Statement When She Calls Him to Account.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—"I say that it is impossible for one to belong to lodges and continue to be a Christian," declared the Rev. I. M. Imhoff, paster of the Wesley Methodist Episcopal church, here last night during revival services. A woman arose to say that she belonged to three lodges yet considered herself a Christian.

The Rev. Imhoff then modified his statement by saying he personally could not belong to lodges and continue as a Christian. It was found that nearly two-thirds of the members present belonged to secret societies.

Another Victim of Hotel Fire.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 11.—Mrs. Samuel Spiesberger of Chicago died at the City hospital this afternoon, making the ninth victim of the West hotel fire.

WALL STREET IS DENOUNCED BY THE IDAHO SENATOR

But a Gambling Club on the Banks of the Hudson.

BACON SIDETRACKED

His Resolution on Morocco Is Buried in Secret Session of the Senate.

HOUSE HEARS TARIFF DEBATE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.

Senator Heyburn of Idaho today paid his respects, in language of the glowing west, to Wall street.

"A gambling club over on the Hudson river," Senator Heyburn called the financial district of the metropolis, and in much the same strain he talked of the New York call for currency reform.

The particular excuse for Senator Heyburn's strong words was his bill creating a board of corporations under the department of commerce and labor, to have supervisory control over all corporations engaged in interstate commerce, and insurance companies as well. The purpose of his bill, as he explained, is to prevent railroad companies controlling public utilities or entering into other business than that for which they are chartered, and to keep insurance companies or insurance officials from engaging into banking, from coming to the assistance of desperate speculators and manipulators of the markets, or being partners in financial deals, in Wall street. Of Wall street he said:

Make an Idle Threat.

"The institution commonly known as Wall street is simply a gambling club over on the Hudson river. It has assumed the right to dictate the financial policy of this country. Whenever the legislation either enacted or proposed does not suit them, they meet us with threats that 'unless you do certain things within a certain time, and enact certain legislation, we will wreck the country financially.' Fortunately, the time when they can carry out that threat has passed.

"They have sought to control, and in a large measure have succeeded in controlling, through the financial combinations to which I have referred, an unnatural and unholy proportion of the money of the country. They have collected together money by hundreds of millions of dollars, and by the little combination of a coterie of men whose only responsibility in life is to gamble upon the chance of what somebody else may do, they can bring about what is known as a stress in the money market; they can make a threat of ruin to the country that will affect the prosperity of the citizens from one ocean to the other."

Mr. Bacon Is Silenced.

In secret session today the senate discussed the status of Senator Bacon's Moroccan resolution for three hours, and in the end it was left on the calendar. Vice President Fairbanks declared that his course in placing the resolution on the calendar had been the unvarying practice, and he produced as a precedent a ruling made by Vice President Morton in an identical situation. Several other precedents were quoted in brief speeches. Senators Teller and Morgan defended the contention of Senator Bacon that the contention had been placed on the calendar wrongfully, the first mentioned making a long speech in support of his position.

No Republican members talked on the resolution, leaving the course of the presiding officer to himself to defend. They were ready to support him, however, had an appeal been taken from his ruling. The effect of the vice president's decision is to leave the resolution on the calendar where it must remain until taken therefrom by a majority vote of the senate or by unanimous consent, and therefore will prevent its consideration by the senate or by a senate committee.

Tariff Debate in House.

The Philippine tariff debate in the house today consisted more of party maneuvering for advantageous campaign material than of discussion of the question at issue. The tariff was the text of a speech by Mr. Grosvenor of Ohio, who began the debate, and of an extended reply by Mr. Williams, the minority leader. The speech of Mr. Grosvenor was spiced with witticisms and enlivened with interruptions from Champ Clark, to whom Mr. Grosvenor aimed most of his argument. Mr. Williams outlined again the specific tariff doctrine of the Democratic party, and held that the Republican tariff was not, as so often claimed, responsible for the prosperity of the country. To prove this he cited the prosperity of Canada, Mexico, and other countries during the hard times of 1893.

Fifty Republican representatives are now said by insurgents in the house to have signed the pledge to vote against any rule prohibiting amendments to the Hamilton joint statehood bill. Several members have been won over by the insurgents since yesterday, and they are confident their number will be swelled to 65 before the week's end. The Republicans who are supporting the Hamilton bill insist that the bottom has dropped out of the insurgent movement.

New President of Republic Iron.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—John A. Topping was elected president of the Republic Iron and Steel Company today. E. W. Oglebay was elected a member of the executive committee.

BIG NEW LIST OF NUMBERS COMING

New Sunday's Gazette Will Bring Good News to Many Holders of "Luck Pieces."

MORE PERSONS CLAIM CASH

GAZETTE "LUCKY PIECES" MAY BRING REWARDS

Look for a "Lucky Piece."
If you find one, keep it. It may bring money.
A "Lucky Piece" is an aluminum disc just the size of a half dollar, with a number stamped on one side and the familiar "Coon" on the reverse.
All through the wide territory in which the daily and Sunday Gazette circulate these "Lucky Pieces" are being lost. Each bears a number. Certain numbers will secure part of the fortune The Gazette is sharing among its readers. From time to time numbers will be called for. If you see in The Gazette's list the number of the good luck disc you hold, bring or send it to The Gazette office and get the amount named.
Do not expect to get a cash reward unless the number of your "Lucky Piece" is called for, but if the number of yours is announced, the amount named will be paid to us return. Watch the daily and Sunday Gazette for the lucky lists.

Everybody knows how acceptable a little extra cash is. Or if they don't know, they may have a chance to learn if they will only find a "Lucky Piece" and watch The Gazette. Cash rewards have gone to lots of people and many more are going to share in the fortune The Gazette is giving away. In next Sunday's Gazette there's going to be another long list of lucky numbers asked for. You simply can't afford to miss that call, so you'd better place your order with your carrier or newsdealer, who will see that the paper reaches you.

By keeping up a persistent search for a "Lucky Piece," David Mullany, of 1856 Forbes street, is $2 better off. For some time he hunted without success. Then one day his luck came and he discovered one in Fifth avenue, near Elm street, which bore the number 32,173. Then he watched The Gazette and before long his patience was rewarded by seeing the number of his good luck disc announced. He came yesterday and claimed his reward. He says he's going to look for another one.

Herman Krause, of Sidney street, Allegheny, has a good friend. Some time ago this friend found "Lucky Piece" No. 20,456 and generously turned it over to Herman. Perhaps had the friend known what was coming, he wouldn't have been so generous, for in Thursday's Gazette it was announced that the holder of No. 20,456 was entitled to a reward of $5 for its return. Yesterday Herman called at The Gazette office and a $5 gold piece was given him in exchange for his aluminum disc.

The full list of those who claimed rewards yesterday for the return of their "Lucky Pieces" follows:

David Mullany, 1856 Forbes street, No. 32,173 ..... $2 00
Herman Krause, Sidney street, Allegheny, No. 20,456 ..... 5 00
Mrs. Minnie Leiper, Beaver Falls, Pa., No. 28,811 ..... 1 00
Edgar O. Hobbs, Castle Shannon, No. 16,084 ..... 1 00
Miss Jennie Gardom, 926 Vickroy street, No. 26,458 ..... 1 00
T. J. Downing, 718 Nevin avenue, Swissvale, Pa., No. 26,098 ..... 2 00
John M. Wilson, Jr., East State street, Sharon, Pa., No. 40,412 ..... 2 00

"Lucky Pieces" are still being lost and people who keep up the hunt are finding them. The minute YOU find a "Lucky Piece," you stand a chance of getting money on it. All you have to do is to watch the lists of numbers as they appear from time to time in The Gazette. Next Sunday's Gazette is going to contain another big bunch of calls. That means money for many and you may be among the fortunate ones. To be certain, you'll have to get a look at that list, so order Sunday's Gazette now from your carrier or newsdealer.

WANTS CAMPAIGN FUNDS EXPOSED TO THE PUBLIC

Former President Cleveland Writes a Letter Indorsing Perry Belmont's Movement.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Perry Belmont today received the following letter from former President Cleveland:

Princeton, N. J., January 9.
My Dear Sir: I am very late in acknowledging receipt of your article on the "Publicity of Campaign Receipts and Expenditures," published in the North American Review. I have read it with a great deal of interest. I am thoroughly convinced that the time has arrived when this subject should be treated thoroughly and vigorously and with an honest intention to arrive, through the means you suggest, at the point where the baleful influences of political corruption shall be removed from our national life. While I am so situated that I cannot give time or attention to the real work of this movement, I am entirely willing that my name should appear as one of those greatly interested in its success.
Yours very sincerely,
GROVER CLEVELAND.

LEADERS BEATEN BY NEW COMBINE

Republican Primaries in Philadelphia Develops Hard Fighting and Many Surprises.

WEAVER GIVES HIS VIEWS

[The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Press Building, PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11.]

The ward leaders' combine at the Republican primaries tonight successfully carried out their plan to take control of the city executive committee from the hands of Penrose, Martin, Lane and others who formerly dominated that body. The battle was not won without a strenuous fight. In the Fifth ward, Harbormaster Maloney, who was king-pin in the hey-day of Durham and McNichol, lost in a terrific battle for the leadership with James B. Anderson. There was fighting all over the ward in which the police figured conspicuously, and when the primaries were over 15 of Maloney's followers were in police station cells, while any number on both sides were nursing the injuries they had sustained at the polls.

Martin's Hard Fight.

In the Nineteenth ward David Martin waged a hard fight with John R. McLean for the ward leadership. McLean went into the battle with the city officeholders behind him and the moral support of Mayor Weaver. When the fight was at an end both McLean and Martin claimed the victory, but it is understood that the ward leaders will seat McLean in the city committee. Martin, realizing that his last vestige of power is slipping from him, threatens to take the matter into the courts.

On account of the rumpus that had been raised by those who feared that the reform element would be swallowed up in the Republican organization if advantage was taken of the open primaries, the number of Lincoln party and City party men who participated in the primaries was not large. They turned out only in the wards where the fight was close, and the spirit for leadership honors had the support of the mayor.

Weaver's Statement.

Tonight Mayor Weaver issued a statement in which he fully indicated that he is in sympathy with the proposed reorganization, although he had been strongly criticised for showing a leaning toward the machine. He says:

I wish to say to the public that I am not in any way concerned in or connected with any of the political movements that are now attracting so much attention in the city. Since the November election I have been engaged in what has been practically a combat to preserve the municipal administration from those who have desired to involve it in factional politics. I have set myself steadily against their disrespect either in the appointment or dismissal of officers to use the public service for political ends. In doing this I have been obliged to resist the importunities of many friends who, in the late campaign, did excellent service for the cause of good government.

So far as I and my administrative functions are concerned, I am absolutely indifferent to anything but the success of the cause of municipal regeneration. Whatever party or faction, or combination of parties or factions promises most for the people and the permanency of reform, I desire to see successful, and as far as I lawfully can, will favor. As a Republican I would like to see the Republican party in city and state in line squarely, unequivocally and aggressively with the cause of good government.

ALLEGHENY COURT HOUSE THE PRIDE OF ARCHITECTS

American Institute Pleads That Building Will Not Be Disfigured by Additional Stories.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The American Institute of Architects today reaffirmed its action of a year ago in protesting against the addition of two stories to the Allegheny county court house. The institute is interested in the preservation of this building as one of the finest specimens of architecture in existence in this country.

Today the matter came up in the form of a letter to a member of the organization stating that the building is in danger of disfigurement by the addition of more stories and suggest that some action be taken. The matter was discussed at some length, but there was only one opinion expressed and that was that it would be a mistake to spoil the architectural beauty of the court house.

A motion was adopted instructing the president, Frank M. Day of Philadelphia, and the secretary, Glenn Brown of Washington, to write to the Allegheny county commissioners, informing them of the sense of the institute.

BIGELOW MUST TESTIFY.

Author Who Attacks Panama Canal Management Is Subpoenaed to Appear Before Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The senate committee on inter-oceanic canals today placed in the hands of Sergeant-at-Arms Ransdell a subpoena for Poultney Bigelow, the author and traveler whose attack on the government of the canal zone and the management of canal affairs was denounced by Secretary Taft in a communication sent to congress by President Roosevelt.

Mr. Bigelow is believed to be in New York and can be served in time to have him here next week. The committee's purpose is to let him substantiate his story if possible, and if that is not done to remove the stigma placed upon the names of several officials of the isthmian canal committee.

Ben Avon Has Policeman Now.

The committee having charge of the movement to place a private patrolman in the streets of Ben Avon met last night and completed arrangements to have a man go on duty this evening. Harry Ross of Avalon, an experienced policeman, was chosen for the position at a salary of probably $75 per month. He is to go on duty at 7 o'clock in the evening and cover every street in the eastern end of the borough until 6 o'clock the next morning. The man is to be paid by public subscription of citizens, who will each contribute $1 a month.

MAY TAKE HILL CASE FROM JURY

Court Asked to Declare Commonwealth Has Failed to Establish Crime.

JUDGE DEFERS HIS DECISION

[The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Press Building, PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11.]

The case of John W. Hill, former chief of the filtration bureau, may never go to the jury, which has been listening to the evidence in regard to the charges of forgery and falsification of records for nearly two weeks.

All the testimony in the case is now in and the decision as to whether the jurors will be allowed to pass upon it rests with Judge Audenried, who will tomorrow morning give his response to the argument of former District Attorney George S. Graham, Hill's chief counsel, that the jury cannot convict on the evidence presented at the trial.

In view of the judge's declaration on Wednesday that no case of forgery had been made out against Hill, the general view of those who have been in attendance at the trial is that the court will sustain Mr. Graham's application.

When the taking of testimony was begun this morning, there was nothing to indicate that the case would reach a termination this week. The defense had not finished its presentation of evidence on three of the seven charges preferred by the commonwealth, and it was expected that there would be considerable testimony in rebuttal of the facts established by Hill's counsel. It was also thought that the summing up and the judge's charge to the jury would consume practically an entire day.

There was general surprise when the defense announced shortly before 4 o'clock that it had no further testimony to offer and the surprise was increased when, after some delay, District Attorney Bell declared that the commonwealth would not call any witnesses in rebuttal.

The application of Mr. Graham to have the case thrown out of court followed an inquiry by Judge Audenried as to whether counsel had any points which they wished to submit. Mr. Graham at once grasped the opportunity, and the court ordered the jury taken out of the room while the argument was being made.

FORGED MUNICIPAL BONDS ARE USED

Committee Investigating Denison, Prior & Co.'s Affairs State Firm Is Insolvent.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]
CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 11.—The bankers' committee which is investigating the affairs of the banking and brokerage firm of Denison, Prior & Co., which closed its doors following the suicide of L. W. Prior on Tuesday, made the following authorized statement late this afternoon:

"The examination of the books of the firm has not yet proceeded far enough to make any complete statement possible. Enough has been learned, however, to warrant the committee in stating that it is forced to believe that the firm of Denison, Prior & Co., is insolvent, but to what extent we cannot as yet say. We are also convinced that a number of municipal bonds have been forged, but to what amount we are unable to determine."

The bankers' committee gave no intimation whatever as to the value of the forged municipal bonds, or where they were placed, or how used. It is understood, however, that they were largely used in connection with extensive deals on the New York stock exchange.

The fact that the firm had been using spurious securities was made known several days before Prior committed suicide. Those who had a right to demand a statement of the facts from Prior made the demand. To their surprise, they were refused point blank, and without a tremor, it is said, Prior told them if they persisted he would take the secret where no power could wrest it from him.

WEBER GAVE JOHNSON $100 FOR GETTING STONE

Man Robbed of $400 Diamond Denies Allegheny Detectives Forced a Reward from Him.

Safety Director Scandrett of Allegheny last night ordered the city detectives to arrest the three men who on Monday night took a $400 diamond from the scarf of Max H. Weber of 34 Frankstown avenue. The latter was quoted yesterday as saying he had been forced to give $100 to an Allegheny detective for the return of the stone. The publication of this story gave Director Scandrett his first intimation of the theft and recovery of the diamond.

Weber met Director Scandrett last night in the office of the police superintendent. Detectives T. C. Johnson, Charles H. England and Frank Aiken were called into the conference. Weber said that on Monday night about 9 o'clock he got on a Millvale car at the Fort Wayne station in Federal street, and was immediately jostled by three strangers. While crossing the Sixth street bridge he missed his diamond. On Tuesday morning he reported the loss to Detective England and said he would gladly give $100 to the man who recovered the stone. On Tuesday afternoon the gem was brought to the city hall and given to Detective Aiken, and later in the day Detective Johnson met Weber in Pittsburgh and returned the stone. Weber says he voluntarily gave Johnson $100, and thanked him in the bargain. He declared that none of the detectives had compelled him to give up the money, but he gave it of his own volition and thought it was only proper in consideration of the service done him.

Director Scandrett was indignant because the three thieves had not been arrested, and gave orders that the trio be brought in at once.

One Evil of Anti-Pass Rule.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 11.—(Special.)—The overcoat of H. A. Royan of Slippery Rock, Pa., was stolen this afternoon while he was purchasing a railroad ticket for Pittsburgh at the Union depot. There is no clue to the thief.

STATE COLLEGE STUDENTS PAY DEARLY FOR THEIR FUN

Would-Be Hazers of "Creamery Club" Quickly Back Down When Arrested for Damaging Home of Resident of College Town.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]
STATE COLLEGE, PA., Jan. 11.—Two hundred lower classmen, who tried to haze "creamery" students at State college, not only failed in their attempt after a pitched battle, but had to pay up $100 in settlement of their night's work, after the ringleaders had received hearings on charges of riot, housebreaking, assault, malicious mischief and hazing. The disturbance occurred last Friday night, but the details were concealed until today. The students who were to be hazed are talking the creamery course and are known as the "Buttermilk club." Several of them lodged at the home of W. W. Smith, a photographer. When the band of hazers reached Smith's house they found all the doors and windows locked.

They broke down one of the doors and a hand-to-hand fight ensued between those on the inside and those of the attacking party who were able to get near the door. Fists, clubs and baseball bats were used. Many heads were battered and cut. One of the raiders was knocked senseless. The battle continued from 9 o'clock until midnight, when the besiegers withdrew.

Furniture in the Smith home is said to have been ruined. Smith swore out warrants for the arrest of some of the leaders, and Tuesday morning Frederick Becker, Malcolm D. Ross and Arthur Brown were arrested. They received a hearing the same evening before a justice of the peace at State College, who held them for a further hearing yesterday before Justice Husser in Bellefonte. Later in the evening, however, the students got together and held a conference with Smith. It was agreed to pay him $100 in settlement of the case, and the prosecutions were withdrawn.

FORGED STOCKS TOTAL MILLIONS

New York Authorities Are Seeking for Missing Norfolk & Western Certificates.

TWO MEN UNDER ARREST

[The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Jan. 11.]

Although the arrest of Charles Augustus Seton in reality, though not officially, in connection with the Norfolk & Western stock counterfeiting in Maryland on Wednesday night was followed by the apprehension of Samuel Humphreys, an alleged accomplice, today, the most important development in the exposure of one of the most elaborate swindles of recent years was the detection of the method said to have been employed in getting a reputable engraving firm to do the work.

Five hundred certificates of 100 shares each, the ostensible value of which was $4,300,000, were turned out by the Hamilton Bank Note Engraving and Printing Company of this city. The name of C. B. Franklin, who is not supposed to exist, but who figured as the former president of the road, was forged to the authorization which induced the lithographers to accept the contract.

Seton was taken to the office of the district attorney this afternoon when he arrived from Elkton. He will be arraigned before Judge Cowing tomorrow, when it will be asked that the bail now deposited for him on the charge of grand larceny, to which he must answer on Monday, be increased.

Accomplice Arrested.

Officially there is nothing on the records to connect him with the flotation of the fraudulent stock, but it is probable such an accusation will be made tomorrow. Humphreys, his supposed associate, who is said to be the "Mr. Collins" who tried to obtain a loan upon two of the counterfeit certificates from Barnard and Clark in September, will be rearraigned before Magistrate Finn in the Tombs police court tomorrow afternoon. In today's hearing he was remanded in default of $2,500 bail.

According to the police there now remains only the task of discovering the identity of the mysterious E. L. Green, who sold the spurious certificates. It was announced that Mr. Duke of Cleveland is coming here to appear in the case, when it will be learned whether any resemblance between Green and Seton or Humphreys exists.

Seek Other Certificates.

Of much concern to the authorities, and especially to the financial men involved, is the discovery of the hiding place of the remainder of the 20,000 shares. When they are found it will be known just how large a fraud exists. It was feared that the whereabouts of these certificates may be concealed so as to use them as a club over the heads of those prosecuting.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Charles Augustus Seton, former Cleveland attorney accused of the Norfolk & Western forgery swindle, and "E. L. Green," are believed to be one and the same person. His description tallies accurately with that of the "E. L. Green" who sold one of the forged certificates to William Duke, a broker. Seton while here was mixed up in a number of cases, but each time succeeded in settling them before they reached the courts.

HADLEY IS SATISFIED WITH STANDARD HEARING

More Witnesses Summoned and Taking of Evidence Will Be Resumed This Afternoon.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]
NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The hearing before a commissioner in the case of the state of Missouri against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and two other companies doing business in Missouri was adjourned today until tomorrow afternoon by consent of the counsel. Mr. Hadley said:

"I am well satisfied with the results I have obtained in New York in my investigation of the Standard Oil control of the oil business in Missouri. I have secured some part of what I came here for, and I did not expect to secure everything. The testimony given by Mr. Jockel and Mr. Hardcastle, former employes of the Standard Oil Company, and Mrs. Ida M. Butts establishes to my mind the connection which I seek to show as existing in Missouri between the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, the Republic Oil Company and the Waters-Pierce Oil Company.

"The refusals to answer on the part of H. H. Rogers, E. T. Bedford, Wade Hampton and others I had examined go further, it seems to me, to bulwark my case than the evidence of my own witnesses."

Attorney General Hadley was notified that subpoenas have been served upon Francis D. Carley, one of the organizers of the Chess-Carley Company of Louisville, Ky., which company bought, sold and transported oil, but did not own refineries. Mr. Hadley intends to show by Mr. Carley that the Chess-Carley company formerly operated a tank line in Missouri and sold it out to the Waters-Pierce Oil Company. William T. Wardwell, treasurer of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, has also been summoned.

FIRE IN FLOUR MILL.

Residents of Fair Haven Turn Out to Save Their Homes and Extinguish the Flames.

Fire did $1,500 damage at 7 o'clock last evening to the flouring mill of W. J. Provost at Fair Haven, on the Castle Shannon railroad. The mill is a three-story frame structure and the fire started on the third floor, supposedly from a small explosion of fine flour dust.

Fair Haven has no fire protection and the residents of the community, all of whose homes were threatened, turned out to fight the flames. They succeeded in confining the fire to the third floor of the mill. Brice Rohm was badly scorched while assisting to extinguish the flames.

AMERICUS CLUB HOLDS JOLLY BUFFET VAUDEVILLE

The Americus Republican club demonstrated last night that a new clubhouse is an absolute necessity. The club held the first of its series of monthly smokers and 800 people attended, severely taxing the accommodations of the quarters at Penn avenue and Fourth street. Another name for the celebration was buffet vaudeville. The amusements and refreshments started off simultaneously for a continuous performance from 8:30 o'clock until midnight. There were 50 performers, including local talent and the cleverest specialty people from the Pittsburgh theaters.

Mrs. Chadwick Must Go to Prison.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 11.—U. S. Marshall Chandler today received a mandate from the circuit court of appeals directing him to carry out the judgment of Judge Taylor of the United States district court in the case of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick. This means that Mrs. Chadwick will be taken to the state penitentiary at Columbus without further delay to begin her sentence of 10 years imprisonment.

CZAR'S TROOPS FIGHT WITH REVOLUTIONISTS

Insurgents Are Attacked After They Destroy Railroad Track and Burn Bridges.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]
RIGA, LIVONIA, Jan. 11.—News has just reached this city of a daring attempt of the revolutionists to capture a military train conveying a large sum of money from St. Petersburg to Libau. A band of revolutionists, having advance information, gathered at Hazenpot, burned two bridges and tore up the tracks. Two companies of infantry which were escorting the train left the cars and were joined by a detachment of dragoons. This force marched against the revolutionists, who from behind improvised defenses opened fire on the soldiers. The infantry after firing two volleys, which killed 65 and wounded nearly 100 of the revolutionists, charged with the bayonet and the dragoons completed the rout.

IRKUTAK, SIBERIA, Jan. 11.—The prefect of police of Dragomiroff has been assassinated. The murderer escaped.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 11.—The budget statement for 1906, which was issued tonight, shows that it will be necessary to raise $240,500,000 by credit operations to balance the estimated receipts and expenditures. The latter include $202,500,000 for the liquidation of the expenses of the Russo-Japanese war, the repatriation of the troops in the far east and the reduction of the army to a peace footing. For the first time the total cost of the war, $1,050,000,000, is revealed.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—The French bankers today definitely decided to make a short-time advance of $50,000,000 to Russia at 5½ per cent interest, plus 2 per cent commission. The loan is to be guaranteed by the Russian state railroads and is to be repaid from the proceeds of the proposed new loans should the latter be floated within a year.

FINANCE COMMITTEE IS PERMITTED TO ASSEMBLE

Director Bigelow's While Wings Need Money and No-Quorum Habit is Temporarily Forgotten.

Director E. M. Bigelow is not going down into his pocket for money to pay city employes their wages this year. The bureau of highways and sewers needs money, and the director found the easiest way to get the money was to allow the finance committee to have a quorum yesterday. The director has been preventing councils from meeting, but he graciously permitted the finance committee to get together.

Among other measures recommended favorably to councils by the finance committee yesterday was a resolution transferring $30,000 from another appropriation to the appropriation for the bureau of highways and sewers. The white wings will now get their pay.

Eight resolutions refunding water rents to laundry companies were referred to the sub-committee on rebates, as was another refunding more than $1,400 to the Consolidated Ice Company for water rents alleged to be overcharged and paid.

The request of the central board of education for $540,000 was referred to the sub-committee on appropriations. The ordinance authorizing the mayor and heads of departments to advertise for supplies was affirmatively recommended to councils.

An ordinance sanctioning the admission of Esplen borough into Pittsburgh as the Fortieth ward created discussion. Assistant Controller Morrow said the borough was submerged in debt and that if he owned property in the borough he would sell out as soon as it became part of the city, for the millage required by law to be imposed would make the property unprofitable. The borough's debt is $21,000 and its property valuation is only $425,000. This ordinance and one taking in Sterrett township as the Forty-first ward were laid over until the next meeting of the committee. The petition of West Liberty borough for annexation to Pittsburgh was affirmatively recommended. The ordinance establishing a bureau of boiler inspection and licensing stationary engineers was affirmatively recommended. It is a substitute for a former ordinance introduced at the request of stationary engineers' unions.

WARSHIPS GATHER FOR MOROCCAN CONFERENCE

However, Diplomats Believe Much of Danger Has Passed Away. Following Germany's Attitude.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]
ALGECIRAS, SPAIN, Jan. 11.—The French cruiser Galilee and torpedo boat 265 have arrived here. The cruiser Caulois is expected hourly.

MADRID, Jan. 11.—It is stated in well-informed quarters that three Spanish warships, the armored cruiser Emperador Carlos V, the cruiser Rio de la Plata and the cruiser Extremadura, have been ordered to proceed to Algeciras and remain there during the Moroccan conference.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—The Marquis Visconti Venosta, head of the Italian delegation to the Moroccan conference at Algeciras, arrived from Rome last night. He had a short interview with Premier Rouvier and was afterwards received by Prince Von Radolin, the German ambassador. The Italian said: "I shall be faithful to my mandate as the friend of France and of peace."

The German ambassador and delegate to the conference said he was convinced that an equitable solution satisfactory and honorable to all parties would be reached. His instructions from Berlin indicated a spirit of conciliation.

FIRE AIDS PRISONERS.

Escape During Excitement at Norfolk and Militia Is Called—Fireman Reported Dead.

NORFOLK, VA., Jan. 11.—Fire destroyed the Norfolk Storage and Peanut Company's three-story cleaning establishment adjoining the city jail tonight. One fireman is reported killed beneath a fallen wall.

All jail prisoners were marched out of the jail and several escaped, among them Solomon Greenstein, who was being held for federal authorities on the charge of perjury. The loss will reach $100,000.

The militia has been ordered out to guard the prisoners.

ASSOCIATIONS CONSOLIDATE

Local Car Service Rules Enter Cleveland District and May Become National.

NEW RAILROADS ADOPT THEM

What promises to be the first step towards establishing uniform car service rules throughout the country over all railroad lines was taken yesterday by the conclusion of negotiations which have been pending for one year, whereby W. M. Prall, commissioner of the Pittsburgh Car Service association, became commissioner of the Cleveland Car Service association as well. The two organizations are to be maintained individually, but will co-operate for mutual benefit.

The rules of the Pittsburgh Car Service association, which have been made a state law in Arkansas and are operative in Indiana and throughout the far west, will be introduced in the Cleveland district. While no official confirmation can be secured, it is believed that the Philadelphia Car Service association will soon be added to the chain which, rumor says, will spread across the country.

The practical consolidation of the Pittsburgh and Cleveland associations is expected to work to great advantage to the Pittsburgh district, especially in the movement of coal to the lakes, and the consolidation was effected chiefly because of the excellent movement of ore from the lakes during the past year when the railroads handled 50 per cent more tonnage than during any previous year.

Disapprove of 30-Hour Plan.

At present the Cleveland association has in operation what is known as the "30-hour average plan," which permits consignees 30 hours in which to unload a car, after which car service charges are imposed. The "plan" is said to have proved inefficient in this district in 1903. The weakness of the plan is the fact that if 100 cars are received in a day and 95 are unloaded in 24 hours, the consignee saves 95 times six hours, which is cumulative and gives him 570 additional hours on the five remaining cars. This cumulative time on daily receipts of cars caused the congestion in 1903.

The Pittsburgh car service rules, as introduced by Mr. Prall on April 1, 1904, permit 48 hours in which to unload an individual car and make special allowance for companies who do their own switching. A series of other rules are in operation which encourage public co-operation with the railroads and have served to free the district from a car congestion during the past year, which has been the heaviest in the history of local railroads.

By extending the jurisdiction of the Pittsburgh car service rules local shippers will be benefited in having a quicker return of cars from the Cleveland district, as opposition rules have delayed the return of cars. For this reason a movement has been started to have the Pittsburgh rules adopted nationally.

New Roads to Use Service.

By taking over the Cleveland field the following new railroads adopt the Pittsburgh rules: Akron & Barberton Belt; Ashland & Western; Cleveland, Akron & Columbus; Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis; Lake Erie, Alliance & Wheeling; New York, Chicago & St. Louis, and Northern Ohio.

The Pittsburgh district extends east to Altoona; north to Oil City; south to the Maryland line, and west to Dennison, O. The consolidation with the Cleveland association will extend the western boundary of the joint districts to Crestline, O., and north to Lake Erie.

W. M. Prall, who will become commissioner of both districts, is the best-known car service man in the country, and was brought here by local railroad officials early in 1904 from the St. Louis Car Service association for the purpose of straightening out the tangle of freight congestion that was prevailing at that time. He had formerly served the Missouri Pacific railroad in various official capacities, and is a practical railroad man.

It is proposed to introduce several innovations in the two districts within the next few months which tend to greatly facilitate the distribution of cars when they reach a terminal. One of the new propositions will be to card all cars en route by variously colored and shaped cards which are to represent manufacturing plants at the terminals so that no delay will be necessary in making distribution.

DRURY AND DOWD WILL NOT LACK FOR COUNSEL

United States Attorney John W. Dunkle to Defend Officer and Soldier Charged With Murder.

Lieut. R. W. Drury and Private John Dowd will not lack for legal counsel when their trial for murder comes up in the quarter sessions court here. They will be defended by United States Attorney John W. Dunkle and his assistant, R. M. Gibson, although, of course, they may have private counsel, too, if they wish.

Mr. Dunkle yesterday received a letter from the department of justice at Washington instructing him to defend Drury and Dowd before the state courts. The case is expected to come up at the March term.

Drury and Dowd were in the service of the United States when the boy, William H. Crowley, was shot by Dowd while being pursued, Dowd suspecting that Crowley was one of several boys who were stealing copper from the United States arsenal grounds in Lawrenceville. From the viewpoint of the government the soldiers were engaged in the discharge of their duty when the tragedy happened, and therefore the government's law officers are assigned to defend them, just as the city solicitor of Pittsburgh or one of his assistants defends a policeman charged with an offense, when the alleged offense is committed in the discharge of his duty.

WANT CIVIL SERVICE.

L. B. Cook Will Draught Bill Covering Firemen and Policemen.

A committee of firemen and policemen, representing the two local pension fund associations, met yesterday in the public safety building to discuss the presentation of a civil service bill before the legislature which will include them. The firemen and policemen in other cities throughout the state have expressed an intention of co-operating in the matter.

A committee was appointed to call on L. B. Cook, a member of the legislature, who is interested, and after adjournment the committee waited on him. He assured them he could frame a bill that would be constitutional and advised them to secure the aid of firemen and policemen in other cities to have their representatives vote for it when it is presented.

Merchants Want Railroad Express.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 11.—M. L. Campbell of Chicago, read a paper before the National League of Commission Merchants today, holding that the controlling power of the express companies should lie in the interstate commerce commission. "We must have the railroad express service," he said. "It must be for the entire country, and we must have it devoid of the now existing evils, and this can come about, in our opinion, only by some kind of regulation."

William Cunard, Shipowner, Dies.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—News was received in this city today of the death in London today of William Cunard, son of Samuel Cunard, one of the founders of the Cunard line. He was a large stockholder, and for many years a director in that company, having retired about five years ago in favor of his son, Ernest H. Cunard. He was 81 years old.

M'CALL DEEDS HOME TO NEW YORK LIFE

Making Good Money Advanced to Hamilton—Empire Petitions for Dissolution.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—It was announced today that John A. McCall, former president of the New York Life Insurance Company, has given a trust deed on his home in Long Branch, N. J., to secure the $150,000 note which he gave the New York Life in part payment for moneys which had been advanced by the company to Andrew Hamilton and not yet returned.

The total amount advanced to Hamilton and unaccounted for by him was $235,000, and in addition to this note Mr. McCall gave the company a check for $85,000. The deed to his home is made jointly with his wife and covers a handsome country seat comprising about 50 acres.

Directors of the Empire Life Insurance Company today filed a request in the supreme court that a receiver be appointed in proceedings for voluntary dissolution. The company is a co-operative association. Several days ago Frederick W. Brower obtained a judgment of $3,000 against the company. Justice Davies held the application in abeyance until Brower's attorneys can be notified.

The Empire was one of the companies investigated by the legislative committee recently. It was organized as a beneficial concern in 1881 and reorganized as an assessment company in 1895. During the investigation it was brought out that the company possessed $5,000 in city water bonds and about $3,000 in cash, while its liabilities, consisting largely of death claims, were more than $40,000.

Stacey Wilson, secretary and acting president, testified that the company had about 2,500 policies outstanding representing a total of $4,000,000. The company's receipts in 1904, he said, were $78,835 and its disbursements $79,000. The company had been barred from Kentucky, New Jersey, Ohio and several other states, and was doing business only in New York, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

DIES AMONG STRANGERS.

Mayor Hays Receives a Letter from Maryland Regarding the Death of Former Pittsburgher.

Mayor Hays received a letter yesterday from A. Ledmun of Easton, Talbot county, Md., stating that Samuel P. Haslett, who said he originally lived in Pittsburgh, stopped at his house last Saturday. He died shortly afterward very suddenly of neuralgia of the heart. In conversation Haslett had told Ledmun that he was a printer. He said that when a boy he had been at the United States naval academy at Annapolis, and at that time his uncle was a member of congress. Mr. Ledmun said his father, or son, or some member of his family, was once attorney general of Pennsylvania.

The man was about 70, short and well-built, and a perfect gentleman in manner and appearance. Ledmun asked that some inquiry be made here as to his family, and if any relatives be found to give them his address.

No St. Patrick's Day Parade.

There will be no parade on next St. Patrick's day. The bands will play "The Wearing of the Green" indoors and the patriotic Irishman will take his "mornin's mornin'" without ostentation. The secret of this is that the Hibernians are saving their money to build a downtown headquarters for their lodges. An application for a charter for the new institution has just been made.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS EFFECT A STRIKING CURE.

Indigestion, Head Noises, Smothering Sensations all Yield to Great Blood Remedy.

All women need a blood purifier and regulator at one time or another, but particularly is this need felt by working women, especially those who stand during the greater part of the day. The one blood remedy that is valued by rich and poor alike is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Ill health robs life of its pleasures for the rich and makes existence doubly hard for the poor. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give new blood with every dose; they tone the nerves, impart strength, appetite, a healthy color and a good digestion.

Mrs. Mary Reagan, who lives at 86 Kilburn street, Fall River, Mass., was badly run down from overwork in a cotton mill. She says:

"One day noises began in my head and almost made me crazy. My head felt as if a tight band had been put around it, and the pressure and the sounds made me so uneasy that I often had to walk the floor all night when I ought to have been sleeping. I was under the care of a good physician for some time, but I finally gave him up because his treatment did me no good.

"My stomach was in bad shape, and I had smothering sensations. At such times my body seemed bloodless; my hands were like chalk and my face turned yellow. The doctor said I had dyspepsia in the worst form. Then my nerves gave way and I was completely prostrated. At night I could not sleep, and in the daytime if I bent over to pick up a rug I got smothering sensation would come on at once.

"After I gave up the doctor I took all sorts of advertised medicines with little or no benefit. After I had used many other kinds I read in the paper about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Before I had quite made up my mind whether it was worth while to try anything more, my husband brought home a box and insisted that I should take them.

"They soon quieted my nerves so that I could get a good night's sleep, which was a new experience for me. Before I began to use them I was a nervous wreck; I trembled at the slightest sound. I was so weak that I had to sit down and rest every few steps when I went upstairs. Now I can run up a whole flight at once. The smothering sensations have gone and the noises in my head have stopped entirely. My appearance has greatly improved, for friends who were alarmed on my account before now say: 'How well you are looking!' My husband spent over a hundred dollars on treatment for me that was worthless, but a few boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills brought me sound health and I do not have to take any medicine now."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure nervous disorders of every kind, check wasting diseases and build up strength. Complicated troubles disappear as the result of the new blood which they make, and every part of the body is toned up. They are sold by all druggists or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Tons of Writing Paper, ¼ Former Prices.

Eton-Hurlbut's Finest Grades.

In the Stationery Department this morning we shall be ready with 10,000 pounds of fashionable writing paper. We want everyone interested to take notice that the price is ONE FOURTH OF FORMER PRICES, which is three-fourths less than the regular prices.

Early in the Fall we negotiated with this New England maker of fine writing papers to have a house cleaning as they call it, and they closed out to us all the odds and ends of flat ream paper.

We selected for our customers high-grade papers in desirable colors, white, blue and gray, and had them cut in the fashionable square size with the one-fold square envelopes to match.

We further had them put up in one-pound packages, with two packs (50) envelopes for each pound of paper. We bought the lot at a price which enables us to say:

For the Paper, 20c a Pound.
For the Envelopes, two packs, 15c.

We have sold thousands of quires of these papers for 25c a quire. Now we offer four quires and fifty envelopes, and the whole costs you only 35c.

For such a price you can afford to buy a year's supply.

Women's Gowns at Marked Reductions.

Winter with its social afternoons and evenings is now upon us. Naturally a considerable portion of the women of a rich city like this spend these hours in entertaining or being entertained, in calling, not to speak of the larger and more formal functions of evening.

It follows that pretty dresses and gowns must be in each lady's wardrobe for the several occasions.

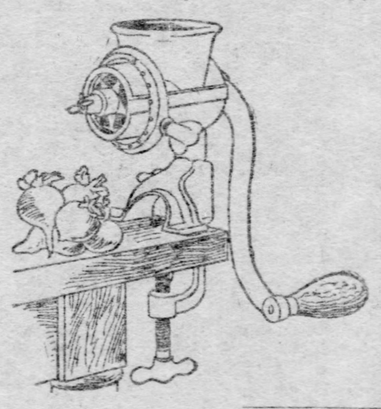
We have a very large and varied stock of gowns and are offering them at these unusual reductions and as a clearance feature:

$40.00 to $50.00 Gowns may be had for $25.00
$48.00 to $65.00 Gowns may be had for $35.00
$65.00 to $85.00 Gowns may be had for $45.00
$75.00 to $95.00 Gowns may be had for $50.00
$100.00 Gowns may be had for $65.00

All gowns regularly $150.00, $200.00, $250.00, $350.00 and up to $700.00, just half those prices.

Diamond Plate Food Chopper.

Better than any other food chopper, inasmuch as it will cut food of any character. The diamond plate does the business.



This is an invaluable kitchen utensil. It chops almonds, cheese, citron, cocoanut, bread, crackers, horseradish, candied lemon peel very finely.

It chops the ingredients for Hamburg steak, hash, croquettes medium fine.

It chops materials for salads, soups and chowders very coarse.

Ask the demonstrator in the West Basement to show it to you when in use. Price $1.50.

This Will Peel Any Fruit or Vegetable.

This End for Oranges and Lemons.

New Foreign and American Wash Robes.

Why a pattern containing material for a dress, the pattern already cut out, everything complete with the exception of a little fitting and a little sewing, should be denominated a robe in contradistinction from the various other styles of dresses is a bit past us. It is so, and we shall not undertake to undo it. But it seems to us a labored way of referring to one of the prettiest Summer dresses a woman can wear.

Therefore it is with much pleasure that we beg to introduce you to our lines of new 1906 washable robes. We have it from Fashion that these washable dress patterns will be in the height of style next Summer, and this being true, we anticipated the great demand that is sure to spring up. Months ago we began negotiations for these wash robes, we looked after correct styles, we had them made of the right material, and we saw to it that the right colors were selected.

We are now ready with new Batiste Robes, new Linen Robes, new Swiss Robes, new White Robes, new Pink Robes, new Blue Robes, new Lavender Robes, new Ecru Robes, at $10.00, at $12.50, at $15.00, at $20.00, at $25.00 and on to $75.00.

You will not forget that we told you a day or two ago that our new importations of St. Gall Embroideries, including every late design, are ready in the most complete variety we ever assembled for the women of Pittsburg to select from.

Balsam Pillows—Breath of the Pine Woods.

Balsam Pillows are highly prized pillows. Some people like these on the sofa, with its pile of cushions of down and feathers—it lends to the room, and to the house, the breath of the pine woods, a refreshing woods-like fragrance that is all the more delightful in cold weather when doors and windows are wont to be tightly closed. On the other hand we have had purchasers of these pillows tell us they were quite a relief of asthma, though, of course, we don't vouch for their medicinal properties.

We have just received a new lot, 14 inches square, filled to the uttermost with pine leaves culled from the young pine trees away up in Maine. The covers are of crash with lithograph pictures of scenes in the woods. One scene shows a bear surprising a party of campers; another shows some hunters starting for a new camp—all nature subjects.

The price is 75c each.

Friday, January 12, 1906.

Why does not the special committee on public lighting meet, now that Dr. Burns is able to attend? Is Chairman Upperman brooding over the suggestion meeting that took him at his word and retired him, or is he fearful of the light company's case? A meeting is in order.

Sidelights on the Franco-German situation were not numerous yesterday, Copenhagen contributing the sole report bearing on preparations for possible hostilities. German citizens resident in Denmark who are subject to military service are ordered to be ready to return to the fatherland upon three days' notice. There is no doubt both nations are concentrating their military energies in order to be on the safe side, though the chances favor peace.

An odd case of discrimination, under cover of the Ohio Sunday law, is reported from Martins Ferry. Intrinsically it is not of grave importance, but justice is justice. If the law prohibits the sale of newspapers in Ohio on Sunday, that law becomes operative at the beginning of the day, not at a moment deemed opportune by a mayor "clothed with a little brief authority." The people of the town have a right to protest, and enforcement of such an order should be contested.

Today marks the beginning of Great Britain's election of a new house of commons which will consider some of the most important legislation in years. An unusual amount of disorder has characterized the campaign, the "lower classes" seemingly having cast off that reverence for rank which has previously distinguished them and assailed aristocratic orators who sought their support, notably former Premier Balfour. British election methods are leisurely, and it will be a week before the complete results will be known.

After the trial of one more member of the first class for hazing at Annapolis, it is announced, the authorities will turn their attention to the third class, which has been productive of a number of offenses. The court's ruling that not only actual cruelty, but any molestation or annoyance of one cadet by another constitutes hazing will naturally increase the number of those to be tried. It will also open the door to trivial cases which should hardly engage the attention of such an august tribunal as a court-martial.

London's recent interesting conference on smoke abatement is to be followed soon by a second meeting of experts to prepare a report for submission to the county council. At the former conference a number of grates and stoves designed to aid in the proposed reform were exhibited. London's smoke and fog were declared to be the cause of $25,000,000 damage annually. The burning of bituminous coal is held responsible in large measure. "Smokeless cooking," which would rid the metropolis of "600,000 dirty chimneys," is suggested as the first reform. Natural gas would help, if London were only so fortunate as to possess a supply.

City Controller Larkin is beginning to sit up and take notice again. His fellow administrators of the Democratic-Citizens party agree there must be an increase in the millage to meet expenditures of the next fiscal year. Despite an increase in taxable valuation of $100,000,000, the millage is now 3 mills higher than Larkin promised it should be. He promised to make it by his own unaided efforts, not more than 10 mills during his first term. Here in the beginning of his second term it threatens to go up to 15 mills, because less than that will continue the inefficiency so notable during three years past, or make matters worse. But, of course, Larkin will "fight the increase." He is "elected now," but still full of buncombe.

Two schemes of senatorial apportionment have been prepared by Mr. Tredway and will be considered by the Allegheny county legislative delegation before it goes to Harrisburg. One scheme follows the strict letter of the constitution and contains one district having only 65,000 population. The other follows the obvious intent of the constitution to have representation as nearly as possible equal, giving Chester and Delawares counties each one senator and having a minimum district of a little more than 74,000 population. This latter plan looks better than any previous produced. It is an improvement over the existing apportionment, though little more in accord with the letter of the constitution, and its enactment will satisfy the mandate for reapportionment.

A Warm Contest.

A large meeting was held in Old City hall last night in the interest of former Senator Magee, candidate for the Republican nomination for mayor. It was marked by some indiscretions. During the past few days a large number of business men have been interviewed in the interest of A. M. Jenkinson, the one candidate who has no organ, and all have spoken highly of him. One of our contemporaries said yesterday there is a "hot fight" for the Republican nomination.

Obviously there is a warm contest for the honor of leading the Republican hosts to victory in the municipal campaign. If there were not a reasonable certainty that whoever wins this contest will be the next mayor of Pittsburgh, the contest for nomination would be less spirited. The candidates for this nomination are being supported with more ardor than has been shown in behalf of Mr. Guthrie, who has his nomination secured. This is so because the contest will be fought out in open primaries, by popular vote, and the nominee has a much better prospect of election than has Mr. Guthrie. This primary contest is the real battle of the campaign, and some indiscretions have been committed by supporters on both sides.

Tomorrow this struggle will be ended. All that will then be necessary to secure victory in February for the nominee will be for the present supporters of both candidates to give the final candidate the same vigorous, enthusiastic support. This is a Republican city and this is a Republican year. The Republican party is the party of the people, and it is the party of good government. The "non-partisan" experiment in Pittsburgh and Allegheny has disgusted every good citizen and the Democratic end of the aggregation is in no higher favor than the other faction of misgovernment. That is why there is a "hot fight" for the Republican nomination for mayor.

Vice and Crime.

Yesterday the dirty Leader made another exposure of itself. Trying to evade the consequences of its unprincipled mendacity it indulged a volly of senseless abuse of The Gazette, reaching a frenzy that can only be described as hysterical. We do not care to depart from the main point to follow the fearful and wonderful contortions of the serpent when pinned down.

Last fall the Leader, as apologist for the Citizens administration in general and "Buck" Wallace in particular, took offense because The Gazette arraigned the police administration for permitting illegal resorts to flourish, for giving immunity to gamblers in return for political support and for keeping patrolmen on political duty to the neglect of their public duty while "hold-ups" were entirely too frequent. These charges the Leader said were injuring the city. It continues to assert the the same, though it has abandoned every other contention of that time. It said yesterday The Gazette publications of last October were "exploited abroad to the detriment of the good name and credit of this community."

The other day we published the Leader's allegation that a list of 900 illegal resorts in the city was kept by the police. Yesterday we noted the Leader's report that Director Moore said but 300 places were on the list. It is not the business of The Gazette to decide between the director and the Leader, but the director's reputation for veracity is much the better of the two. Here is the Leader testifying against itself:

> Bad as Allegheny was proved to be, Pittsburgh at the present day is worse. The moral poison is not confined to any single section of the city, but is spread over all of it, so that no ward escapes the infection.—Leader, January 9, 1906.

> Even in the neighboring city of Allegheny, itself conspicuous for the inefficiency of its police administration, a confiding ecclesiastical person was found gullible enough to swallow The Gazette's hectic story and make it the subject of a public jeremiad.—Leader, January 10, 1906.

> The reporter was not permitted to examine the list, although he had an opportunity to estimate the number of houses on three pages of it. These three pages concerned merely one ward—the Second. He had a glance at nine other pages of the list, and is able to say that unspeakable dens of vice to the number of fully 900 are scattered over the town, so that the old-time tenderloin and dead line of vice have been obliterated, and the harlot and the gambler and the groggery keeper are at liberty to pursue their unlawful occupations in contact with homes of decency, whose very existence is threatened by the pestilence of vice against which they have no protection.—Leader, January 9, 1906.

It is hardly necessary for the Leader to repeat that nothing which this paper has said or that anybody else has said or ever will say outside of The Gazette office can be construed otherwise than fraudulently as confirming the lying tale concocted by The Gazette last October and exploited abroad to the detriment of the good name and credit of this community.—Leader, January 11, 1906.

If they (saloonkeepers) care to open a gambling house or will agree to run a brothel in connection with the sale of liquor and can, in addition, find a political sponsor, they can get the privilege of selling liquor seven days a week from the police bureau that the court and the law denies them. But they must first prove their indecency.—Leader, January 9, 1906.

Now back to October 10, when the Leader said this:

> Before this was done an attempt was made to convict Wallace of incompetency, but the injustice and viciousness of this device were so palpable that it failed miserably, the only result achieved being to spread abroad false and damaging reports as to the prevalence of vice and crime in Pittsburgh.

It is the privilege of the Leader, if it desires to make a further self-exposure, to contend that its arraignment of January 9, does not "convict Wallace of incompetency," it may deny if it chooses that its portrayal of 900 brothels, gambling houses and speakeasies indicates a "prevalence of vice and crime in Pittsburgh," it may claim that charging Pittsburgh with being worse than Allegheny, "itself conspicuous for the inefficiency of its police administration," is highly creditable to the Pittsburgh police administration, for which it has been chief apologist. The Leader may do all of these things, for it is its way, but nobody will believe it.

Taft and Bigelow.

Poultney Bigelow has replied to Secretary Taft in a letter to the New York Herald, reiterating the charges previously made through the Independent. The only attempt he makes, however, to bolster his case is with a letter from John R. Dunlap, editor of Engineering Magazine, who cites corroboratively testimony from former Chief Engineer Wallace and Engineer Waldo. Mr. Wallace has more reason than Mr. Bigelow to attack the administration, though by nature less prone to pessimism and fault-finding.

Before the issue of Secretary Taft's letter The Gazette pointed out the obvious prejudice in the Bigelow charges, for it appears on the face of the article. It was only too manifest that Mr. Bigelow had eyes and ears only for the evidence of imperfections in the Panama work. His assault was the precise character of the attacks on the administration of military affairs, so prevalent during the civil war, magnifying shortcomings and making them to appear as willful neglect.

The Gazette is familiar with the papers of Wallace and Waldo, printed in Engineering Magazine. They contain much information and less bias than the Bigelow article. With due regard to all that has been said, including the able and thorough defense of Secretary Taft and Chief Engineer Stevens, we agree with the New York Sun; the simple statement that Bigelow spent a total of 28 hours on the isthmus, is enough for us. The man who pretends to grasp the true inwardness of the Panama project, its difficulties, what has been done to overcome them and the defects in administration in 28 hours, is entitled to very little consideration. He condemns himself by his preposterous estimate of his own ability.

Dollars for Degrees.

A few years ago a New York clergyman aroused considerable indignation in certain quarters by the assertion that such honorary degrees as doctor of divinity and doctor of laws could be purchased if one knew just where to apply and agreed to keep the transaction secret. He proposed that when a degree was attached to a man's name in print the name of the institution which conferred it be printed also, as a measure of the value possessed by the degree. His suggestion was not meant seriously, but to illustrate how busily the degree factories have been working. In the course of a legal contest over a $5,000,000 estate in New York a niece of the testator testified, the other day, that her uncle was in the habit of purchasing costly gifts for his clerical friends among others the degree of doctor of divinity. "My uncle told me it was not hard to get the degree of D. D. these days, and he said it made the ministers as pleased as a child with a new toy."

Circulars offering degrees "from $25 up" were recently received by a Chicago clergyman from a southern institution devoted to the education of negroes. Whatever degree factories there may be flourish principally in the south and are not above the grade of high schools. Of course there are some silly persons in the ranks of the clergy, as in other professions, who would seize the opportunity to feed their vanity with purchased "honorary" degrees, but the evil is probably of less extent than reported. A degree that can be secured by any such means is not worth the paper it is written on. Degrees, like titles of nobility, have no effect on character, but when deserved, are enviable distinctions.

"Nobody is perfectly comfortable until he has succeeded in breaking all his new resolutions," declares a Chicago philosopher. The 12th day of the year should find most persons pretty comfortable.

A tourist excursion manager, advertising in magazines, guarantees patrons "five clear days in London." Don't believe it can be done until they solve the fog problem.

New York boasts a wedding where the guests kissed the bridegroom. This will be encouraging to bashful bachelors who have been shying at the ceremony.

Insurance experts who predict the destruction of Chicago have probably been reading about the wiping out of those wicked Old Testament cities.

Mr. Rogers says Mark Twain is one of the best friends he's got. If they can persuade Mark to go on the stand, a full house can be guaranteed.

Commodore Benedict's assertion that the American people are "the smartest fools on earth" is in the nature of a left-handed compliment.

"Women will be the great lawyers of the future," says the Rev. Anna Shaw. Some certainly possess a decided talent for cross-examination.

Dr. Wiley says 85 per cent of all whiskies are not fit to drink, while the Prohibitionists go him 15 per cent better.

Even blase New Yorkers are wondering if a $6,000,000 palace could by any stretch of imagination be considered homelike.

Announcement that Mr. Taft is getting down to fighting weight came before Mr. Bigelow's blunder.

Men of gold upon the witness stand exemplify the proverb that silence is golden.

Mr. Hearst is meeting with more success hunting mountain lions than tigers.

The Leader's mental dyspepsia seems to have turned to jaundice.

Mr. Taft is probably too busy now to watch Poultney pout.

Money talks, but only on the advice of counsel.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS ON WAYS OF WORLD

What Has Fate to Do With Your Success or Failure, Anyway?

By ERASMUS WILSON.

A belief in fate may so effect you that you will neglect doing that which common sense suggests, or judgment approves.

Thus far that popular boogy-boo called fate may effect us, but no farther.

Our real fate is the result of our own efforts. If these be reasonable, rational and earnest our fate will be good, if not it will necessarily be bad.

Belief in, or dependence on fate indicates a belief in hoodoos, or some other silly superstition.

You may say you are not superstitious, or believe in hoodoos, but if you are fated to good or to ill, by what power has it been decreed?

* * *

With all our boasted intelligence we are more or less superstitious, and somewhere in mind or heart the prince of black art has a little corner all to himself. This little corner we keep carefully concealed, even from our best friends, and usually for the reason that we are ashamed to expose it.

Thousands of good people claiming to be free from superstition do not hesitate to consult fortune tellers, mediums and card readers.

And then there are hoodoos such as 13, Friday, seeing the new moon over the left shoulder and many others too tedious to mention, which mar the happiness of many lives.

All such things are more or less depressing. They are shadows cast by passing clouds of darkness coming from the black country, the home of black art.

It is from this same country, or region that the fates are said to travel, and from which the book of fate emanates.

* * *

You will be properly rewarded for all you do in this life, you may be sure of that, and the reward will be based on the balance which your account shows, whether it is on the right side or wrong.

Some people, many in fact, seem to think they ought to be rewarded for all the good they do, in spot cash, as it were, and no account taken of the good they might have done but didn't, nor of their actual wrong doings.

Bear it in mind that you will be rewarded according to the balance shown in your life accounts. The good you do today may be balanced by the bad you do tomorrow, thus leaving no balance of good to your credit.

In this as in banking, it is your credit balance on which you are paid or charged interest.

It behooves every parent to start their children out with a fine credit balance of industry, kindness and generosity. And it behooves any young man and woman to add to this credit balance and to every man and woman to strengthen these balances day by day.

* * *

How are we to manage so as to have a balance to the good in our favor?

This is one of the every-day problems in life that should be solved daily. By striking daily balances we will always know how our account stands.

And, as in daily business life, credit secures credit, or, as the saying goes, money makes more money. Therefore strive to get ahead, and then it will be easy to keep ahead.

The main thing is to start right, then keep going on the right way.

Hamilton White, of Chicago, one of the more successful and substantial citizens of that city, gave the young folks assembled at his golden wedding the other day the following pointers:

"Look young, even if you are old.

"A man of brains does his best work after he is 60 years old.

"Get married before you are 21.

"Pick from a cluster.

"A baby is the most potent influence for good that can come into a family.

"No family is complete without half a dozen potent influences.

"Sorrows are better teachers than joys."

* * *

Mr. Quiet Observer:—In you column of January 8th the writer signing "The Mixer," is right when he says: "We have a few sensible girls left," but we should put the emphasis on the word few. I don't remember anything about the girls 25 years ago (as I happened about that time) but I am pretty well acquainted with the girls of today.

Now we have plenty of fine girls, but they don't look at things as they should. For instance, a girl will allow a young man to call on her, take her to places, without even considering his character or the things he does, while the same young fellow would not tolerate a young lady who is guilty of the same acts, or less even.

I think that if the young women would hold themselves aloft until the young men who wished to pay them attention would measure up to what they should, that they could transform the young men. And then so many of our young women are so easily satisfied when it comes to being married, I think they should look at this matter more serious than they do. They should remember that it is a transaction for life and that they must be properly mated or they will be unhappy for life.

It is the duty of even a young man who contemplates being married to consider the follow as well as many other things I shall not mention. The most important is health, without which life becomes a burden and very often a failure. Character is essential, for without it one cannot take his place in society and command respect. Good habits will tend to make home and home life what it should be, but if bad they will eventually wreck the home. Add honor to these and that, if honorable, will be all that is necessary.

If a Christian you are most likely to find all the above in this last quality mentioned. The same applies to the other side. But take a couple where both are Christians and you generally find a happy couple, because they have (or should have) had the guidance from one who does all things well, and they live for each other and can overlook the little things that tends to destroy the home, and the larger things which tend to destroy do not exist in a home of this kind.

AS I SEE IT.

Hardpan Facts and Hysteria.

Those who have been hoping for the worst have often shown impatience that the disturbance caused by the insurance scandals did not reach their expectations. Indeed, even those who have dreaded the worst have not failed to wonder that the effect was not felt beyond the realms of insurance. In the larger world of finance. The essential reason is the application of the sound common sense of the American people to the essential facts of the case.—New York Times.

The Pennsylvania's Non-Interest Fund.

Secretary of Internal Affairs Brown, speaking in a most friendly spirit, gives the Pennsylvania Railroad Company some excellent reasons why it should abolish the $10 deposit demanded on mileage books. To many concerns the $1,000,000 loaned to the company without interest which, it is claimed, is what this deposit amounts to, would be a sufficient consideration why the practice should be retained as long as possible.—Philadelphia Press.

Solution of Difficult Problem.

Notwithstanding what may be said or written upon the subject, the woman who has the ability and courage to go into the kitchen and roll up her sleeves can best solve the "servant girl problem."—Scranton Tribune.

BROTHERS MEET AND PART ON THE PIER

Anton and Henri Nodat, Separated 20 Years, Recognize Each Other, Kiss and Part.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Anton Nodat of Chicago was a passenger on La Gascogne which sailed this morning for Havre. He was late in getting down to the steamship, and was hurrying aboard, when another man, anxious to get ashore before the gang plank was taken in, ran into him. Anto exclaimed, smiling: "Are you Henri Nodat?"

"You are Anton Nodat?" said the other, and then both in chorus: "You are from Dieppe?"

With that they fell on each other's necks and began to talk excitedly in French. They were brothers who had not seen each other for 20 years. It was then time for the vessel to sail, but the brothers paid no attention to the repeated cries that the gangplank was going. They were kissing each other on the cheeks, when Detectives Aikman and Leeson, assisted by some of the officials of the line, separated them. This was not done before the men had exchanged addresses and had sworn to meet soon in France. When the Gascogne left her berth Henri was on the end of the pier shouting farewells to his brother. He kept this up long after the vessel was out of hearing. They separated in Dieppe 20 years ago and soon lost track of each other. Henri lives in New York and Anton in Chicago.

Gates Does Well on Anaconda.

It is rumored in Wall street today that John W. Gates had cleaned up a lot of money in Anaconda mining on a bull turn. His winnings were said to amount to a "tidy sum." This may be anything from $50 to $1,000,000, depending upon the individual point of view. One of Mr. Gates' friends said that while he had not cleared anything like a million in Anaconda he had come out of the deal better by several hundreds of thousands of dollars. Mr. Gates bought Anaconda when it was around 150. When it got to 200 recently he bet $20,000 that it would go to 300. He lost, but paid from his profits, he selling at 298 or thereabouts.

Mr. Ivins Is Pessimistic.

In an address on "Honesty in Politics" at a Young Men's Christian association meeting in Carnegie hall, William M. Ivins said: "I think we shall see some results in the present legislature. If we do not, you may set it down that the legislature is the full and perfect fruit of our dishonest system. There has been a demand for the legislature to recall the United States senators from this state; but how can it be? The legislature elected them and the legislature is part and parcel of the system. If it recalled its own appointees, who would have any respect for the legislature? I do not look for any great reforms at the hands of the legislature, but there will be a revolt at the next election which will be a complete overturning of the system."

Waves Knock Holes in Liner.

Water was leaking into the cargo holds through hundreds of holes where rivets had started, and the pumps were going when the Hamburg-American liner Prinz Oskar came into the shelter of the lower bay today, after fighting her way through a succession of gales and storms all the distance from Gibraltar to New York. There is no stouter ship on the Atlantic than the Prinz Oskar, but she was scarcely a match for the huge waves that battered her sides and decks like pile drivers day and night. She was three days overdue.

Smooth Thieves Rob Undertaker.

The night clerk in Samuel Sloan's undertaking shop in East Twenty-eighth street was decoyed away by a bogus telephone message asking him to go to a Harlem address to make arrangements for a funeral. In the clerk's absence thieves got in the place an stole $500. One of the intruders dropped a tobacco pouch similar to the one used by a former employe of Sloan. This man, Robert Gartner, was arrested upon suspicion today. He confessed, and implicated two men and a woman, all of whom were arrested.

Equitable to Build Skyscraper.

Completion of the Equitable's gradual purchase of the block bounded by Broadway and Cedar, Pine and Nassau streets, makes probable the construction, at no very distant day, of a great skyscraper that will rival all the other insurance buildings in town. It is announced that John Egmont Schermerhorn has sold to the society the last bit, 17 Nassau street, which had been leased to the Equitable for a term of years. The value of the whole block is nearly $20,000,000. It has taken the society 35 years to acquire it.

Memorial Service for Dr. Harper.

Memorial services for President William R. Harper of the University of Chicago, will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Columbia university. The services will be the same as those to be conducted in Mandel hall, at the University of Chicago, at the same time. The service here will be participated in by representatives of Columbia, New York university, College of the City of New York and the public schools.

The Wreck of Poultney Bigelow.

Mr. Poultney Bigelow is a masterful person with his pen. But he encountered different conditions when he bitterly attacked the management of the Panama canal in a late issue of the Independent. He has collided with Secretary Taft, and the result is what might have been expected. The reply of the secretary of war to the accusations made by Mr. Bigelow appears in the form of a closely-printed report of about 60 pages submitted by the secretary to the President. It leaves Bigelow a wreck as a witness against the government in the matter of the Panama canal.—Cleveland Leader.

End of the Stock Joke.

The humorous paragrapher will be sadly shocked when he learns that in the best society the custom of "making calls" is neither needful nor expected. All those "is-your-mistress-at-home?" stories can now be abandoned.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

WILL NOT GIVE UP MARINE HOSPITAL

Representative Dalzell Hopes to Get the Institution for Pittsburgh.

By L. W. STRAYER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Representative Dalzell has not given up hope of getting a marine hospital for Pittsburgh, despite the recommendation of the secretary of the treasury that it be not built and that all the marine hospitals be abandoned. The plans for the Pittsburgh hospital have been completed by the supervising architect and everything is in readiness to advertise for bids, but the matter has been held up pending action by congress. But Mr. Dalzell and the other Pittsburgh congressmen will do everything in their power to prevent congress repealing the appropriation of $125,000 for the hospital, and if this is not done, then the treasury department will have no alernative but to proceed with the erection of the hospital.

Mr. Dalzell has laid before the house committee on appropriations a statement of reasons why the hospital should be built at Pittsburgh and why there should be no repeal of the appropriation. Representative Burke, in whose district the arsenal grounds are located, will do all in his power to prevent the repeal of the appropriation, providing the grounds cannot be obtained for a park or be converted into cash to be used for public building purposes in Pittsburgh.

"In view of all the facts," said Mr. Burke, "I would be in favor of assenting to the repeal of the appropriation if there was any way in which the arsenal grounds could be converted into a public park. But this plan, I am sure, is impracticable. Of if the grounds could be sold and the money used for a postoffice building, I would be in favor of that. But if we cannot get either of these, then, of course, we want the marine hospital, and I certainly would do all I could to prevent the repeal of the appropriation."

Pittsburghers Are Expected.

Next Thursday is the date set for a hearing by the house committee on railways and canals on the bill introduced by Representative Dalzell providing for a charter for the Lake Erie and Ohio Ship Canal Company. It is expected that a number of Pittsburgh men who are interested in the project will be here to take part.

The following Pittsburgh men will be here next week to attend the national rivers and harbors congress: W. Harry Brown, D. B. Blackburn, W. H. Crump, George W. Theiss, O. A. Blackburn, Hugh Moren and J. Frank Tilley.

Watching for Pension Agency.

Frank Blair of Allegheny, who is one of the many candidates for the appointment of pension agent at Pittsburgh, was here today to see the congressmen and senators about the place. He conferred with Representative Burke, but found that Representative Graham, who is backing his candidacy, is ill at his home in Allegheny, and, therefore, he will wait until Mr. Graham's return to Washington before laying his claims before the senators.

Sibley's Mind Is Made Up.

"It is better to go out regretted than regretting," was the reply that Representative Sibley sent to one of his friends in Franklin today, who had wired him urging him to reconsider his determination to retire from congress at the end of his term. Mr. Sibley has been bombarded with telegrams from constituents protesting against his decision, but they are of no avail, for he has irrevocably decided that this shall be his last term. When asked today who would likely succeed him, he said he had no idea; that so far as he knew there was no candidate for the place before he made this announcement, although there is plenty of good material in the district.

The first winter following the end of his congressional term Mr. Sibley will spend in Egypt and the Holy Land. He will go to study the ancient ruins and the history of those localities, an ambition that he has long entertained and has never been able to carry out, owing to his business or official duties.

"Egypt, the cradle of our civilization, has long held a great attraction for me," said Mr. Sibley, "and I have wanted for years to go there and to the Holy Land to study the ruins and the history, but have not been able to do so. Winter is the time to make this trip, and ever since I have been in congress I have been unable to go because of my official duties here. But when I have retired to private life I propose to indulge myself in this trip, and I am sure I will enjoy it.

"I have announced to my friends up in my district that I will never be a candidate for another office. I have spent one-fourth of my entire life in official harness, and now I am ready to retire. It is a fact that if the governorship of Pennsylvania were offered to me, uncontested and with the certainty of election, I would not take it. This may be received with doubt by some people, but it is the literal truth. I would not be tied down to official duties again under any circumstances, although I fully appreciate the great honor of the governorship of Pennsylvania."

A Homely Compliment.

A Texas editor tells of the esteem in which President Roosevelt is held in that state, by declaring that the President could be elected constable in any town in Texas. While there is a touch of humor in the claim, it is really a high compliment. It shows how very closely the President touches the human side of life and he does it through the moral impulse, which is a lesson to everyone who aspires to be a man of the people.—Ohio State Journal.

Foresighted Railroads.

Different railroad companies in Pennsylvania, it is stated, have applications in for a total of about 1,000,000 trout fry to be deposited in the various highland streams of the state. The object is obvious as, of course, the railroads will expect to carry the fishermen who, in time, will go after the trout. And the editor, who goes "a fishin' " will pay his fare with the rest.—Oil City Blizzard.

"NOW I LAY ME."

(Found in the knapsack of a soldier of the civil war after he had been slain in battle.)

Near the campfire's flickering light
In my blanket bed I lie,
Gazing through the shades of night
And the twinkling stars on high;
O'er me spirits in the air
Silent vigils seem to keep
As I breathe my childhood's prayer,
"Now I lay me down to sleep."

Sadly sings the whip-poor-will
In the boughs of yonder tree;
Laughingly the dancing rill
Swells the midnight melody.
Foemen may be lurking near
In the canon dark and deep;
Low I breathe in Jesus' ear:
"I pray Thee, Lord, my soul to keep."

'Mid those stars one face I see—
One the Savior turned away—
Mother, who in infancy
Taught my baby lips to pray;
Her sweet spirit hovers near
In this lonely mountain brake.
Take me to her, Savior dear,
"If I should die before I wake."

Fainter grows the flickering light
As each ember slowly dies;
Plaintively the birds of night
Fill the air with saddening cries;
Over me they seem to cry:
"You may never more awake."
Low I lisp: "If I should die,
I pray Thee, Lord, my soul to take."

Now I lay me down to sleep;
I pray Thee, Lord, my soul to keep.
If I would die before I wake,
I pray Thee, Lord, my soul to take.

STORIES FOUND IN THE LOBBIES

Interesting Happenings Concerning the People Who Are Traveling.

Building operations have been so brisk in the United States for the past year and the promise is so good for the present year that lumber dealers are beginning to feel rather pessimistic as to the outcome. For it is well-known that the timber resources of the United States are far from encouraging to the lumbermen. One of the results of this scarcity is the agitation by Canadian and United States lumber dealers to have the export tax of $2 per 1,000 feet abolished for the Canadian timber. That this is likely to be done was the opinion of L. Boisseau, a timber grower of Toronto, Can., who has extensive timber lands in Southern Ontario.

"Timber, rough and dressed, in the United States is becoming a scarce commodity, and the outlook is anything but encouraging to you dealers. Such is the expression from a number of them whom I have seen," said Mr. Boisseau, while in the city between trains last evening. "The supply in Canada is almost exhaustless, but the bugbear of the Canadian dealers has been the $2 tax on export shipments to the States. There is a movement on now to have this tax abolished, and I think it will come about. If this is done I doubt if it will affect the prices of lumber in the United States, as the prices will in all probability be advanced by the wholesalers and owners of Canada. But it will be an excellent thing for the States in bringing in a good supply of timber of all kinds."

Lehigh's President Coming.

President Henry Sturgis Drinker of Lehigh university will come to Pittsburgh today to address the students of the Carnegie Technical schools and to meet prominent alumni of Lehigh, in this city. President Drinker was recently elected executive head of the university at Bethlehem, and is one of the few educators in the country who graduated from the ranks of the legal profession, being better known as a corporation lawyer than as a college president. President Drinker was born in Hong Kong, China, in 1860. He was graduated from th engineering department of Lehigh in 1879, and entered the service of the Lehigh Valley railroad, where he had charge of the building of the famous Musconetcong tunnel. He was afterwards admitted to the bar and became general counsel of the Lehigh Valley railroad, remaining in the office until recently. He will remain in the city several days.

Plans for Denver Pilgrimage.

Major William S. McKee, William Hahn and the other members of the Denver club committee of the Pittsburgh lodge of Elks, No. 11, returned yesterday from Denver, Col., where they arranged for the accommodation for the convention of the Elks next summer.

"No lodge in the country will have finer quarters," said Major McKee. "We will take 250 members on the western trip and have engaged quarters for that number at the Grand Palace hotel. We anticipate a royal time in the Rockies. There is something about the cordiality of the western people that strikes you straight to the heart. They gave our committee a warm welcome, and we are sure they will not cool off any when convention week comes."

Pottery Ware Has Good Run.

The pottery manufacturers have had an excellent season and the promise is good for a continuance during the prospective healthy business season. D. A. T. Kunselman of East Liverpool, a manufacturer who was at the Fort Pitt last evening, said that there is nothing to indicate a bad season. A meeting of the Ohio pottery association has been called for the near future at Columbus, but, so far as Mr. Kunselman knew, there is to be no consideration of wages or prices, as these were settled at the recent national convention in Washington. It is probable a number of Pennsylvania manufacturers will attend the Ohio meeting.

ORDERS SENT OUT BY DEMOCRATS

No Member of Party Can Accept Nomination on Ticket Not Headed by Guthrie.

JENKINSON MEETS VOTERS

In the nomination or arrangement for the nomination of candidates for councils and ward offices, no combination shall be made with parties or independent bodies of citizens unless the said parties or bodies of citizens shall have as their candidate for mayor the Hon. George W. Guthrie; and, particularly, not to arrange a combination with any party that intends to have the Republican candidate for mayor heading the said ticket.

The above orders were issued by the Democratic executive committee yesterday. Last night a letter containing this action was sent by City Chairman W. J. Brennen to the ward chairmen and the provisional chairmen of the Democratic ward suggestion meetings to be held tomorrow night. This action is taken in the hope of scaring some Democratic candidates for councilmen into line for Guthrie. In some wards the Democrats have shown a disposition to fuse with Republicans.

A. M. Jenkinson spent yesterday in making a personal canvass for votes for his candidacy for the Republican nomination for mayor. Some of his supporters are claiming that he will carry all but four wards in the city. So far neither the managers of Jenkinson nor of Magee have given out any forecasts of the result in tomorrow's contest.

The prohibition party intends to indorse the candidacy of Guthrie. The formal action may be taken today.

NEWSPAPERMEN ARE DINED.

President Martin of Pennsylvania College for Women Entertains Scribes.

A dinner was tendered a number of local newspaper men by President S. A. Martin, D. D., of the Pennsylvania College for Women, last evening in one of the private dining rooms of the Monongahela house as a mark of appreciation for the support given by the local newspapers in the recent successful effort to raise the $15,000 endowment fund necessary to save the institution.

Dr. Martin announced that a meeting of the trustees of the institution would shortly be held to make provision for the investment of the fund, at which time a formal announcement bearing on the future policies of the institution would in all probability be made.

JEROME WANTED BY ALLEGHENIANS

Good Government Party Leaders Try to Get New York Official for Speaker.

TYLER'S REMARKABLE LETTER

The executive committee of the Good Government party of Allegheny is planning to have a number of mass meetings in the interest of George B. Logan, candidate for mayor. If present plans mature the first big meeting will be held saturday night of next week at Carnegie Music hall. Negotiations are in progress to have William Travers Jerome, district attorney of New York, as the principal speaker of the evening. It is not known definitely yet whether Mr. Jerome will consent to make the journey here to speak in behalf of the Good Government party candidate, but influential persons are bringing pressure to bear to that end.

The report is that Elihu Root, secretary of state, has been interested in the pending contest in Allegheny and will endeavor to prevail upon Mr. Jerome to make an address at the formal opening of the campaign.

Maj. H. K. Tyler, independent candidate on the Anti-Graft ticket, issued the following letter yesterday that will be mailed to every voter in the city:

Roosevelt and Partisan Superstition.

President Roosevelt has rendered the country many important services, but none he has rendered compares in importance with that of leading the weight of his great name and influence to the breaking down of the partisan suggestion in local elections. He has made it possible for the members of his party to vote in accordance with their convictions and conscience, without having the slightest fear that they will be untrue to their party in doing so. He has spurned Penrose, Odell and Cox, and has, in effect, said to his followers that it is their duty to vote for the best man everywhere, without distinction of party.

You, perhaps, are aware by this time from newspaper publication that I am a candidate for mayor of this city, at the general election to be held February 20, 1906. I would esteem it an honor to receive your cordial support at the general election. My determination to enter the mayoralty campaign was prompted by the earnest solicitation of my many personal friends, and in pursuance of an ambition, laudable, I believe, to become the chief executive of my native city. If elected, I will enter the office unencumbered and with a view of giving to the people of Allegheny City an honest, efficient and business like administration of public affairs.

Now, Mr. Voter, it is up to you. Yours truly,

H. K. TYLER.

Patents for the name Good Government party were filed for a number of Allegheny wards yesterday as follows:

Second ward—N. R. Whitton, S. S. Woodburn, C. H. Robinson, John McGinley and David C. Greese.

Third ward—H. A. Compton, C. L. Kelly, John G. Brant and O. L. Miller.

Fourth ward—Edward J. Sheppard, Andrew Knorr, V. A. Yingley, Christian C. Rentzenbrink and A. A. Dachroth.

Fifth ward—James M. McClelland, J. H. Logan, Harry R. Elphinstone, P. L. Logan and Theodore Motheral.

Sixth ward—William T. McCue, Fred W. Eggert, L. M. Davis, Joseph Hill and Leonard Wessner.

Tenth ward—Dr. A. McClanahan, Charles K. Miller, Charles Memick, T. D. McCloskey and Harry J. Hecker.

Eleventh ward—William U. Follansbee, Albert H. Gerwig, John Follansbee, Harry C. Wilson, D. Leo Holdner, Henry J. Voegtley.

Fifteenth ward—Samuel P. Bricker, Samuel Edgar, P. A. Brunn, Enoch James, and W. H. Knodell.

Walter Wacho, Charles Heckman, George Kress, Edward Miller and Grover Cramer patented the name Roosevelt party for Allegheny City and also for the Eighth ward, Allegheny.

W. T. Fyle, A. N. Salkeld, J. M. Goehring, J. Madison Linn and J. H. Van Meter patented the name Citizens party for Swissvale.

At a meeting of a faction of the Democratic party in the Allegheny Second ward school last night it was decided that Robert Beck, city chairman, should be asked to name the committee of five that has the power of naming or indorsing a mayoralty candidate. Henry Meyer, ex-Democratic city chairman, and several others are displeased with Beck and have declared for George B. Logan for mayor. Fleming Jamison was suggested as a candidate for school director in the Second ward.

Mr. Logan was indorsed at a meeting of the Equal Rights association of Allegheny city held at the home of Mrs. A. Starr Martin in Meade avenue, Bellevue, last evening. Mrs. Martin is president of the county association.

Would Not Imprison Debtors.

Henry G. Rese, president of the Retail Butchers' Protective association of Allegheny county, issued a letter yesterday in which he stated that a false impression had gone out to the effect that the association advocates legislation for the imprisonment of delinquent debtors. "The object of the association," he says, "is to establish a collective system such as obtains in similar organizations of other business lines."

APPORTIONMENT BILLS READY FOR SOLONS

torney W. T. Tredway at the request of Senator Crawford and Thomas J. Ford, chairman of the Republican county committee. Mr. Tredway yesterday made this statement:

I first took this matter up with James L. Adams and worked for one evening upon it, pouring over a state map and Smull's Legislative Handbook. We figured over the state three or four times. We began with Philadelphia, giving it eight senatorial districts under that clause of the constitution which provides that no county or city shall have a greater representation than that equal to one-sixth of the whole number of senators. From this point we figured over the state, giving each county entitled to separate representation each one senator except in Luzerne county, which was entitled to two senators, and Allegheny county entitled to six senators. By a miscalculation in our plan of apportionment we gave Lackawanna two senators. This was a mere mathematical error and was readily corrected the next morning by Mr. Adams, and accordingly the counties were arranged into districts, some of which, of necessity, became smaller.

How Apportionment Is Made.

Section 16 of the constitution provides: "The state shall be divided into 50 senatorial districts of compact and contiguous territory as nearly equal in population as may be, and each district shall be entitled to elect one senator. Each county containing one or more ratios of population shall be entitled to one senator for each ratio, and to an additional senator for a surplus of population exceeding three-fifths of a ratio, but no county shall form a separate district unless it shall contain four-fifths of a ratio, except where the adjoining counties are each entitled to one or more senators, when each county may be assigned a senator un less than four-fifths and exceeding one-half of a ratio, and no county shall be divided unless entitled to two or more senators. No city or county shall be entitled to separate representation exceeding one-sixth of the whole number of senators. No ward, borough or township shall be divided in the formation of a district. The senatorial ratio shall be ascertained by dividing the whole population of the state by the number 50." A ratio is 126,042.

The Largest District.

By this it will be seen that each county is entitled to one senator for each ratio and for an additional senator for a surplus of population exceeding three-fifths of a ratio, but that no county shall form a separate district unless it shall contain a four-fifths of a ratio except where the adjoining counties are entitled to one or more senators, when each county may be assigned a senator on less than four-fifths and exceeding one-half of a ratio. Delaware county, with a population of 94,762, and Chester county, with a population of 95,695, made the largest district in the state.

In Philadelphia county, in round numbers, the county being entitled to only one-sixth of the number of senators, the ratio for the county was about 151,000. In Allegheny county the ratio was about 120,600, while throughout the state the ratio is 126,042. The smallest district in the state under the apportionment giving Delaware and Chester counties combined representation is that made up of Franklin and Fulton counties, with a combined population of 64,826.

Delaware and Chester counties adjoin and under one clause of the constitution are not entitled to separate representation, because neither has four-fifths of a ratio. They are surrounded by counties, each of which is entitled to one or more senators, and for this reason the question of their right to separate representation arises. Under another clause of the constitution there is much reason for believing they do not qualify each other for separate representation.

Prepared Two Bills.

Accordingly a bill was prepared so as to give Delaware and Chester separate representation, each in round numbers having 95,000 in population. The next best arrangement over the state raised the smallest district so that it had a population of 74,310. This district is made of the counties of Union, Snyder, Mifflin and Juniata.

After the apportionment had been completed so far as the arrangement of the counties composing the different districts and so far as complying in population with the constitution were concerned, the next difficulty was the drafting of the bill in such a way that elections would not occur in 1906 in any district wherein the senator resides under the new arrangement, who is now elected and would hold office until 1908. The next step was to ascertain who the different senators of the state were, what counties they resided in, what number had terms expiring in 1906, and what numbers had terms expiring in 1908, also what number of senators whose terms expiring in 1908 would be thrown into the same district and what number of districts would have no senatorial representation at all unless an election occurred in 1906.

When Election Is Held.

We arranged all districts having a senator resident therein under the new arrangement, whose term does not expire until 1909, under odd numbers from 1 to 49, inclusive, and then arranged all those districts which had senators whose terms expired in 1908, or which under the new arrangement would have no senator in the absence of an election in 1906 under the even numbers from 2 to 50, inclusive. We found that there were more districts which should have odd numbers than there were which should have even numbers. We provided in the bill that elections should be held in all of the even-numbered districts in 1906 for senators to serve for four years; in all of the odd-numbered districts where there would otherwise be a vacancy for senators to serve for two years.

In 1908 an election should be held in all of the odd-numbered districts to serve for four years, and all of the even-numbered districts in 1910 to serve for four years. It will be noted that this carries the matter forward so that there would be 50 senators in the senate in 1911, when a new apportionment should be made, based on the decennial census of 1910. This is what was done in 1874. Provision was made for 50 senators, and provision for the election of senators biennially and alternately in the even-numbered and odd-numbered districts up to the year 1890, after which under the law there was no provision for the election of senators as contained in the last senatorial apportionmetn bill.

The Allegheny Districts.

The districts as made up for Allegheny county were arranged so far as conveniently could be done so as to give the present senators from Allegheny county as much of their old districts as possible, at the same time keeping in mind an equitable division of the county into six districts and the provision requiring that the districts should be continguous.

Some difficulty was encountered in the division of Luzerne county, which is entitled to two senators, and under the bill drafted its districts are given Nos. 21 and 22. Greater difficulty, however, was encountered in Philadelphia, which is entitled to eight senators, in which the ratio in round numbers was 160,000, and wherein there are some wards having a population of over 65,000. Of course, Luzerne county and Philadelphia county will be subject to revision by the delegations from those particular counties.

The following shows the formation of the new districts, exclusive of the eight in Philadelphia:

M. J. BROWN RESIGNS FROM ALLEGHENY SELECT COUNCIL

Failure to get a quorum prevented the special meeting of Allegheny select council called yesterday for the purpose of disposing of unfinished common council business. Michael J. Brown, member from the Ninth ward, who is in the saloon business, handed his resignation to President Francis J. Torrance. Mr. Brown resigns to comply with the order of the court concerning liquor dealers who hold councilmanic positions.

Increase in Taxes Certain.

It looks now as if the city tax rate for the current year will have to be 15 mills instead of 13 mills, the present rate. The judgments to be paid by the city amount to $700,000 this year, as against only $230,600 last year. This, with the increase in the estimates of the Carnegie library and the central board of education, is sufficient almost to make a 2-mill increase. Controller Larkin may propose a bond issue to cover the judgments.

Best Known Remedy for Summer Coughs and Colds.

I had a severe summer cold which settled on my lungs, and I tried various kinds of cough remedies, none of which did me any good until I finally tried one bottle of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey, which relieved me at once. Please accept my thanks for this most valuable remedy. Very respectfully, Henry Franks, 418 Pulaski St., Little Rock, Arkansas.

Cures When All Else Fails.

I had a severe cough and cold. I tried a great many remedies but none of them seemed to do me any good, and at last I tried one bottle of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey and it cured me. Very respectfully, Herman Uhlman, 114 E. St. Catherine St., Louisville, Ky.

...OVER 4,000,000 BOTTLES OF...
Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey

Were sold during the year 1904, on an absolute guarantee. Out of this vast number of sales money was refunded on only six bottles. This proportion—6 out of 4,000,000—is so exceedingly small that it hardly makes a ripple in the solid phalanx of satisfied customers. This is the unprecedented record of the most wonderful cough medicine on the market.

BIG GATHERING HEARS MR. MAGEE

Young Candidate Amplifies His Statement of Reasons Why He Should Be Nominated.

COL. LOGAN THE CHAIRMAN

Former Senator William A. Magee addressed a big meeting in Old City hall last night. The hall was well filled and the audience was most enthusiastic. Fully 1,000 persons were in attendance. It was the biggest meeting Senator Magee has yet addressed in his campaign for the Republican nomination for mayor. A brass band, a quartet and a trio of male voices furnished the music.

The meeting was called to order by S. F. Charters, who introduced Col. A. J. Logan as the chairman of the meeting. Col. Logan did not touch on his own nomination. He said:

"I think I voice the feeling of all the Independents of Pittsburgh, that there is no better way than for a candidate to be nominated by and for him to carry the question of his nomination to the people themselves, and when I quote the words of that greatest of all Americans, President Roosevelt, in saying that all we ask for is a 'square deal, no more and no less,' I think I voice the opinion of all the supporters of Mr. Magee."

Speech of Mr. Grimes.

Assistant District Attorney W. D. Grimes mentioned the cases of several Democrats like Gov. Folk of Missouri, Mayor Dunne of Chicago, District Attorney Jerome of New York, and the Republican mayor, Fagan, of Jersey City, N. J., men who were elected to office by voters of all parties as a reason why the Republican voters should stand by Mr. Magee at the primaries. The speaker said the question at issue was not so much the nomination of Magee or the defeat of A. M. Jenkinson, his rival for the Republican nomination, but rather the question was one of principle—whether the people have the right to put up any man they choose for a nomination and in open, fairly conducted primaries vote for any man they wish.

While Mr. Grimes was speaking Mr. Magee entered the hall by the rear door and stepping on the platform was loudly applauded.

A. H. Rowand said he had fought in the Union army during the rebellion and he thought the fight of Magee was something like that fight.

"Mr. Magee," said Rowand, "is trying to do away with slavery, just as the boys in blue did away with black slavery in the days of the rebellion."

Ex-Senator J. W. Lee said:

I am for and you should be for the nomination of Mr. Magee, because he is young, honest, courageous, patriotic, because he has no fear. Fear never yet won a battle, never established a city or redeemed it from grafters and graft. The chief objection urged against Mr. Magee is that he is a young man. For years you have had no part whatever in the selection and nomination of Republican candidates; he has fought for you until you have secured your rights. I am for him because I believe he will, if elected, give an honest, straightforward administration of city affairs.

John A. Reed was applauded when he said: "I am going to the polls on Saturday to cast my vote, and I intend to stay there until the vote is counted."

What Magee Said.

A. J. Edwards, an assistant district attorney, said:

Mr. Magee was the founder of the new Republican rules. When he saw that even under those rules nobody dared to come forward to be a candidate for the nomination for mayor he came forward. He went to the leaders of the organization and they said "No." He went to his friends and they said: "We are for you."

Mr. Magee stepped up to speak and the people began to applaud. The premature playing of the national air drove him back for a while, but when he came forward again the applause was long and continued. These are some of the things he said:

The Republican party has a majority of 67,000 in Pittsburgh, and yet it cannot win a single local election. The reason is that the Republican organization, not the Republican party, makes the nominations, and the Republican party, by its members, repudiate them. We have now Democrats in office in Pittsburgh. If this system is not changed we shall have many Democrats in for the next three years.

I admit now, although I did not admit it three weeks ago, that I have been a Quixotic follower, not a real member of the Republican organization, for the Republican organization consists of but two men.

Many Cannot Help Him.

Republicans are telling me every day: "I cannot vote for you; I cannot give you my influence; my bread and butter depends upon my support of the other candidate; my father's job depends upon my fealty to the other candidate. I can't be for you, but I hope you'll win."

The Republican organization begins with the ward organization, which is composed of but a few members of the party; back of the ward organizations are the ward leaders; back of them is the city organization composed of the two men to whom I have referred. I admit now I am not the organization candidate; I am the anti-organization candidate.

This city never will have peace until the mayor has been elected by Republicans, and no mayor will be elected by the Republicans, if nominated by the methods that have been and are now in vogue.

Chairman Logan called for three cheers for Mr. Magee. These were given with a will and the meeting adjourned.

Shut Off Midland.

BEAVER, PA., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Coal and iron police law has been established at the new town of Midland, seven miles below here, by the Midland Steel Company, which is building a blast furnace there. The action was taken because about 100 boilermakers struck for an eight-hour day and the company, it is said, is afraid strike agents may get in and spread discontent among the 800 mechanics and laborers.

Want Senators Elected by People.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 11.—Senator Meeks' resolution, declaring in favor of the election of United States senators by popular vote, was the occasion of much oratory today in the senate. The resolution was finally unanimously adopted. Senator Woods said that senators who probably could not be elected by the popular vote were blocking the president in his effort at rate legislation.

Former Pittsburgher Disappears.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Charles T. Bowers, an agent for the Penn Wyoming Copper Company, which is controlled by the Equitable Trust Company of Chicago, has disappeared from this city. His wife has asked the police to look for him. Mr. and Mrs. Bowers came here two weeks ago from Pittsburgh, where he had had charge of the office of the company.

Inflicts 200 Wounds on Child.

TOLEDO, ILL., Jan. 11.—Upon evidence of having inflicted 200 wounds, Mrs. Mary L. McKinney, prominent society woman and church worker of Toledo, was today found guilty of cruelty to 15-year-old Stella Grady, whom Mrs. McKinney had adopted. The plea of the defense was insanity. Mrs. McKinney stabbed the child in the back with a fork and scissors.

Hard Fight With Flames.

WASHINGTON, PA., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Two complete oil well equipments were destroyed by fire early this evening and half the population of Cross Creek township was forced to fight the flames resulting from burning oil to save their property. Fire swept through the valley, causing a loss of $15,000.

Builder of Welland Canal Dies.

ST. CATHERINE, ONT., Jan. 11.—T. R. Merritt, president of the Imperial bank and a well known Canadian financier, died this afternoon. He was projector and builder of the Welland canal.

Man Dies in Twenty Minutes.

Andrew Conelitz, aged 40, of 706 James street, Allegheny, died at his home last night after an illness of about 20 minutes. Death was caused by heart failure.

Sister of King Alfonso Marries.

MADRID, Jan. 11.—The civil marriage of Prince Ferdinand of Bavaria and the Infantin Maria Teresa, sister of King Alfonso, was celebrated at 9 o'clock tonight.

The Death Roll.

Funeral of Nina Walker.

Simple but impressive were the funeral services conducted yesterday afternoon over the remains of Nina Walker, the little 9-year-old inmate of the Odd Fellows' Widows and Orphans home in Ben Avon. At the hour for the services the 56 children in the home, whose ages range between 3 and 16, gathered around the bier of their former playmate and sang hymns. The singing was now and again interrupted by sobs prominent among the grief-stricken being two little sisters and two brothers of the dead girl, who are also inmates of the home. Floral tributes were many and beautiful, and were contributed by the various lodges and friends of the institution. The Rev. Mr. Smith of the Methodist Episcopal church, and the Rev. Mr. Ray of the United Presbyterian church, both of Avalon, officiated. The interment took place in Union cemetery.

Funeral of James Reed.

Services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon for James Reed, who died Wednesday morning at his home in Bellevue, at the residence of his father, J. R. Reed, 1311 Fayette street, Allegheny. Mr. Reed was about 50 years old and had been with the Pressed Steel Car Company for the last five years as a civil engineer. Prior to that time his experience had been almost entirely in the railroad service, having started with the Pennsylvania railroad about 25 years ago as a rodman on the engineer corps. He was successively assistant supervisor, supervisor and assistant engineer, and at different times was superintendent of the Altoona, the Schuylkill and the West Penn divisions. Two sons and the widow survive.

William Angloch.

William Angloch, aged 56, of Center avenue, for many years a prominent resident of the hill district, and who served the Eighth ward in councils for two terms, died yesterday in St. Francis hospital after a short illness. Mr. Angloch, who was an assistant city storekeeper at the time of his death, was seized with a chill while at work in the Public Safety building several days ago, which was followed by a paralytic stroke. He is survived by two sons, Henry and Charles, and three sisters, Mrs. William Flackman of Butler and Mrs. George Snyder and Miss Anna Angloch, both of this city.

Miss Amelia L. Beckwith.

Miss Amelia L. Beckwith, a promising art student, died yesterday at her home, 9a South avenue, Wilkinsburg, aged 29 years. She was a daughter of George N. Beckwith and the late Mrs. Elizabeth S. Beckwith. Paintings from Miss Beckwith's brush had attracted the attention of art critics. The late Marshall Swartzwelder was her grandfather. She leaves, besides her father, two brothers, J. Scott and M. S. Beckwith, and one sister, Miss Anna Beckwith.

Mrs. Harry L. Kunkel.

Frances Cort Kunkel, wife of Harry L. Kunkel, died at the family residence, 323 Coal street, Edgewood, at 10:30 a. m., January 11, aged 42, after a lingering illness of more than a year. She was born near Irwin, Pa., and married with her family to Greensburg, where she spent much of her life. In 1890 she was married to Harry L. Kunkel, a business man of Edgewood, where they have since resided. She leaves a husband and one child. Her father, two brothers and a sister also survive.

Mrs. George Barker, Jr.

Mrs. Ruth E. Stevenson Barker, wife of George Barker, Jr., of the wholesale tobacco firm of J. W. and G. Barker of Liberty street, died at the family residence, 4748 Wallingford street, yesterday morning. She is survived by her husband, two sons, John S., at Lehigh university, and George A., at home, and one daughter, Mrs. Edward B. Taylor of Cincinnati. Funeral services will be held from the residence on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Rachel Chrissinger.

Mrs. Rachel Chrissinger, aged 79, sister-in-law of Thomas Ridley, the oldest retired engineer of the Pennsylvania lines, died at 4:30 yesterday afternoon at the Ridley home, 5350 Shakespeare street, East End. Funeral services will be held there at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, with interment following on Sunday at Derry, Pa.

Obituary Notes.

Florence Elizabeth Kessler, aged 18, daughter of former Policeman Joseph Kessler, died at her home in Hunter street, Wilkinsburg, yesterday, from typhoid fever.

George Ketterer, aged 28, died yesterday at his home in Wilkinsburg. He was employed by the Pittsburgh Railways Company. He is survived by his wife and two children.

Mrs. Mamie E. Rankin, aged 42, wife of Howard M. Rankin, died yesterday at her home in Penney avenue, McKeesport. She was born in New York and was married in 1884. Besides her husband she leaves two children.

LAURA BIGGAR LOSES SUIT.

Former Actress Emerges from a Sanitarium and Appears in Court at Atlantic City.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Mrs. Laura Biggar Bennett, former actress and claimant to the Henry Bennett fortune, appeared in the district court today, weak and ill, from a sanitarium where she is under treatment, as plaintiff to recover from John J. Fallon, a Hoboken lawyer, $100 paid him as counsel fees.

She set up a claim that he had not carried out her wishes. The defense tried to inject the Bennett case into the suit, but the questions were ruled out. The jury refused to allow the claim.

Vigorous Protest Against Water.

At a mass meeting of the residents of the Thirty-seventh ward and Sterrett township, held in the Brushton school house last night, a committee of five was ordered appointed to take legal or other action against the Pennsylvania Water Company, to insure a more effective filtration of the water supply which, it is alleged, has caused a typhoid epidemic in that section.

THESE MEN ARE TO COUNT THE VOTE

Chairman Leslie Makes Public Names of the Republican Primary Election Boards.

WILL PRINT 200,000 TICKETS

Chairman M. G. Leslie last night made public a list of the election officers that will conduct the Republican primaries tomorrow. This action was taken in answer to the demand of Candidate Magee that he be given the names of the officials.

Some vacancies exist, and Leslie says these will be filled by the remaining election officers and the members of the district association. In the list no officers are given for the Third ward and in these districts: Third of the Eleventh ward; Sixth of the Eighteenth ward; Second of the Twenty-sixth ward; Third of the Thirty-fifth. In these districts an additional inspector must be named: Third of the First ward; First of the Fifth ward; Seventh of Eleventh ward; First of Thirteenth ward; First, Second and Third of the Fifteenth ward, and the Fortieth ward.

The first name in each district is the judge of election, and the two following are the inspectors. The list follows:

Leslie has ordered 200,000 official ballots for the primaries. This is over five times the number of votes cast for President Roosevelt in Pittsburgh. Of these ballots 150,000 will be distributed through the 250 districts in Pittsburgh by the ward committees. One-half the ballots in each election district will be delivered to the election officers and kept within the voting places for the use of the voters. The other one-half will be placed in the hands of the workers on the outside. The Republicans who attend the primaries do not need to take their ballots from the workers on the outside unless they desire to do so, but can secure tickets on the inside the same as at the regular election, and mark them as they choose. Fifty thousand tickets will be retained at city headquarters to supply the demand if tickets should be lost or destroyed in any locality.

GIBBONS IN M. E. CHURCH.

Cardinal There Attends Prohibition Meeting Which Is Addressed by State Treasurer Berry.

BALTIMORE, MD., Jan. 11.—Cardinal Gibbons tonight occupied a seat on the platform of the Eutaw Street Methodist Episcopal church, in which a public mass meeting was held under the auspices of the city committee of the Prohibition party. The principal address was made by William H. Berry, state treasurer of Pennsylvania. Mr. Berry spoke on "Civic Virtue," and made a plea for prohibition of the liquor traffic.

The committee found itself unable to secure a public hall large enough and was compelled to select the Eutaw street church. A member of the committee wrote to Cardinal Gibbons, who has consented to act as vice president, and asked him is he wished to have his name withdrawn. The cardinal wrote that "the holding of a civic meeting in a Protestant church does not excite any religious scruple in me." Bishop Luther B. Wilson of the Methodist Episcopal church was a vice president.

HARPER OBSEQUIES.

Private Services Held at Residence. Funeral to Be on Sunday.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Private services over the body of Dr. W. R. Harper, president of the University of Chicago, were held today at the family residence. Addresses were made by Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus, pastor of Central church; Dr. T. W. Goodspeed, secretary of the university, and the Rev. J. L. Jackson, pastor of the Hyde Park Baptist church. The only persons present at the services, aside from Dr. Harper's family, were members of the university senate and the university council.

Sunday afternoon at 2 the public funeral exercises will be held. The interment will be in Oakwood cemetery.

"The Heart of Maryland."

It is likely that Mr. David Belasco will be in Pittsburgh early next week to attend to the opening of the Pittsburgh engagement of his all-star company in "The Heart of Maryland." Mr. Belasco has given his personal attention to the details of this production since it has been touring the principal cities, and Pittsburgh is to see "The Heart of Maryland" produced with one of the most notable casts, perhaps, that has ever been secured for a production of similar character.

To Continue Fight Against Graft.

WASHINGTON, PA., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—In a letter sent out to members in various sections, the Taxpayers' league of Washington county indicates that it will continue its campaign against alleged "graft" in the county, and asks for money to prosecute it.

Cause of Headaches

You must look well after the condition of your liver and bowels. Unless there is daily action of the bowels, poisonous products are absorbed, causing headaches, biliousness, nausea, dyspepsia. Ayer's Pills are liver pills, mildly laxative.

MINERS ARRANGE NEW WAGE SCALE

As Predicted, 10 Cents Advance Will Be Sought at Indianapolis Convention.

TO BETTER MINING LAWS

Because of generally improved industrial conditions, the scale committee of the United Mine Workers of district No. 5 recommended at their convention yesterday afternoon in Moorhead hall that an advance of 10 cents per ton for the entire district be asked, and the report was unanimously adopted. The resolution also provides for a proportionate advance in machine mining and cutting and in all other classes of work about the mines. The new scale embodying these points will have to be approved by the Indianapolis convention before it can become operative.

It was also resolved to secure if possible a revision of the mining laws of Pennsylvania so as to improve as far as possible the conditions under which the men work. Greater precautions against accident are to be asked for and also some means of bringing to justice those who through negligence allow accidents to occur.

Aspersions on Dolan Rebuked.

The question as to whether or not miners should unload slate in connection with their other duties caused considerable discussion. Complaint was made by several of the delegates that the men were imposed upon by the companies in regard to the unloading of slate, and a resolution that the miners should have nothing to do with work of this character was adopted. A resolution that certain kinds of skilled day laborers, such as tracklayers and pipemen, should be paid at the same rate as the mule drivers, and that boss tracklayers should receive 15 per cent more than their assistants, was drawn up. It will be acted upon at today's session.

At yesterday morning's session Vice President Uriah Bellingham, who is presiding over the sessions, sharply rebuked some of the delegates for their aspersions on President Dolan, who has been prevented by illness from attending the sessions thus far. He said any delegate who had any doubts as to the condition of President Dolan could make a trip to the latter's home at McDonald and learn for himself. A telephone message last night from President Dolan's home stated he had been confined to bed all day, but would, it was thought, be able to be at the afternoon session today.

A resolution aimed at Secretary William Dodds, providing that no votes be counted for him, as he had been elected clerk of courts, was non-concurred in. Another resolution was also turned down. It demanded that a new election be ordered for president, for the alleged reason that John A. Cairns of Roscoe had been duly nominated for the office, but that his name had been kept off the ticket. Both resolutions were presented by the locals at Roscoe.

Committee to Pass on Jags.

After a long and lively discussion the resolution that the miners of Ocean mine No. 1, at Scott Haven, belonging to Local 2251, be admitted to the Pittsburgh district was amended at the suggestion of Delegate Harry O'Neill to provide that the matter be referred to the proper committee at the Indianapolis convention.

Secretary William Dodds read a letter from Secretary Samuel Harper of the Saturday and Sunday Hospital association, thanking the organization for its generous contribution of $761.20 for 1905.

The suggestion that delegates coming into the hall under the influence of liquor should be denied a voice and vote carried and a committee of 12 was appointed to determine when a delegate is unable to properly perform his duty.

The result of the recent election has not yet been determined, and Secretary Dodds stated yesterday that the count would hardly be finished before Saturday.

"College Widow" Entertains.

Manager Kirk of the Nixon has arranged a pleasant little social function for the popular "College Widow." At the special matinee this afternoon members of all the companies playing in Pittsburgh will be invited to be guests of the charming widow.

Indians Have Not Seceded.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Senator Obaldia, the minister from Panama to this country, today received the following cablegram from his government: "Deny uprising of San Blas Indians. Personal differences between chiefs caused circulation of reports."

INTERESTING FACTS

For Nearly Every Man, Woman or Child.

A short time ago we published an article recommending to our readers the new discovery for the cure of Dyspepsia, called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and the claim then made regarding the wonderful curative properties of the remedy have been abundantly sustained by the facts. People who were cautious about trying new remedies advertised in the newspapers and were finally induced to give Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial were surprised and delighted at the results. In many cases a single package costing but 50 cents at any drug store made a complete cure, and in every instance the most beneficial results were reported. From a hundred or more received we have space to publish only a few of the latest, but assure our readers we receive so many commendatory letters that we shall publish each week a fresh list of genuine, unsolicited testimonials and never publish the same one twice.

From James Yemmeisler, LaCrosse, Wis.: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are doing me more good than anything I ever tried, and I was so pleased at results that I gave away several boxes to my friends, who have also had the same benefits.

From Jacob Anthony, Portmurray, New Jersey: I have taken Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with the best results. I had Dyspepsia for six years, and had taken a great deal of medicine, but the Tablets seem to take right hold and I feel good. I am a farmer and lime burner and I heartily recommend to everyone who has any trouble with his stomach to use these Tablets.

From Mrs. M. K. West, Preston, Minn.: I have received surprisingly good effects from using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I gave one-half of my last box to a friend who also suffered from indigestion and she had the same good results.

From Mrs. Agnes K. Ralston, Cadillac, Mich.: I have been taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I am very much better, and feel very grateful for the great benefit I have received in so short a time.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a certain cure for all forms of Indigestion. They are not claimed to be a cure-all, but are prepared for stomach troubles only, and physicians and druggists everywhere recommend them to all persons suffering from Nervous Dyspepsia, sour or acid stomach, heartburn, bloating or wind on stomach and similar disorders.

COURT DIRECTS SALE OF APPLEYARD LINES

Minimum Price for All Fixed at $910,000 and Assuming $2,958,000 of Bonds.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 11.—An order for the sale of what are known as the Appleyard Ohio traction lines was given by Federal Judge Thompson today after hearing arguments by Attorney Judson Harmon for the receivers and by Jacob G. Schmidt of Cincinnati and Myron H. Wilson of Cleveland.

The petition provides that the minimum prices that may be accepted for the several roads are as follows:

Urbana, Bellefontaine & Northern, $175,000; Columbus, London & Springfield, $250,000 (subject to bonds of $1,500,000); Dayton, Springfield & Urbana, $300,000 (bonds of $750,000); Columbus, Grove City & Western, $35,000 (bonds of $208,000); Central Market Street Railway of Columbus, $150,000 (bonds of $800,000). There are about 150 miles of these lines. A receiver was appointed for them just a year ago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—John J. Mitchell, president of the Illinois Trust & Savings bank and a member of the committee which has in charge the liquidation of the assets of the Chicago National bank, departed for New York today, where it is said he will confer with a number of railroad men regarding the sale of the Southern Indiana railroad.

THE BATH COMEDY

By AGNES AND EGERTON CASTLE,

"How?" cried Lady Standish, waking with a start out of the heavy sleep of trouble, and propping herself upon her elbow, to gaze in blinking astonishment at the irate pink countenance of her woman. Lady Standish looked very fair and young, poor little wife, with her half-powdered curls of hair escaping in disorder from the laces of her nightcap, and her soft blue eyes as full of uncomprehending grief as a frightened baby's.

Mistress Megrim gazed upon her coldly and her old-maid's heart hardened within her.

"No, your ladyship," said she, with a virtuous sniff, "I shouldn't feel as I was doing my duty to her ladyship, your mother, nor to my humble self, were I to remain an hour longer than I could help, the handmaid of sin."

"Oh, dear," said Lady Standish, letting herself fall back on her pillows with a weary moan, "I do wish you'd hold your tongue, woman, and allow me to rest! Pull the curtain again; oh, how my head aches!"

"Very well, my lady," ejaculated Megrim, all at once in a towering passion. "Since you're that hardened, my lady, that a sign from heaven couldn't melt your heart—I allude to that man of God, his lordship the bishop (oh, what a holy gentleman that is!); and, my lady, me and Mistress Trenalet saw him out of the pantry window as he shook the dust of this house of iniquity from his shoes; if that vessel of righteousness could not prevail with your ladyship, what hopes have I that you'll hear the voice of the Lord through me?"

"Megrim, hold your tongue," said her mistress in unwontedly angered tones, "pull the curtains and go away!"

With a hand that trembled with fury Mistress Megrim fell upon the curtains and rattled them along their pole. Then she groped her way to Lady Standish's bedside and stood for some seconds peering malevolently at her through the darkness.

"I wouldn't believe it, my lady," she hissed in a ghastly whisper, "although indeed I might have known that such a gentleman as Sir Jasper would never have taken on like that if he hadn't had grounds. But you've mistaken your woman, when you think you can make an improper go-between of me! Oh," cried she, with a rigid shudder, "I feel myself defiled as with pitch that these fingers should actually have touched such a letter!"

"For goodness sake," moaned the lady from her pillows, "what are you talking about now?"

"My lady," said Megrim sepulchrally, "when that minx with her face muffled up in a hood, came and had the brazen boldness to ask for me this morning, saying she had some lace of your ladyship's from the mender's, and that it was most particular and must be given into my hands alone, my mind misgave me. 'Twas like an angel's warning. The more so as there isn't a scrap of your ladyship's lace as has been to the mender's since we came here."

"Mercy, Megrim, how you do ramble on! I can't make head or tail of your stupid story."

Even a dove will peck.

"Ho, do I, my lady! Can't you indeed? Perhaps your ladyship will understand better when I tell her, that that same bold thing had no lace at all—but a letter. 'Give it to your mistress,' says she, 'in secret and for your life don't let Sir Jasper see it.'"

"Well, give it to me," said Lady Standish, "and hold your tongue, and go and pack your trunks as soon as you like."

"Ho, my lady," cried the incorruptible Megrim, with an acid laugh, "I hope I know my Christian duty beter. I brought the letter to my master, according to the voice of conscience. And now," she concluded, with a shrill titter, "I'll go and pack my trunks."

Yet she paused, expecting to enjoy Lady Standish's outburst of terror and distress. There was no sign from the bed, however, noot even a little gasp. And so Mistress Megrim was fain to depart to her virtuous trunks without even that parting solace. Meanwhile, with the pillow of her spotless conscience to rest upon, and deadened to fresh disturbances by the despairing reflection that nothing for the present could make matters much worse between her and her husband, Lady Standish, without attempting to solve the fresh problem, determinedly closed her weary eyes upon the troubles of the world and drifted into slumber again.

* * * * * *

"I shall catch them red-handed," said Sir Jasper.

This time all doubt was over; in his hand lay the proof, crisp and fluttering. He read it again and again, with a kind of ghastly joy. Unaddressed, unsealed, save by a foolish green wafer with a cupid on it, the document which Mistress Megrim's rigid sense of duty had delivered to him instead of to his guilty wife, was indicted in the self-same dashing hand as marked the crumpled rag that even now burned him through his breast-pocket like a flyblister.

"I never get a wink of sleep, dreaming of you, dearest dear, so soon to be my own at last! The chay shall be drawn by horses such as Phoebus himself, my darling, would have envied. And, so you fail me not, we shall soon be dashing through the night—a world of nothing but happiness and love before us. I could find it in my heart to bless the poor foolish individual who shall be nameless, since, had it not been for my lovely one's weariness of him, she might never have turned to the arms of her own devoted.

"RED CURL.

"P. S.—I'll have as good a team as there is in England (barring the one that shall bring us there), waiting for us at the Black Bear, Devizes. We ought to arrive before midnight, and there shall be a dainty trifle of supper for your Beautyship—while the nags are changed. Ah, my dear, what rapture!"

Indescribable were the various expressions that crossed Sir Jasper's countenance upon the perusal and reperusal of this artless missive. Now he gnashed his teeth; now snorts of withering scorn were blown down the channels of his fine aquiline nose; now smiles of the most deadly description curled and parted luridly his full lips.

"Ha, ha!" said Sir Jasper, "and perhaps the poor foolish individuel may give you cause for something less than blessings, Master Carrots! And I think, madam, your beautyship may find at Devizes something harder to digest than that trifle of supper! Till then, patience!"

* * * * * *

"Well, Lydia?" said Mistress Bellairs. She had but just finished her chocolate and looked like a rose among the pillows.

"Well, madam," said Lydia, still panting from her hurried quest, "'tis safe delivered. I gave it into Mistress Megrim's own hands, and——"

"And can you reckon," said the lady, smiling at the amusing thought, "upon her bringing it straight to Sir Jasper?"

"Ah, Lud, ma'am, yes. I told the sour, ugly old cat, that if her master caught sight of it, Lady Standish would be ruined. You should have seen how she grabbed at it, ma'am!"

"Lydia," said her mistress, looking at her admiringly, "I question whether I'd have risked it myself; you're a bold girl! But there, if anything fail, you know that rose-colored pelisse remains hanging in my closet."

"Never fear, ma'am," said Lydia, smiling quietly to herself, as she pulled her mistress' long pink silk stocking over her hand, and turned it knowingly from side to side, looking for invisible damage, "the pelisse is as good as mine already."

"But, think you, was Sir Jasper at home?" said Mistress Bellairs, after a few moments' reflection.

"I made sure of that," said Lydia triumphantly, pulling off the stocking, "I thought it best to go in by the mews, ma'am, and I heard that Sir Jasper had not left the house since that little—that little affair with the bishop, you know, ma'am. But all the night, and all the morning, he kept William and Joseph (those are the grooms, ma'am) going backwards and forwards with challenges to the bishop's lodgings."

"Oh!" cried Kitty, and kicked her little toes under the silk counterpane with exquisite enjoyment, "and what does the bishop answer, I wonder?"

"Sends back the letter every time, unopened, ma'am, with a fresh text written on the back of it. The texts it is, William says, that drive Sir Jasper mad."

"Oh! oh! oh!" cried Mistress Kitty faintly, rolling about her pillows. "Child, you'll be the death of me! * * * Well, then, to business. You know what you are to do tonight?"

"No sooner are you gone to the Assembly rooms this evening, ma'am, than I take a letter from you for Lady Standish, and this time deliver it myself to her own hand, and, if needs be, persuade her to follow your advice, ma'am."

"Right, child; thou shalt have the gold locket with the Turkey stones——"

"Thank you, ma'am. Well, then I'm to scurry as fast as I can to the corner of Bond street and Quiet street, and watch you being carried off by the gentleman. And then——"

"Be sure you wait till the chaise has well started."

"Yes, ma'am, of course! When you're safely on the London road, I'll go and give the alarm at the Assembly rooms."

"Remember, you ask first for Lord Verney."

"Oh, ay, ma'am. 'My mistress is carried off, is carried off! Help, help, my lord!' I'll say. Oh, ma'am, I'll screech it well out, trust me."

"Don't forget," said her mistress, whose mood became every moment merrier, "don't forget to say that you heard the ravisher mention London, by Devizes."

"Well, ma'am," said Lydia, "I thought of saying that he first flung you swooning upon the cushions of the chay; then, stepping in himself, cried out to the coachman, with an horrible oath, 'If you're not in Devizes before 12, I'll flay you with your own whip, and then hang you with it to the shaft!'"

"Aha, ha, Lydia," laughed her mistress. "I see I must give you a gold chain to hang that locket upon. But pray, child," she added warningly, "be careful not to overdo it."

SHOW DEEP INTEREST IN MISSIONARY WORK

Unusually Large Attendance at Semi-Annual Convention of Allegheny County Union.

Nearly 600 delegates and visitors, representing 16 denominations, attended the semi-annual meeting of the Union Missionary society of Allegheny county, held in the Second Presbyterian church, Eighth street, yesterday. Morning and afternoon sessions were held, and lively interest was manifested throughout, the presence of the Rev. Dr. Hunter Corbett, one of the oldest missionaries in the Chinese field, making the event one of unusual importance. Little Mooktie Cook, the deaf mute from India, who has been adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Myles of Mt. Washington, and has entered the mutes' school at Edgewood, occupied a prominent place on the platform, and was the object of much attention.

The devotional exercises at the morning session were led by Mrs. R. C. Wylie. Interesting addresses followed by Miss C. J. Carnahan of Christ Methodist Episcopal church, who related her experiences and observations during a recent trip to foreign mission fields, and by Miss M. Dunn, who spoke of her travels through the Holy Land. At the afternoon session Dr. Corbett spoke of religious and civic conditions in China, with especial reference to the strong ill-feeling on the part of the educated classes over the Chinese boycott maintained by the United States. He said something would have to be done quickly or retaliatory measures would likely be taken against the Americans in China.

Mrs. W. T. Lorimer sang, and the Rev. C. B. Newton, pastor of the First Congregational church, delivered an address on the "Power of Christ." Mrs. E. M. Hill, secretary of foreign missions of the United Presbyterian church, spoke on "Work in Punjab," and Mrs. H. C. Campbell, president of the Women's Missionary board of the United Presbyterian church, spoke on the hindrance intemperance is to foreign missionary work. She held that no one should be allowed to represent any of the churches in the foreign fields who is not a total abstainer, saying a person who uses intoxicating liquors sets a bad example to the natives. Mrs. Wallace Tharp of the Central Christian church, spoke on the federation of missionary societies.

Mrs. Mary Clokey Porter, Mrs. M. Wylie Stevenson and Mrs. Annie Herron were chosen to act as delegates to the national meeting of missionary boards, young peoples' societies and student volunteers, to be held at Nashville, Tenn., February 28-March 1.

About a dozen deaf mutes attended the sessions, and had the proceedings translated to them through interpreters.

PLAN ORGANIZATION.

Independent Window Glass Manufacturers Agree Upon Forfeit and Order Necessary Papers Drawn Up.

Independent window glass manufacturers, representing 2,000 pots, formally agreed by unanimous vote to organize a permanent organization at a meeting held in the Fort Pitt hotel yesterday. Each concern agreed to place a forfeit of $300 for each pot operated and a committee was appointed, of which H. H. Clayson of Kane is chairman, to draw up the necessary papers to perfect the organization. This committee will report at a meeting to take place here next week.

The new organization will act as a holding company for the independent interests in a similar capacity as did the Independent Glass Company, which was a formidable organization several years ago. Prices are expected to become materially strengthened by the new company, which will represent more than half of the window glass production in the country.

The Amalgamated association wage committee did not meet with the manufacturers yesterday, it having been decided the day previous to postpone further negotiations until the manufacturers had organized. Whether or not the sliding scale is adopted, the manufacturers have agreed not to reduce the present wage rate, and the workers, it is said, have withdrawn their demands for an increase at this time.

TO FORM VETERAN CORPS.

Fourteenth Regiment Social Event Will Herald a Reunion of All Its Former Officers.

A veteran corps is to be formed among the ex-officers of the Fourteenth regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania. This will be one of the features of the "evening at home," which will be celebrated by the officers of the regiment at the armory in Market street next Thursday evening. Fifteen hundred invitations have been issued, and the military guests will appear in dress uniform. Euchre and dancing will be the diversions, with the Fourteenth regiment orchestra under Lieut. Daniel Nirello.

The veteran organization will include over 100 former officers of the Fourteenth and the function next week will offer the first opportunity for a reunion of the old-timers. Many of the men who served in the volunteer command during the Spanish-American war will be there, and the veteran corps will bring these officers back to the fold.

J. F. SMITH SEES GEYSER IN ALLEY

Defendant Tells One Witness of a Plan to Kill the Woman With Handybilly.

MRS. BOWSER HEARS QUARREL

Slowly the commonwealth is bringing out evidence in the case in which Norman H. Geyser is charged with murdering Mrs. Martha Shook Kirkpatrick that looks bad for the defendant. One witness yesterday positively identified Geyser as the man he saw in Creighton alley about 11 o'clock on the night of the murder. The defense is fighting at every turn and the close cross-examination shows it will try to establish an alibi. It was reported yesterday that an eye-witness to the murder will be produced, but that he will not be able to identify the man who did the killing. Only witnesses and relatives are admitted to the court room. The testimony of Mrs. P. T. Bowser, Hugh Crawford and J. F. Smith was very important for the state.

James Arthur Davis was called again. He gave further details of his movements the night before the murder with Kirkpatrick and Crawford. He left them about 11:30 because he only had 5 cents left and wanted to get a day car to go to his home in Avalon. He had heard Geyser talk about Mrs. Kirkpatrick to Crawford and a man named Blackstock.

Hugh Crawford swore that in the holidays of 1904 Geyser told him about his relations with Mrs. Kirkpatrick, who said he had taken her to the camp at Sandy Lake and paid all her bills and that now she would have nothing to do with him.

Geyser said he would watch her and would tell her husband if she went with any other man. Geyser told the witness Mrs. Kirkpatrick was treating him this way because she thought his money was all gone, and she told him she meant to be true to her husband. Geyser had threatened Mrs. Kirkpatrick and had told the witness of a plan to kill her with a handybilly.

Crawford Corroborates Davis.

Crawford's story of the drinking on Saturday night corroborated that of Davis. He went home late Saturday night and got up about 9 o'clock Sunday morning. Geyser came in soon after and asked him to go out and take a drink. He saw the wounds on Geyser's hands and asked about them, and Geyser said he had fallen on a pile of dirt.

On cross-examination Crawford's story indicated that there was considerable drinking at Kirkpatrick's room, in which Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Crawford and Geyser took part. "I told Geyser," the witness said on redirect examination, "to let the woman alone. 'Maybe she wants to be good,' I told him. On the night of the murder I saw him and Mrs. Kirkpatrick together on Federal street, about 7 o'clock. An hour later I met Geyser in a Federal street saloon."

"Why did you not give this testimony before the coroner's inquest?" asked Mr. Haymaker.

"He did," declared Mr. Robb, hastily running through the copy of the testimony taken at the time of the inquest, "and here it is."

Mr. Robb read extracts of Crawford's testimony given then and the court said it was in line with that Crawford gave before the coroner.

Davis and Crawford were recalled and identified Geyser's overcoat.

Thomas Crapp, a brother of the dead woman, said he lives at 181 Manhattan street, Allegheny. He did not know Geyser very well, but had heard a good deal about him before Mrs. Kirkpatrick was murdered. On the afternoon of Sunday, February 5, 1905, at about 1 o'clock, he said Kirkpatrick came to his house and asked him to help him find his wife.

"We visited the police station and the morgue as she had not been home since the night before and was not at his mother's home.

"Did Kirkpatrick say, 'I'm tired of this business?'"

"No, he kept saying 'something must be wrong.' I said, 'Bert, I think I know what is wrong and if I am right I'll break somebody's d——d head for him.'"

What Geyser Said.

Superintendent John Glenn was recalled and said Geyser told him three or four times that he was not above South Diamond street on the night of February 4, 1905.

Detective Leon Einstein identified a photograph of the back of Geyser's right hand and fingers as one he had taken on Tuesday after the murder. It showed the marks on the hand and fingers testified to by other witnesses, but they are rather indistinct, owing, he said, to the poor light at the time the picture was taken. He corroborated the doctor as to the condition of Geyser's hand at the time.

Mrs. P. T. Bowser of 12 Sampson street, Allegheny, at the time of the murder, but now of Salem, O., was the next witness. The house she then lived in is at Sampson street and Creighton alley, a side door opening into Creighton alley, a short distance south and across the alley from the gate leading into the yard where the body of Mrs. Kirkpatrick was found.

She said she and her husband and E. B. Frum, who lived in the house with them, were in the room on the first floor of her house, talking, about 10:30 o'clock on the night of the murder.

"Mr. Frum got up and went to the door opening into Creighton alley," she said, "and after opening the door listened a few seconds. He then called me and my husband to the door. When we got there I saw a man in the alley near the gate acting as though he was quarreling with some one. I heard a voice cry out: 'Oh, don't!' It sounded like a child's or a woman's voice or a girl's. Presently I saw an object that looked like a woman fall."

"How long had you been at the door when you saw the object fall?"

"About 10 minutes, I should judge."

"Then what?"

"It was very cold weather and I went in the house to get a shawl. When I came out—right away—the man and woman had disappeared."

Peculiar Actions of Stranger.

"Did you see nothing else in the alley before you went in for your shawl?" asked Mr. Robb.

"Yes; I saw a basket and some packages lying in the alley near the gate. The man picked up the object that fell and carried it through the gate. Then he came out and picked up the basket and the packages in his arms and took them inside the yard."

A long jangle between the attorneys followed over the identification of the packages and the basket, after which Mrs. Bowser told of seeing the same sized man, with a long overcoat and stiff hat at Allegheny Central station, and at the coroner's inquest. She pointed out Geyser as being the man she saw at the lockup and at the inquest.

On cross-examination the witness admitted it was not very light in the alley the night of the murder. She said it was about 10 minutes to 11 that night when she went into the house and went to bed, not realizing that any one had been killed.

J. F. Smith, aged 28, of 27 Jackson street, was brought from the county jail to testify next. Before the attorneys for the defense could stop him he had said he was in jail for court on a charge of embezzling $12 from his employer.

Smith positively identified Geyser as the man he said he saw in Creighton alley about two minutes after 11 o'clock on the night of the murder, stating that Geyser was standing with his back against the brick wall of the house at the southwest corner of Jackson street and Creighton alley, and just across Creighton alley from the gate leading into the yard where Mrs. Kirkpatrick's body was found. He said he knew Geyser from seeing him at least 20 times in poolrooms within about three months' time, but said he had never been introduced to him.

Positively Identifies Geyser.

"Did I understand you to say," asked Judge Shafer, "that the man you saw in the alley that night is Geyser?"

"Yes, sir."

"When did you first tell any one you had seen Geyser in the alley?" continued the court.

"The next morning."

"Whom did you tell?" asked the judge.

"My mother."

Messrs. Marron and Haymaker were both on their feet by this time clamoring with the court that the questions were unfair, or words to that effect.

The fact that the witness had testified that he told his mother the next morning before the body of the murdered woman had been found that he had seen Geyser in Creighton alley the night before, made the attorneys for the defense eager to suppress that part of the testimony, but the court overruled the objection.

"Now, then," said Mr. Robb, "whom did you see in the alley that night?"

"The man I saw," said Smith, "was Norman H. Geyser."

Smith said he had been at a pool room all evening. It was down in Federal street, near the Sixth street bridge. He started home at 10:30 o'clock and walked up to a saloon near Simpson street, where he took a drink and then went to Jackson street, and was walking past Creighton alley when he saw Geyser standing in the alley looking over toward the gate to the yard in the rear of 8 Jackson street.

On cross-examination he said he always looked up and down Creighton alley when he passed it going home at night because he had seen a man and a woman standing in the alley once, about 2 o'clock in the morning. He also said Detective William M. Speer, when he went to the house to get him to go down to Central station, told him they had Geyser down there for him to identify.

Mr. Haymaker questioned the witness long and closely.

Tried to Have Testimony Stricken Out.

Charles Exey of 154 Arch street, said he did not know Mrs. Kirkpatrick during her lifetime, but was acquainted with Geyser.

"I did not have any conversation with Geyser," he said, "about Mrs. Kirkpatrick."

"Did you have any conversation with him about a woman?" began Mr. Robb.

Mr. Haymaker objected, but the objection was overruled.

"Did you hear him say there was a lady to whom he was paying money who was trying to throw him over?"

Marron and Haymaker both objected to this question, but were again overruled.

"Yes," said Exey, "he said her husband was out of work, and he gave her money, but now that the husband was working again, she had thrown him over."

Marron wanted the whole of Exey's testimony stricken from the record, but the court overruled the objection.

The trial will be continued this morning.

DISCIPLINING CARRIER.

Postman Lennox Is Arrested, Charged With Detaining a Package of Letters.

Samuel J. Lennox, a letter-carrier in the Lawrenceville district, was arrested yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal George Owens on the charge of detaining a package of letters. The information was made by Postoffice Inspector O'Brien. Lennox, who has been 14 years in the postoffice, was released on $300 bail, furnished by his father, Andrew Lennox, of the Eleventh ward.

There is not even a hint of dishonest intention on the part of Lennox in the alleged detaining of letters and his arrest is intended as warning to letter-carriers that they must be prompt in delivering letters entrusted to their care. It is not charged Lennox had the letters in his position longer than over night, and there is no question but that he would have delivered them eventually.

LOSS OF TWO TEETH CAUSES WOMAN'S DEATH

Physicians Were Unable to Stop Flow of Blood and Life Steadily Ebbs Away.

Weakened from loss of blood, which had been flowing from her upper jaw at frequent intervals since Christmas, Mrs. Margaret Noon, aged 50, of 5108 Carnegie avenue, died at St. Francis hospital yesterday. On Christmas Mrs. Noon had two teeth extracted by a Butler street dentist. Next day the blood began to flow freely from the cavity, and the dentist applied an ice packing, which relieved the flow for the time being.

When it was seen the packing afforded only a temporary relief, a physician was summoned and discovered that the blood was in such a condition that it would not clot. The physicians give the cause of death as "hemophilia." The disease is well known in the medical world, but there has been no local case for several years. Mrs. Noon was a member of St. Kieran's Roman Catholic church and was prominent in church work. She is survived by her husband, two daughters and a son.

HEREDITARY RIGHT VALID.

But Court Says Cuban Countess Cannot Recover Damages from Gen. Brooke for Revocation.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Judge Holt of the United States district court today dismissed the suit brought against Maj.-Gen. John R. Brooke, U. S. A., retired, by Donna Francesca O'Reilly Decamara, countess of Buena Vista, to recover damages because an order was issued by Gen. Brooke abolishing her hereditary right to slaughter the cattle used for beef in Havana, Cuba.

Judge Holt declared that in his opinion she has a good claim for damages against the United States government.

"Buster Brown."

"Buster Brown" will be presented at the Alvin next week with the same elaborate detail that characterized its run at the Majestic theater, New York city, of 100 nights, and of 500 nights in Chicago. There is an exceedingly large company, a ballet, chorus, carloads of costly scenery, and elaborate electrical effects.

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION.

How Food Headed Off the Insidious Disease.

The happy wife of a good old-fashioned Michigan farmer says:

"In the spring of 1902 I was taken sick—a general breaking down, as it were. I was excessively nervous, could not sleep well at night, my food seemed to do me no good, and I was so weak I could scarcely walk across the room.

"The doctor said my condition was due to overwork and close confinement and that he very much feared that consumption would set in. For several months I took one kind of medicine after another, but with no good effect—in fact, I seemed to grow worse.

"Then I determined to quit all medicines, give up coffee and see what Grape-Nuts food would do for me. I began to eat Grape-Nuts with sugar and cream and bread and butter three times a day. The effect was surprising! I began to gain flesh and strength forthwith, my nerves quieted down and grew normally steady and sound, sweet sleep came back to me. In six weeks' time I discharged the hired girl and commenced to do my own housework for a family of six. This was two years ago, and I am doing it still and enjoy it." PITTSBURGH WINS FROM SOO, 11 TO 4.

Arthur Sixsmith's Men Given a Warm Greeting by Patrons. Gibson Fails to Appear.

LOCAL CAPTAIN OFFICIATES

The Pittsburgh seven was given an enthusiastic reception by the hockey patrons who packed Duquesne garden last night, in recognition of its fine showing on the western circuit.

The large crowd gave vent to cheers when the team appeared on the ice and the band played national airs. "Baldy" Spittal's Canadian Soo team, which was the opponent for the night, was handed a severe drubbing by the locals, who displayed high class and who demonstrated more conclusively that they are championship caliber by winning by the unexpected large score of 11 to 4.

Arthur Sixsmith, the Pittsburgh forward and captain, was not able to play because of the brutal clubbing given him by the Portage Lake players. Sixsmith had two large cuts on his head, a rib broken, a toe broken and other injuries. Gibson, the referee, who is a native of Houghton, and who the Pittsburgh players allege was biased in his rulings all favoring the Houghton team, did not report to referee the game, although he was assigned to work the present series. The local players claim he does not have the courage to appear in Pittsburgh after his unfair work at home.

Arthur Sixsmith was prevailed upon to referee, and he showed that he can conduct a game properly, just like he can play it. He did not remove one man during the night for any roughness, as there was no occasion for it, and there was no complaint registered in his work.

Last night was the first time Hod Stuart had appeared on the local ice in a Pittsburgh uniform. It is playing was a reminder of the old local league days, and he more than pleased the spectators by his work. Campbell, too, put up a remarkably fast game, as did Roberts, Garnet Sixsmith and Dunc. Taylor, the latter played Arthur Sixsmith's position. Baird, at point, worked well with Stuart and the Canadians were unable to get past the defense. Winchester had few stops, but he nevertheless did well.

Regan, at goal for the Canadians, played a strong game, particularly in the first half, when he stopped several hard shots. Spittall and Corbeau formed a good defense. Corbeau was the most aggressive player on the Soo team. Taylor of the Soo put G. Sixsmith into the benches in the second half and accidentally stepped on his right ankle. It took Sixsmith a few minutes before he was able to resume playing.

Taylor of the Soo shot the first goal of the game on a pass from Clifton. Campbell, however, evened this by passing to Dunc Taylor, who shot for Pittsburgh. Then Campbell took the rubber from Spittal and shot the second of the half. On the face-off at the start of the second half, Sixsmith secured the rubber by taking it from Clifton and passed to D. Taylor for goal. Campbell went up the ice and shot from the cover point's position. Stuart went through the entire Soo defense and passed shot, but Regan stopped it. Roberts, however, passed from behind the net, and Campbell shot goal.

Clifton followed with one for the Soo. Taylor and Roberts went up together and Sixsmith shot the goal. Roberts followed with another run, and Sixsmith shot again. Stuart went to the Soo defense and passed to Campbell. Campbell passed back and Stuart shot. D. Taylor kept up the scoring by scrimping from the middle of the ice and shooting goal. The Soo was being played off its feet, but Clinton managed to cop a goal on a pass from Spittal. Campbell got it back when Stuart, after going up, passed to him. Taylor shot the fourth for the Soo just before the end of the game. The lineup:

Pittsburgh—11.	Soo—4.
Winchester	G	Regan
Baird	P	Spittal
Stuart	C. P.	Corbeau
Campbell	C	J. Taylor
D. Taylor	F	Clifton
G. Sixsmith	R. W.	Pusley
Roberts	L. W.	Ward

Goal—D. Taylor 4, Campbell 3, Sixsmith 3, Stuart, J. Taylor 2, Clifton 2. Referee—Arthur Sixsmith.

ITS COSTS MORE TO DRAFT MINOR PLAYERS

CINCINNATI, Jan. 11.—The meeting of the National baseball commission, called for today by Chairman Hermann, brought many prominent baseball men to this city. Presidents Johnson of the American league, and Pulliam of the National league, the other members of this high baseball court, arrived in the city early this morning, as also did the special commission of four who represent the National Association of Minor Leagues, to hear discussion of the new rules. The new rules provide that only one player can be drafted from a class A club, the price to be $1,000, payable in two installments. These new rules have already been adopted by the three parties to the national agreement.

Amendments to the national agreement were adopted providing that the draft price from class A teams will be $1,000, class B $750, class C $500 and lower classes $400. All such sums are to be paid in full at the time the drafts are made.

The annual report of the chairman showed that 73 cases had been decided during the last year, and that in every one of them the commission was unanimous in its decision. Secretary Bruce's report showed that the commission had handled $176,000 during the year. This includes the receipts of the world's championship series and the Chicago championship games. It was decided to establish permanent quarters in Cincinnati.

After disposing of some minor routine work, the commission adjourned. Both President Pulliam and President Johnson will leave for their homes in New York and Chicago tonight.

Ban Johnson, in keeping with his gum-shoe and other methods, refused at the meeting today to vote on or even consider anything the minor leagues submitted unless J. Ed. Grillo, president of the Toledo club, resigned from the national board of arbitration. Grillo promptly resigned.

President Grillo of the Toledo club, in reference to his resignation from the national board of arbitration tonight, said: "When the National association elected me to its board it gave evidence of having confidence in me to protect its interests, and the propositions which confronted the minor leagues here today gave me the opportunity to prove that the confidence was not misplaced, when I resigned."

STEVENSON TURNED DOWN BY THE UNIVERSITY COMMITTEE

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Jan. 11.—The U. of P. university committee today surprised the student body by refusing to ratify the election of Vincent M. Stevenson of Lexington, Ky., as captain of the football squad for next season. Edwin L. Green, of New Haven will probably be elected to the position. The committee gave no reason for its refusal to accept Stevenson.

CENTRAL LEAGUE RAISES THE SALARY LIMIT

CANTON, O., Jan. 11.—The annual meeting of the representatives of the Central league baseball clubs here today developed unusual interests in the affairs of the league. The following league towns were represented: Canton, O.; Wheeling, W. Va.; South Bend, Ind.; Dayton, O.; Grand Rapids, Mich.; Terre Haute, Ind.; Springfield, O., and Evansville, Ind. P. H. Carson of South Bend, Ind., was re-elected president. Ben Mulford of Cincinnati was Carson's principal opponent. It was voted to increase the salary limit from $1,200 to $1,600, exclusive of the manager. By June 1, however, each manager must cut his team down to 12 men and file a list of players with the president. The meeting adjourned to meet in Grand Rapids March 13, when the schedule will be adopted.

Championship Pool Tonight.

The Allegheny County Pool league will tonight begin its second part of the first season. The schedule reads: Union at Norwerk, Primrose at Chadcroft, Lyceum at Arlington, Federal at Dermiel, Capitol at Glenwood, Friendship at Olympic. The games tonight should prove especially interesting.

Big Chicken Fight Scheduled.

A big cock fight is scheduled for Saturday at a place not a hundred miles from Pittsburgh. Everybody within a radius of 100 miles will have chickens in the pit. It is expected that the battles will begin on Saturday night and last until Monday morning.

THREE GOOD FIGHTS ARE ON FOR TONIGHT

BOXING BOUTS TONIGHT.

At East Pittsburgh—Mull Bowser vs. Larry Temple, six rounds, 145 pounds.

At Los Angeles—Young Corbett vs. Aurelia Herrera, 20 rounds, 133 pounds.

At San Francisco—Willie Fitzgerald vs. Willie Lewis, 20 rounds, 138 pounds.

Tonight there are three fights on the card, each of which will prove interesting from boxing and betting standpoints. At East Pittsburgh Mull Bowser, who in recent years has come to the top in this section, will meet Larry Temple, one of the hardest propositions in the ring today. They will weigh 145 pounds ringside. They have been training faithfully, and those who are at the ringside can rest assured of seeing hard clips exchanged with not an idle moment. They will go six rounds. The winner can lay claim to the welterweight championship of this state and, if Temple is the winner, he can claim the title of the country as well, as since the retirement of Walcott, whom Temple fought twice to a draw, there is no one who can do the weight and defend it any better than he. Bowser has never been knocked out and from what has been said by those in back of him will keep that record untarnished tonight. The East Pittsburgh Athletic club, which is holding the show in its new hall, has made all preparations to handle a large crowd. The show will start promptly at 8:15 and the main bout will go on at 9 o'clock. Tommy Lynch, who fought Johnny O'Donnell at Old City hall, will be on in one of the bouts before the main event.

Young Corbett and Aurelia Herrera will meet for 20 rounds at Los Angeles before the Pacific club. They will weigh 133 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Sports on the coast think that the Denverite will be a strong favorite in the betting. It is reported that Corbett has taken off some of his superfluous flesh and is already in perfect condition, which gives the critics confidence in the ex-champion's chances. On appearance the ex-champion looks the better man of the two, and he says that he is as good as he ever was. So confident of whipping the Mexican is Corbett that he has informed his friends to place a bet on him.

Jimmy Britt, who is now in New York, received a letter from his brother Willie yesterday requesting him to return to the coast as soon as he could, as a match had been arranged for him with the winner of the Young Corbett-Aurelia Herrara bout.

Before the Colma club, near San Francisco, Willie Fitzgerald of Brooklyn and Willie Lewis of New York will meet for 20 rounds at 138 pounds, weigh in at 7 p. m. The fans on the coast are under the impression that Lewis is a comer in his division and they look for him to give Fitzgerald his quittance. They think that his blows are too strong and if he succeeds in landing he will hurt the Brooklyn man. Fitzgerald is one of the shiftiest lightweights that ever entered the ring. Not only is he fast, but he has a left jab that has made many a man quit.

Joe Gans and Mike (Twin) Sullivan are booked to meet on January 19 at San Francisco. According to a dispatch from San Francisco a commission of several thousand dollars reached there with instructions to place it on Sullivan at the prevailing odds. The money was sent to a prominent sporting man, and rumor has it that the commission was sent from Baltimore. The sports in the Monumental City are of the opinion that Sullivan is Gans' master at all stages and that he was entitled to the decision when he fought at his own club. They are now backing up their opinion with their money.

Jimmy Scanlon stated that it is true he lifted $5,000 at Memphis to post for a battle with Jack O'Brien. As soon as O'Brien's theatrical engagement is over, an effort will be made to sign articles and have the fight take place in Pittsburgh. He is now training with Frank Morgan for a bout with Billy Inlow of Altoona at Old City hall on January 20. Morgan is training for his bout with Bert Wing, which will take place at East Pittsburgh on January 25.

Al Martin is requested to be at this office this evening at 8 o'clock without fail.

Kid O'Brien of Charleroi, who hurt his hand at Monongahela in a bout with Patsy Brannigan, and was therefore unable to go on with Joe French of Buffalo at the inter-city contest at Old City hall on Tuesday night, was in town yesterday and collected his forfeit money. He is matched to meet Kid Gleason in a 15-round bout at Erie on January 22 or 25 at 102 pounds.

Jimmy Mason accepts the challenge of Patsy Brannigan and his manager for Jock Prendie. The latter will do the weight, 107 or 108 pounds. Mason will meet the backer of Brannigan any time he wishes.

Kid Tyler has received an offer from Sebring to meet Biz Mackey for 10 rounds the early part of next month. Tyler will accept.

Big Chicken Fight Scheduled.

A big cock fight is scheduled for Saturday at a place not a hundred miles from Pittsburgh. Everybody within a radius of 100 miles will have chickens in the pit. It is expected that the battles will begin on Saturday night and last until Monday morning.

W. U. P. TO MEET THE WESTMINSTER PASSERS

Westminster and W. U. P. will meet at basketball tonight at Duquesne Garden. The W. U. P. freshmen and East Liberty academy teams will play the preliminary game. The collegians will line up as follows:

W. U. P.		Westminster.
McCandless	F	Deevers
White or Marsh	F	Lambie
Turbursh or Gill	C	Elliott
McCormick	G	Marks
Rose	G	Patterson

Joe Thompson of W. U. P., track team coach of the Pittsburgh High school, met the relay team candidates at the Central building yesterday afternoon. The boys assembled at the call of Capt. Worrel. The boys were instructed to take morning and night practice in exercises. Every man is to walk into school in the morning, which means a six-mile tramp for quite a few. All of last year's relay and track men are in school and eligible for this year's teams. Coach Thompson says he will win the championship races at Philadelphia in April. The following men reported to Capt. Worrel and will form the nucleus of a squad of 100 or more candidates: Smith Williams, Patterson, McCullough, Miller, Schmidt, Simon, Von Senden, Worrel, Close, Wassel, Dornberger, Will Page, Elihu Page, Hartman, Ralston, Griffith, Gass, Robinson, Dowling.

The ice at Friendship park has brought out all sorts of hockey players. An interclass league of 12 teams has been formed and games will be played after school and Saturday mornings whenever the weather permits. This afternoon, with favorable weather, from 3 to 4, Class A 2 plays Shop Seniors; from 4 to 5, Class D 1 plays Class D 2.

The training table for Princeton's basketball and hockey teams has been started for the first time. It is a new departure in these minor sports and was made possible by the recent appropriation by the Athletic Association of a sum of money of about $350. It has also been possible for the basketball team to have a professional coach this season. He is Frederick Cooper of Trenton. The men at the tables are:

Basketball—P. G., N. J. Elliott, 1906, captain, C. D. Vanderbilt, H. C. Kahler; 1907, W. E. McLean; 1908, E. R. Halliday, E. C. Fish.

Hockey—1907, captain, A. J. Zahniser, J. R. Caislett, N. S. Tenney, P. F. Chew; 1908, R. D. Osborne; 1909, E. A. Dillon, C. S. Coxe.

Al Copland, a former champion athlete, whose most recent training work has been in connection with the New York Athletic club and the Seventh Regiment A. A., has been appointed track and field athletic coach at Princeton university.

For the first time in the history of baseball at Holy Cross college, a coach will be employed this season, whose duties will consist in handling only the candidates for pitcher's position. Andy Coakley, the former Holy Cross star twirler, now with the Philadelphia Athletics, will be offered the position.

Orr Leads from the Start.

In the pool tournament at Hazelwood Orr defeated King by a score of 50 to 40. Score by frames.

THIRTY TO SOCIETY

FORMAL announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Gertrude Orr, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Orr of Oakmont, to Joseph Paull Fife of Pittsburgh. The announcement was made yesterday at a charmingly appointed luncheon which Mrs. James B. Wilson of Tarentum gave in honor of Miss Orr, who is her niece. Covers were laid for 12 and the appointments were all in pink, with carnations carrying out the color scheme in the decorations. Although the engagement has only been made public, it has been an open secret among the friends of Miss Orr and Mr. Fife for some time and both young people were congratulated at the time of the wedding of Miss Stella Thompson and Samuel Hunter last October, at which Miss Orr was to have been one of the bridesmaids had the wedding been a large affair. Mr. Fife, who is an attorney in this city, is a son of the Rev. Dr. Fife of Clearfield, Pa.

Arthurs-Thoburn.

The Rev. Thomas Thoburn of Erie and the Rev. Dr. James Thoburn, pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal church of Allegheny, officiated last evening at the wedding of Miss Lida M. Arthurs and John C. Thoburn. The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Stevenson, in Woodlawn avenue, at 8 o'clock. The wedding march was played by Mr. Stevenson and the bridal party included Miss Jessie Wiggins of Altoona as maid of honor; Miss Harriet Barker and Miss Mary Wilson, small cousins of the bride, as flower girls; John C. Carr, the best man; and Herman Carr as usher. The bride wore a gown of white embroidered batiste trimmed with lace. A tulle veil was worn and her bouquet was of white roses showered with the same. Miss Wiggins was also gowned in embroidered batiste with a sash of pink silk and her flowers were pink roses. The little flower maidens wore lacy frocks of white and carried baskets of pink carnations. Mrs. Stevenson, who received with the bridal couple, following the ceremony, was also in white. At the bridal table in the dining room were seated the older members of the bridal party and William H. Arthurs, father of the bride, and Mrs. Sarah A. Bryant and Miss Irene Rutledge, her aunts. The centerpiece was of pink roses and above hung a chandelier shower of pink tulle ribbons and smilax. The lights were shaded in pink and white and smilax draped all the doors and windows. The background for the bridal party was the fern-banked mantel, at each side of which stood tall palms. Maidenhair ferns were used to bank the mantels and the bookcases. At the conclusion of a western wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Thoburn will be at home in Millvale avenue, Shadyside.

Social Affairs of the Future.

Mrs. Daniel M. Clemson has invitations out for a buffet luncheon from 1 until 3 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon at her home in Fifth avenue. There will be no guest of honor.

Miss Helen Walter of Center avenue, Shadyside, will entertain several card clubs of which she is a member at her home this evening. Miss Tilden of Boston, her visiting friend, will be the guest of honor this evening and again tomorrow evening, when a few of Miss Walter's younger girl friends will be entertained at euchre.

Mrs. Aaron Chesbrough is expected in the city next Monday to be the guest of her mother, Mrs. James Robb Wilson of St. James street, Shadyside. Miss Grace Hamilton of South Highland avenue will give a tea in Mrs. Chesbrough's honor next Tuesday from 5 until 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Charles Edmund Beeson of Howe street entertained with three tables of bridge yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Frank H. Crockard of Wheeling, W. Va.

Smart Affairs of Yesterday.

Miss Madeline Frances Laughlin and her fiance, the Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander, shared honors last evening at the dinner which Miss Isabel Chalfant and her sister, Miss Anne Chalfant, gave at their home in North avenue, Allegheny. It was a very informal affair.

Covers were laid for eight guests at the luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. B. F. Jones, Jr., of Irwin avenue, Allegheny. The guest of honor was Mrs. William Ross Proctor of New York city, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Singer of Western avenue, Allegheny. In addition to Mrs. Proctor the guests were Mrs. J. Stuart Brown, Mrs. Elisabeth M. Horne, Mrs. J. Denniston Lyon and Mrs. William C. Robinson.

Mrs. James H. McIlvaine and her daughters, the Misses McIlvaine, received their friends informally yesterday afternoon, having sent out cards for a series of Thursdays at-home to extend through January.

Golden Wedding Anniversary.

BUTLER, PA., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Humes of Fenelton, Butler county, Pa., was held at their home Wednesday. The affair was planned by their eight children and was a surprise to the parents. Mr. and Mrs. Humes were married at Tarentum January 10, 1856, and lived near Tarentum until 1872, when they moved to Butler county, where they have since resided. Mr. Humes is a veteran of the civil war, being a member of the A. G. Reid post 100, G. A. R. Mrs. Humes, who was Miss Guilliford, is a prominent member of the Woman's Relief Corps. The couple were presented with a piece of gold money by each of their children, after which an elaborate dinner was served. The eldest son, E. G. Humes, was unable to be present.

Miss Stone Is Hostess.

Miss Jean Stone was hostess at a tea at her home in North avenue, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon, to meet Mrs. DeLoss Holden of New York, the guest of Miss Stone's aunt, Mrs. J. L. White, and Mrs. Robert Blakeney Petty, Jr., a recent bride. Mrs. Edwin R. Sullivan and Mrs. Howard Morton poured tea and among the other assistants were Miss Anna Myra Petty, Mrs. Charles S. Lambie, Mrs. Clarence Close, Mrs. E. Bosworth McCready, Mrs. Benjamin Dangerfield, Jr., Miss Elizabeth Graham and Mrs. Edgar C. Gerwig. A few tables of bridge were in play during the afternoon. The decorations for the affair were pink roses and narcissi on the tea table and palms through the other apartments.

Guests in the City.

Miss Place of Lansdale, Pa., who is now visiting Miss Jean McCloy of Stanton avenue, will remain with Miss McCloy until January 29, when she will be the guest of Mrs. Benjamin Dangerfield, Jr., of North Negley avenue. Miss Place will be guest of honor on the 20th at a luncheon which Miss White of New Brighton will give. Miss White and Mrs. Dangerfield were schoolmates of Miss Place at Miss Shipley's school in Bryn Mawr.

Miss Katherine Daniels, who was entertained in Pittsburgh last winter, is coming from her home in New York next Thursday to visit with Miss Eleanor Kuhn of North Highland avenue for a fortnight.

Weddings of the Early Year.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Macrory announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Vida Jeannette Macrory, to Alexander Savage Patterson, the engagement to terminate in a wedding on February 15, at the home of the bride's parents in Bertha street, Mt. Washington.

Mrs. Mary Jacobs of Washington street announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Yetta Jacobs, to Samuel Engelman, in the Harmony club rooms on January 9.

Miss Elizabeth M. Copeland of Steubenville and John Wiles of McDonald were quietly married yesterday at the residence of the Rev. S. L. Boston of this city. The couple will live in McDonald.

Mr. Brown Entertains.

Norman F. Brown, chief engineer of construction with the Pennsylvania company, gave a dinner of handsome appointments at his home in Baum street last evening. His guests, numbering 12, were the members of his engineer's corps. Mr. Brown's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perry McCurdy are spending some time visiting relatives in Philadelphia and at the conclusion of their stay in that city will go to New York to attend the automobile show.

Discusses the Indians.

At a meeting of the Missionary society of the Sewickley United Presbyterian church, in the church parlors yesterday afternoon, the feature was an address by Mrs. C. E. Alder of Pittsburgh on "The North American Indian." Papers were read by Mrs. George L. Craig and Mrs. Thomas Wood.

Notes of Society.

On account of the illness of Mrs. George Barker, Jr., Mrs. John Barker Kaercher of Center avenue has recalled invitations which she had out for a card party next Friday afternoon.

THE CLUBS

Contributions to this department must bear the name and address of the writer to insure attention.

People in the Biblical Tableaux.

The composition of the Biblical tableaux which will be given in the Nixon theater next Sunday evening for the benefit of the Columbian Council of Jewish Women, has been effected and rehearsals of the individual tableaux have been conducted for the past week. On Sunday morning a final rehearsal of the entire program will be held. The tableaux and the people who have been cast for the different characters are announced and include the following:

Madame Margaretha Wunderle, harp; Carl Wunderle, violin; Herman Melzer, 'cello. Contralto solo, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," from Sampson and Delilah Saint-Saens, Mrs. Charlotte Wagner Zeigler. Harp solo, Fantasie Characteristique, E. Parish Alvars, Madame Wunderle.

The introductory explanatory readings will be given by Mrs. Enoch Rauh. During the first tableau the "Magic Fire" music from "Die Walkure" will be played. Following the second tableau Adolph Rosen will play a violin soo. There will be incidental music during the third tableau, followed by a tenor solo, an aria from "La Giaconda," by Daniel Beddoe. Miss Rose Rothstein will sing the soprano solo, "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee," introducing the fifth tableau, "Ruth and Naomi." In the interval between the sixth and seventh a violin and 'cello duet will be given by Carl Wunderle and Herman Melzer. A vocal duet by Mrs. Zeigler and Mr. Beddoe between the eighth and ninth tableaux; a violin solo, "Romanze," by Adolph Rosen, preceding the tenth, and the well-known tenor solo, "Lend Me Your Aid," from Gounod's "Queen of Sheba," sung by Mr. Beddoe, will complete the incidental music.

The tableaux which have been planned, posed and arranged by Mrs. May Whitney Emerson of Washington, D. C., will be given for the benefit of the civic and philanthropic work of the Columbian Council of Jewish Women. The boxes have all been purchased, the box-holders including Mrs. Enoch Rauh, Mrs. Isaac W. Frank, Mrs. Nathaniel Speer, Mrs. Morris Kaufmann, Mrs. Isaac Kaufmann, Mrs. Henry Kaufmann, Mrs. Charles Sunstein, Mrs. Albert J. Sunstein, Mrs. Hugo Rosenberg, Mrs. A. Leo Weil, Mrs. Morris Baer, Mrs. Aaron Cohen, Mrs. Lewis J. Adler, Mrs. Albert Hannauer and Mrs. Marcus Aaron. The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. M. Ruslander, chairman; Mrs. J. S. Kaufmann, Mrs. Isaac Wildberg, Mrs. G. E. Crone, Mrs. Enoch Rauh, Mrs. Henry Jackson, Mrs. E. M. Lazarus and Mrs. S. G. Rosenstock.

Colonial Dames Elect Officers.

The Western Pennsylvania committee of the Colonial Dames met yesterday afternoon and elected officers. Mrs. William T. Wallace was re-elected chairman, with Mrs. Marcellin Cote Adames secretary. A circular letter addressed by the president, Mrs. A. J. Cassatt, to the Colonial Dames throughout the state was given the local women, and because of other business will be read by them at their homes. A number of the prize essays offered in competition for prizes to be awarded by the Pennsylvania society of the Colonial Dames in Philadelphia were given the students in the Pittsburgh High school are competing in this contest, the subjects being confined to the colonial period of American history. Mrs. James R. Mellon was appointed to look into the matter of erecting some form of marking on the site of old Fort Necessity. The matter was discussed and the women are decidedly in favor of the plan if it can be carried out. After the business tea was served. The meeting was conducted in the home of Mrs. William M. McKelly, Fifth avenue. The next meeting will be the second week in March.

Committees Appointed.

The following committees were appointed by Mrs. Levi Bird Duff, chairman of the permanent civic committee, to look after the arrangements for the annual mid-winter conference to be held in the First Presbyterian church on Thursday, February 15:

Program committee—Mrs. Phyllis, chairman; Mrs. W. W. Wishart, Mrs. Mattie Patterson.

Nominating committee—Miss Helen Grimes, chairman; Mrs. E. A. Jones, Mrs. H. E. Bineweaver.

The registration committee will be appointed by the program committee, and the ushers will be young women from several of the clubs.

Report of Probation Officer.

Miss Nannie Oppenheimer, the probation officer of the juvenile court, who is supported by the Juvenile Court Aid society, gave an interesting report of her work during the past month at the regular monthly meeting of the society yesterday morning. Miss Oppenheimer made 88 visits in the course of the month, 16 of the cases referred to her were investigated and disposed of out of court, those being called preventive cases. Four were brought up before the court. The society sent one boy who had incipient consumption to Whitehaven, expecting later to send him out to Denver. One child was sent to the House of Refuge in Baltimore. One of the cases which is before the attention of the society is so promising, the boy showing such an aptitude and such ambition that an effort will be made to send him to an industrial school, where he may learn a useful trade. Mrs. Enoch Rauh is the president of the society, which is the outgrowth of the interest the Columbian Council of Jewish Women is taking in the juvenile court work in Allegheny county.

Missionaries Tell of Their Work.

The Women's Union Missionary association of Allegheny county met yesterday in the Second Presbyterian church. The morning session, opened by devotional exercises conducted by Mrs. R. C. Wylie, was devoted to addresses by Miss Dunn, who has lately returned from Jerusalem, and Miss Carnahan of the board of foreign missions of the Methodist Episcopal church. Miss Carnahan spent a couple of years in making a tour of the foreign mission stations of the Methodist Episcopal church, on her return going to Mexico, from which she has lately returned. In the afternoon Dr. J. Hunter Corbett, who has spent 40 years in missionary work in China, made an address, telling of the growth of missionary effort in that land, the impossibility of meeting the Chinese without a knowledge of the language and the infinite possibilities and opportunities for advancement in the awakening of China, since the opening of the war between Russia and Japan. Mrs. E. M. Hill spoke of revival work being carried on in India and Mrs. H. C. Campbell presented the cause of temperance in relation to foreign mission work, the association recognizing the importance of the subject in adopting a resolution asking that one day of the week of prayer in the different churches be devoted to temperance. A specially interesting feature of the opening of the afternoon session was the appearance of Mookiie Wood Myles, the little Hindu deaf mute girl recently brought to this country and adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Myles of Mt. Washington. Mookiie will be sent to the institution for the Deaf and Dumb in Edgewood next week, and will be educated with the distinct purpose of sending her back to India to work among the deaf mutes there. Mr. and Mrs. Myles are both graduates of the Edgewood institution and yesterday Mrs. Myles recited "Nearer, My God, to Thee," in the sign language, while Mr. Myles, who has learned to speak, told of the adoption of Mookiie and their ambitions in her behalf. A most impressive talk was given by the Rev. G. W. Newton, pastor of the First Congregational church, Dithridge street.

WANTED—Parties to take an interest in the formation of a company for the manufacture of the article below. Investigation solicited. John Wyher, 926 River ave., Espien borough, Pa.

The invention relates to a process for constructing artificial stone for building purposes comprising slag, cinder and iron scales; the materials are mixed and molded into bricks or blocks, making a compact block for use in building construction and flagstones. As the materials utilized in this invention are practically all waste or refuse material the block is an inexpensive product which is extremely serviceable in the uses for which it is designed.

THE UPWARD MOVEMENT AGAIN IN FULL SWING

Nearly Everything in the New York Market Closed Strong and Higher—Call Loans Easy—Local Stocks Less Active and Irregular.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

There was a resumption of the upward movement in the New York stock market yesterday and before the close of the session all the hesitation had disappeared and the tendency was distinctly bullish. The movement embraced all classes of stocks and nearly everything on the list closed firm and higher. The transactions were large, footing up 1,043,400 shares.

Union Pacific early became a feature of the market and on enormous transactions advanced to 156⅞, the highest ever quoted, closing only slightly below the best. There was no news accompanying this movement, except the statement that a large amount of "calls" had been purchased in London running into March, and confident predictions were made that before the expiration of these options the price would be quoted around 175. There is only one thing that would justify such a high figure, and that would be an increase in the rate of dividend. There is apparently little doubt of some sort of increased distribution to stockholders, which will come, it is inferred, from the profits growing out of the old Northern Pacific deal, rather than from increased earnings. Another very strong feature was Great Northern preferred, which advanced from 298 to 308 and closed at a net advance of 10½ points. This movement is based largely upon predictions that the ore lands of the company will be leased to the United States Steel Corporation on terms that will insure increased dividends to Great Northern.

The two stocks mentioned were the leaders of the high-grade investments, all of which, however, shared in the buoyancy and closed at net gains. Delaware & Hudson closed 4¾ per cent higher, Northwestern 2⅞ and Northern Pacific 2½ higher. Southern Pacific and Atchison each closed 1½ higher and St. Paul ¾ higher. Pennsylvania railroad closed ¾ higher and there was some confident talk to the effect that the long-deferred movement in this stock was about to take place. The other members of the Pennsylvania group closed only fractionally higher. At the other extreme of the railroad list Colorado & Southern ruled active and closed 3¼ higher. There was no news to account for this movement.

The feature of the industrial list was the strength displayed by the southern iron and steel stocks. Tennessee Coal & Iron was quoted ex-dividend of 1 per cent and after opening at 151 and sagging to 150½ became very strong, advancing to 159, the highest ever quoted, and closing at 168¾. Sloss-Sheffield closed 3½ per cent higher. Republic Iron & Steel common closed 2½ higher and the preferred 1¾ higher. The activity in these stocks is construed as foreshadowing closer relations between all these companies, but the spectacular movements of late in Tennessee Iron are said to be due to a large short interest which is thoroughly alarmed over the speculative situation.

United States Steel stocks continued to move within comparatively narrow limits and closed with but slight net changes. Copper stocks were firm and in the late dealings Amalgamated became very strong, advancing to 111⅝ and closing at 111⅜. This was a gain of 1⅝ per cent for the day. Anaconda Copper closed 1¼ lower. American Smelting closed 1⅞ higher, while Sugar closed 1 per cent lower.

The money market was distinctly easier for all classes of loans. The rate on call loans ranged between 6 and 4 per cent and just before the close touched 2 per cent, the lowest for many weeks. The weekly statements of the Bank of England and the Bank of France showed a large reduction in loans, usual to the season, and a general strengthening of reserves.

There was a great deal of irregularity in the local stock market and trading was less active. Toward the close of the day the market here seemed to catch some of the bullish enthusiasm prevailing in the east, and some stocks scored a sharp recovery. Crucible Steel preferred experienced a sharp break from 78¾ to 76⅞, but it quickly recovered to 78 and closed at a net loss of only 1 per cent. The decline was thought to be due to profit-taking. The common stock was moderately active, at 14⅝ to 14⅞. National Fire Proofing preferred was strong and advanced to 26, while the common held steady at 8 to 8⅛. Pittsburgh Oil & Gas made a strong rally from 44 to 51, closing at a net gain of 7 per cent. The rise was due to rumors that the regular quarterly dividend would be declared, which was confirmed by the action of the directors after the close of the market. Manufacturers Light & Heat was also firmer and closed fractionally higher. The coal stocks remained dull and barely steady. Pittsburgh Coal preferred declined from 59½ to 59 and closed at the lowest. River Coal preferred closed unchanged at 25. The Westinghouse stocks were dull and barely steady.

There was less activity in the mining department and prices were irregular. Tonopah Extension opened at $7.75 and advanced sharply to $8.40, closing at $8.35, a net advance of 60 cents. Ohio Tonopah sold to the extent of 8,800 shares at 29 to 30 cents a share. Luster Mining broke $3 a share to 32 just before the close, and did not recover any of the loss. United Copper sold at 63½, a decline of ⅝ per cent.

A feature of the trust company group was the advance of 10 points in Colonial Trust to 380, and 15 points in Real Estate Savings & Trust to 185. Bonds were moderately active and firm.

THE BULL CAMPAIGN RESUMED

The managers of the bull campaign resumed operations in Wall street yesterday without particular flourish of trumpets. They simply bought the stocks that are recognized as the leaders, and they bought them in reams. They took 358,000 shares Union Pacific and advanced prices to the highest ever quoted. Nearly 140,000 shares Amalgamated Copper changed hands, and the United States Steel issues were active. Here and there some of the investment specialties were bid up where it would have the most effect, and the day closed with prices near the top and confidence stronger than ever. Call loan rates got as low at 2 per cent at the close and time loans were easier.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The significance of the revival of bullish enthusiasm in Wall street yesterday was that it occurred in the absence of any particular news or rumor. It looked like a return of organized bull forces in the speculation, and the size of the dealings in Union Pacific, Amalgamated Copper and a few other specialties was proof that big men were again in the market. Numerous 1,000-share lots of Union Pacific changed hands, and these transactions were occasionally sprinkled with a 5,000-share purchase. When the front of the market became apparent all the little pools became active, and the result was a big broad market, and a restoration of cheerful sentiment all along the line.

A good effect was produced by the developments in the money market. Immediate conditions diverged from the gold export point. Sterling exchange moved upward at Paris again, thus relieving the pressure on New York from that source. Foreign political sentiment was more cheerful and proof was felt that the Bank of England refrained from advancing its official discount rate. The weekly report of that institution, however, showed but a meagre recuperation from the depleted reserve condition of last week, such improvement as there was being principally due to the $27,000,000 loan contraction. This brings the proportion of reserve to liabilities up to 35.60 per cent, compared with 29.81 per cent last week, but against the ratio of 44.59 per cent this week last year. The Bank of England also lost about $1,500,000 yesterday, which was withdrawn for shipment to South America. It is believed in Paris that the bank is preparing to get control of the money market so as to make an advance in its rate effective before resorting to that measure. Foreign gold bars in New York continued to expect an outgo of gold later, owing to the heavy obligations to foreign lenders falling due within the next few weeks.

New York sub-treasury operations have contributed to the money market already this week $3,613,000, and there was another heavy debit balance at the clearing house by the sub-treasury yesterday afternoon, due to payments by the government on account of transportation of the mails. There was paid also $500,000 by that institution on telegraphic transfer from San Francisco. The easing of the foreign exchange rate was the more notable in the face of this replenishment of the New York market, as the easing of the money rate was expected to facilitate an outgo of gold.

The Hill group was made the subject of revived rumors of a "melon cutting" and of absorption of connecting lines to the gulf. These rumors apportioned the Missouri, Kansas & Texas system to the Burlington and the Kansas City Southern to St. Paul.

The directors of the Washington National bank yesterday organized and elected the following officers: President, John C. Reilly; first vice president, William C. McKeldowney; second vice president, Isaac R. Whitaker; cashier, S. G. Gallupe.

The news was received from Chicago yesterday, where the home office of the company is located, that George T. Oliver had been elected a director of the Black Mountain Mining Company, succeeding William Larsen of Green Bay, Wis., resigned. Mr. Oliver is largely interested in the property, and his election to the board is in the nature of a recognition of Pittsburgh holders who were purchasers of the subscription stock. The meeting of the board at which this action was taken is the first since the return of President W. Z. Stuart from Europe. Philip N. Moore, consulting engineer, who recently returned from the property, where he had been in consultation with General Manager N. C. Banks, reported that the mine development and construction work is fully up to expectations. He predicted that the 120-stamp mill will be ready for operation February 1 and the cyanide department by April 1.

A block of 5,000 shares of Ohio Tonopah changed hands on the local exchange yesterday at 29 cents a share. Speer to R. C. Hall.

The Imperial Oil and Gas Company yesterday paid the 12th consecutive monthly dividend of 1 per cent.

Shortly after the close of the market the directors of the Pittsburgh Oil and Gas Company declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1 per cent, payable January 30, to stock of record January 16. The market had anticipated the event by advancing from 44 to 51, closing with a net gain of 7 per cent. It was stated that hereafter the meeting to take action on the dividend will be held about the middle of the month at the end of each quarter in order that the directors may have before them the full report of the earnings for the quarter from which dividends are declared.

The floating supply of Colonial Trust stock seemed to have been cleaned up on Wednesday, and yesterday on the purchase of 20 shares the price advanced 10 points to 390.

National Fire Proofing preferred was firmer, advancing to 26. The common held steady at 8. The recent advance in these stocks is thought to foreshadow some favorable announcement at the annual meeting which is scheduled for next month.

Philadelphia Company closed a dollar a share higher at 52⅜, the strength being based upon advices from the east to the effect that progress is being made with the deal for the change of control of the property.

Independent Brewing bonds closed ½ per cent higher at 105½. River Coal bonds were firm and unchanged at 111.

Foreign Financial.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Consols for money, 89 3-16; consols for account, 89⅜. Bar silver steady at 25¾d an ounce. Money, 2½@3 per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 3⅝@3 11-16 per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for three months' bills is 3⅝@3 11-16 per cent. Money was increased on stock exchange demand in the market today and the tone was uneasy, owing to the uncertainty as to the immediate future. If the foreign demands continue the Bank of England may soon be compelled to raise its rate of discount. Discounts were steady. Trading in the stock exchange was quiet and undecided. Attention centered on the conclusion of the settlement. Consols were steady and closed a fraction better. Home rails were firm. Americans opened dull, rallied irregularly, mostly to slightly over parity, and closed erratic. Denver & Rio Grande and Southern Pacific were in good demand. Foreigners were quietly firm. Russians, Japanese and Peruvians had better tones, but closed easier. Japanese imperial 4s of 1904 were quoted at 102⅝. Copper was weak today, though there was no pressure to sell. The price dropped 15s to 20s and closed at 73½, nominal. About 500 tons were sold. There was a further rise in the price of tin, but eastern exchange made it impossible to buy in the straights within pounds sterling of London parity. There were fairly large realizations here, but not sufficient to prevent advance of 22s 6d. About 900 tons were sold.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—Prices on the bourse today were inactive and the tone was undecided while awaiting the Moroccan conference and the definite conclusion of the Russian financial arrangement. Russians were weak. Russian imperial 4s were quoted at 84.30 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 402. Three per cent rentes, 98 francs 82½ centimes for the account. Exchange on London, 25 francs 12 centimes for checks.

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—Prices on the bourse today opened weaker, due to realization. Later stocks became stronger. Exchange on London, 20 marks 43½ pfennigs for checks. Discount rates: Short and three months' bills, 4 per cent.

Banks and Treasury.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(Special.)—In redemption of checks drawn by depositors of gold at the Seattle assay office, today's official reports show that the sub-treasury paid out yesterday $100. Total thus paid since Friday, $9,500; against $45,357 for the same period a week ago. Total payment by government to New York banks for the day, $5,266,000. Payment by banks to government, $3,653,000. Balance on the day's transactions, $1,613,000 paid by government to banks. Total net payment by government to banks since Friday, $3,032,000, against $9,125,000, paid by banks to government for the corresponding period a week ago, and $701,000 paid by government to banks a year ago.

New York Money Market.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Money on call firm at 5@6 per cent; ruling at 5½ per cent; closing bid, 4 per cent; offered at 5 per cent. Time loans steady; 60 days' and 90 days', 5½@6 per cent; 6 months, 5¾@6 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 5½@6 per cent. Sterling exchange easier with actual business in bankers' bills at $4 86.45@4 86.50 for demand and at $4 83.20@4 83.25 for 60-day bills. Posted rates, $4 82½@4 84 and $4 86½@4 87; commercial bills, $4 83; bar silver, 66⅝c; Mex can dollars, 50½c. Government bonds firm. Railroad bonds steady.

Condition of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of $150,000,000 gold reserve, shows: Available cash balance, $162,544,620; gold coin and bullion, $87,606,820; gold certificates, $42,428,680; silver coin and bullion, $2,347,689; silver certificates, $18,790,061; United States notes, $5,971,691; treasury notes of 1890, $35,551; national bank notes, $17,926,757; total receipts this month, $48,356,787; total receipts this year, $215,215,526; total expenditures this month, $48,110,090; total expenditures this year, $320,211,835.

The Bank of England.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes: Total reserve increased £967,000; circulation increased £83,000; bullion increased £1,049,265; other securities decreased £5,351,000; other deposits decreased £2,134,000; public deposits decreased £1,470,000; notes reserve increased £960,000; government securities increased £951,000. The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 35.50 per cent as compared with 29.87 per cent last week.

MORELAND CORNER SOLD FOR $350,000

Thomas Moreland, Jr., Buys Property and Will Sell It Off in Business Lots.

DOWNTOWN SALE OF $250,000

The Moreland property at Penn, Sheridan and Center avenues, East Liberty, has been sold through the office of Woods & Coleman for a price slightly in excess of $350,000. Thomas Moreland, Jr., one of the five heirs of the late Thomas B. Moreland estate, is the buyer and his purchase will result, probably, in the big property being cut up and sold off in business lots. The other heirs who will share in the proceeds of this sale are Mrs. J. H. Coleman, wife of J. H. Coleman, the real estate broker, and William Moreland, of this city. Mrs. Dr. John Porter of McKeesport and John Kerr of Hamilton, Ont.

The Moreland plot is the largest corner in East Liberty. It measures 108 feet in Penn avenue, at the southeast corner of Penn and Sheridan avenues, and runs back 100 feet along Sheridan avenue to a 15-foot alley. On the opposite side of this alley, facing in Sheridan avenue, are two lots, 40x48 feet. At the corner of Sheridan and Center avenues the property is triangular shaped, measuring 107 feet in the former and 156 feet in the latter thoroughfare, and having an average depth of 76 feet. This gives practically 12 50-foot lots, all having frontages in good streets. Practically the entire plot, with the exception of the Moreland block, a three-story brick structure, 60x108 feet, in Penn avenue, is occupied by the old one-story frame livery stable which comes out to the two corners named. The Moreland block is occupied by stores and offices and brings in about $9,000 a year. The stable is said to be rented for just about enough to pay the taxes.

The property has been in the Moreland name for over 30 years, the Moreland block having been built 12 years ago. It is the purchaser's intention to erect a three or four-story office building at Penn and Sheridan avenues for his own use. As soon as Mr. Moreland's new $10,000 stables at Sheridan and Harvard avenues are completed he will probably abandon most of the old stables. This move, it is said, will be followed by the marketing of the Sheridan and Center avenue frontages in 20-foot lots.

George Ewart Property Sold.

The deal for the George Ewart holdings at 311-313 Smithfield street, mentioned in The Gazette three weeks ago, has been made, the reported consideration being $250,000. James Meighan of the firm of S. W. Greenland & Co., handled the transaction, but the name of the buyer is still kept secret, although rumor has it that he is a prominent downtown investor. The lot is a small one, having a frontage of 20 feet 6 inches and a depth of 42.6 feet to the property of the Dollar Savings bank. The three-story brick building on the lot is occupied by Jeremy's restaurant which, it is said, has a long lease. The property has always been strongly held and this price, $6,240 a front foot, and $119.15 a square foot, shows how badly it is wanted. Frequent rumors have been about as to deals pending for the Samuel Ewart lot adjoining, at Smithfield street and Fourth avenue which is only 12x60 feet, but this property is not for sale at present. The two lots together, in spite of their shallow depth would make a fine site for a modern building and if the postoffice site across the street is improved with a costly structure it is not improbable that the greater importance of the Ewart corner might lead to the erection of a modern building.

Sale of $80,000 in Nineteenth Ward.

The E. J. Robinsteen property at the northwest corner of North Highland and Stanton avenues, Nineteenth ward, has been sold for $85,000. The deal was made through the offices of George B. Kelly and Davies & Green, and means the erection of a big apartment house. The buyers are men interested in the Shadyside Land Company, which has built two large apartment houses in Center avenue, just east of the Pennsylvania railroad. In part payment for the Robinsteen site they are tendering Squirrel Hill property which goes into the deal at about $40,000. The Robinsteen lot has a frontage of 140 feet in North Highland avenue and the same in Stanton avenue, in the rear, and a depth along Stanton avenue of 248 feet. It contains approximately 34,000 square feet. Near the center of the lot is a 14-room modern colonial brick house which will either be moved back to one corner of the lot or taken away. Plans for the apartment building will be prepared at once and it will cost at least $100,000. It will be four or five stories high and strictly modern in every particular, and will be much the largest apartment house in that district.

A rumor was current yesterday that the C. A. Warmcastle holdings at Penn and Shady avenues, had been sold for about $250,000. Some time ago an option was secured on the property by a downtown firm, as one prospective site for a big theater. Yesterday Mr. Warmcastle said that no sale had been effected and that no one had an option on the property at present.

May's to Start East End Store.

The May Drug Company is going to start a big branch establishment in the Grant McCargo building, at 6006 Penn avenue, just east of Highland avenue, East Liberty. A few weeks ago it was announced that E. M. Harris of St. Paul had secured a lease on the building and would use it for a department store. It develops that he leased the property for the May Drug Company, which will get possession next week, and will lose no time in getting a force of men at work remodeling the entire structure, which is 20x145 feet, running back to Kirkwood street. New fronts, new plumbing, new wiring and modern store fixtures will be provided. The drug store will be located on the same plan as the big establishment of the May company at Fifth avenue and Market street, and Hedrick May announced last night that it would be run under the personal supervision of members of the firm. The lease, with its extension privileges, is said to cover a period of 10 years.

Through the Commonwealth Real Estate Company, T. G. Evans & Co. have leased the five-story brick building at 939-941 Liberty avenue for a term of years, and will occupy it as a crockery and glassware store. The location was formerly that of Graff & Co., and the Evans company will move to it from 842 Liberty avenue.

Syndicate Wants 200,000 Feet.

Pittsburgh may get another monster system of warehouses if the plans of a local syndicate carry. This last syndicate, through the agency of downtown brokers, is seeking a site containing 200,000 square feet. Two sites have already been submitted, according to report. One of them is 117,000 square feet of the Howe-Brown property in Lawrenceville, now owned by the Crucible Steel Company. The price for this plot is said to be $1,062,000, or $6 a square foot, which is about what it is rated at worth. The other site mentioned is a smaller property near the Point. It was at first reported that the company was after the site for manufacturing purposes, but certain developments that leaked out yesterday lead to the belief that it is for a warehouse group.

The Real Estate Exchange of McKeesport is getting busy. It proposes to bring about several important reforms in the Tube City and for that purpose will meet in the council chamber tonight. First of all the exchange will consider the advisability of formally ratifying May 1 as "moving day," an announcement which most of the brokers in McKeesport have already made individually.

It is also proposed to advocate the change of route of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad through McKeesport, which is expected to meet with much opposition because of the large amount of property owned by the Baltimore & Ohio and its long period of occupancy. A third reform that will be pushed along by the exchange will be the appointment of a commission to revise and rearrange the streets of the town, which are now narrow and irregular.

New Buildings in Two Cities.

The following building permits have been issued in Allegheny: Two-story house, 1417 Locust street, Christian Home for Girls, $12,500; one-story brick storage, near Knox street, Pennsylvania Railroad Company, $3,000; two-story frame dwelling, Perrysville avenue, Wm. M. Carlisle, $4,000; two-story dwelling, Richey avenue, Mrs. E. D. Vezerka, $6,000; two-story dwelling, Superior avenue, W. J. Noble, $3,000.

The Pittsburgh bureau of building inspection yesterday issued permits for the following: C. R. Miller & Co., two brick dwellings in Chislett street, Nineteenth ward, $9,000; J. E. Sullivan, frame dwelling at 118 Spencer street, Twenty-first ward, $1,200; W. R. Willhide, brick dwelling in Stanley avenue, Twenty-third ward, $2,700; Ralph Crossland, frame dwelling in Schuyler street, Twenty-seventh ward, $2,550; John Goro, frame dwelling in Pasadena street, Thirty-second ward, $2,250; J. H. Michel, frame dwelling in Antietam street, Eighteenth ward, $1,400; W. N. Case, brick apartment in Bedford avenue, Thirteenth ward, $8,000.

Squirrel Hill—William S. Burchfield sold for Ira M. Burchfield to John G. Evans a vacant plot, 132x170 feet, on the north side of Burchfield street, near Shady avenue, Twenty-second ward, for $8,100, as the site for a fine residence.

Mignonette street—Woods & Coleman sold for Hamlin Bank and William Keown 1562 Mignonette street, a frame house on 21x170 feet, extending through to Eva street, Nineteenth ward, for $5,500.

Webster avenue—The Aronson Realty Company reports the sale for R. Ladinstone to J. Tanney of the Byrne property, a seven-room brick house on a lot 16x69 feet, at Webster avenue and Kirkpatrick street, for $5,500. They also resold the property to Herman Chotiner of the Wabash Cigar Company for $5,200. The same brokers have leased to W. S. Kirk of Philadelphia the storeroom at 805 Liberty avenue from the Laird & Taylor Company.

Tioga street—C. C. Miller sold to Peter Youngk an improved lot, 25x100 feet, in Tioga street, Twenty-first ward, for $2,000, and another improved lot, 15x100 feet, adjoining, for $5,000.

Center avenue—James O. Flowers has bought from Mrs. Mary E. Perchmont an improved property, 50x160 feet, on the north side of Center avenue, near Millvale avenue, Twentieth ward, for $11,000. He also purchased from J. H. Wall an improved lot, 20x189 feet, in Center avenue, same ward, for $2,500.

Tannehill street—W. E. Miner sold to Agnes Calabrese 16x66 feet in Tannehill street, Eighth ward, for $3,300.

MILD WEATHER MAKES FOR BETTER BUSINESS

Increased Trade Is Noted in All Lines of the Produce Market. Much Green Stuff.

With mild weather trade among the produce houses was brisker yesterday than for some days. There was a large amount of green stuff to be had yesterday in the way of new arrivals, such as onions, cabbage, celery, lettuce, spinach and watercress. The price of lettuce has been lowered several points in all varieties, and trade from this line is reported as being good and prices favoring the purchaser. All of the other green varieties are finding good sales.

The poultry market, which became firm several days ago, is remaining the same, but is not active; there are few receipts and little demand for poultry of any sort. It is only seldom a sale of any large proportions is made. Turkeys are still to be had at reasonable prices.

Sweet potatoes are becoming a staple west. A larger range is being given in the quotations and the receipts are growing somewhat heavier. Irish potatoes are about the same, with little or no change.

The egg market is still weak, with little hope of improvement for some time. Storage eggs of all kinds are reported dragging, with small sales.

The continued firm butter market is attracting attention, as the receipts of first-class goods are becoming smaller each day.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 3 cars corn, 4 cars feed, 13 cars hay, 2 cars rye, 6 cars oats; Baltimore & Ohio, 3 cars hay; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 3 cars hay.

Receipts appear to be getting lighter each day, and the market continues firm with slight advances in prices. The demand for all articles is good. The firmness is expected to continue for several days.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

One of the most ambitious schemes and yet one of great promise for the district has just been launched at Globe. A large group of claims, most of them once famous as silver-lead producers, has been connected with another group by the addition of intervening ground, and the whole incorporated as the Radium Mines Company, covering an area of nearly 60 full claims. The ground lies a few miles north of the Old Dominion smelter, and on the east of Pinal creek, and includes a number of properties that in the days of silver produced from $100,000 to several times that sum each.

Activity continues in the Chiricahua mountains, where the same parties back of the Cochise Consolidated have organized a company to operate 10 claims adjoining the Chiricahua Development Company, in which the Kaufmans of Marquette, Mich., and T. F. Cole of Duluth are the leaders. Development shows a vein carrying copper, gold and silver, which is the general character of the ores of the district.

The new Sullivan Copper Development Company of Duluth is pushing development more rapidly than ever before, under the control of E. F. Sweeney, who has had charge for the past two years. The company has a large stockpile of silver-lead ore on its dump at the Sullivan claim and is sinking and tunnelling. Calumet and Arizona smelter improvements during 1905 have cost about $300,000, and have increased the capacity of the works 33 per cent. The company ends the year with a surplus of about $2,750,000, after paying $1,700,000 in dividends during the period. It began 1905 with a surplus of $1,324,000. The company's production of copper during December was 1,650 tons, of which about 30 per cent was from the Lake Superior and Duluth mine.

The stock of the Douglas Copper Company has been listed in London. Development work is progressing rapidly at the company's ore mines. The railroad, which is being constructed by the Southern Pacific from Guaymas to the coal fields, is already completed for half the distance to the Douglas mines.

The Transvaal closed the year 1905 with the largest output of gold any district since before the Boer war, with a December production of 431,594 ounces. This was the largest output for any month of 1905, and exceeds the production of any month since August, 1899. With the figures for December at hand the total output of Transvaal gold for the year 1905 is available. It amounted to 4,837,221 ounces, which is in excess of the output of 1904 to the extent of 1,217,000 ounces, and exceeds the output of 1899, in October of which the Boer war began, by 872,041 ounces.

The Quincy Mining Company has declared a dividend for the past six months of $5 a share, an increase of $2 a share over the previous distribution, which was made on August 24 last.

A Salt Lake (Utah) dispatch from Tonopah says the Pittsburgh syndicate, at the head of which is Charles M. Schwab, has bought the famous Blair gold mines at Silver Park, 40 miles west of Tonopah, for $750,000, from the John R. Blair estate of New York.

W. J. Black & Co. have received from President H. A. Riedel of the Yellow Tiger Mining Company a letter containing some interesting news from Goldfield. It is stated that the company is shipping 60 tons per day to Portland. John McKane of the Schwab-Tonopah interests is the owner.

The Metal Market.

BOSTON, Jan. 11.—The market today was very dull during most of the session, but toward the close, under the leadership of Amalgamated and Utah Consolidated, considerable activity developed all around the room. Tamarack was very weak on rumor of a fire in the mine. A $5 dividend on Quincy created strong buying, and the advance was sharp to 114. Good buying is noticeable in Victoria. A combination of large selling orders and stop orders made a sharp break in Parrot to 30, but at this price floor traders were willing to take on considerable stock. It looks now as if we should have more activity and better prices tomorrow.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Cotton—Spot closed quiet, 5 points higher; middling uplands, 11.60c; middling gulf, 12.05c. Sales, 100 bales.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The cotton market opened very steady, with an advance of 9@10 points in response to higher cables and good spot sales in the English market. Trading was quiet and local professionals seemed against the market, but aggressive selling was prevented by the fear of bullish developments from New Orleans, and prices during the middle of the morning ruled steady around the opening figures. The market at midday was quiet but steady, with prices at practically the opening figures. Spot cotton quiet; middling uplands, 11.75c; middling gulf, 12.00c. Estimated receipts at the ports today, 22,000 bales, against 19,810 last week and 24,941 last year. For the week, 150,000 bales, against 149,709 last week and 178,893 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 11,487 bales, against 14,239 last year, and at Houston, 3,911 bales, against 4,548 last year.

MR. PHIPPS WANTS ELECTRIC POWER

Tenants Along Duquesne Way Do Not Like Locomotive Smoke from P. R. R. Line.

C. & N. W. SHIFTS OFFICERS

Electricity will be used for power on the Duquesne elevated branch of the Pennsylvania railroad if Henry Phipps can have his influence count for anything with President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania. The past few days have shown business people along Duquesne way from Ninth street to Third street that the smoke from the locomotives will be worse than was anticipated, and especially will this be the case in the summer, when the windows of the offices and business houses must be open.

Mr. Phipps has two new 12-story office buildings at Sixth street and Duquesne way, the Bessemer and Fulton buildings. The choice office locations in the buildings are those facing into Duquesne way, where the light and air from the Allegheny river are admitted without obstruction, while a large court of the Fulton building opening into Duquesne way, is also a choice place for a business office. The smoke from the Pennsylvania's steam locomotives will turn the tide of preference to the other side of the building. Further than this, it will turn a number of desirable tenants away from the building altogether.

It was learned yesterday that several tenants of the Bessemer building are going to hold out their leases from renewal or will abrogate long-term leases if the smoke nuisance is allowed to prevail. The Duquesne way line was first used last Monday, and it will be used for about three or four months solely for delivering material to the new Duquesne freight warehouse site at the Point; thereafter it will be used regularly for the freight service to the Point warehouses. The natural "resting" point for the engines will be along the block from Fifth street to Seventh street, and this will interfere with Mr. Phipps' holdings for a block and a half, and will also be a nuisance, so far as smoke and puffing noise is concerned, for the Hotel Boyer, the Gayety theater and several business houses. The concern manifested and the opposition of tenants is said to have resulted in Mr. Phipps taking the subject up with President Cassatt.

It would be almost impracticable for the Pennsylvania to use electric locomotives on the Duquesne way branch alone, and thus some of the business people are wondering whether the Pennsylvania may not make use of the electric locomotives for the entire Union station terminal. The introduction of electricity has been repeatedly denied by Pennsylvania officers, but similar denials were made a few weeks ago regarding the construction of an electric line from Philadelphia to Atlantic city, and the latter is now contracted for and must be ready for service by July 1. Chicago is just now considering the subject of compelling the railroads to use electric engines to abolish the smoke nuisance. Baltimore has witnessed the successful use of electric locomotives several years by the Baltimore & Ohio. The Duquesne way people in Pittsburgh think the use of hard coal or coke in the engines used on the elevated line would be little improvement over the soft coal burners.

Important C. & N. W. Changes.

The most important changes made in the traffic department of the Chicago & Northwestern for several years have just been concluded upon by the heads of the traffic departments, the alterations to become effective January 15. The changes effect T. S. Rattle, who is perhaps the best known of all of the officers in Pittsburgh, because of his frequent visits here. He has been in ill health for some time, and it is understood this was the reason for his being given headquarters at Denver. S. F. Miller is appointed assistant general freight and passenger agent at Omaha, Neb., to succeed J. A. Kuhn, who resigned to engage in private business. H. W. Beyers and J. S. Talbot are appointed assistant general freight agents at Chicago. Mr. Rattle is appointed general agent of the Colorado-Utah territory at Denver. He succeeds D. H. Hoops, who is appointed general agent of the freight department at Chicago to succeed Mr. Beyers. When asked regarding the changes yesterday, General Agent A. Q. Tallant said that he heard that they were made, but he was not informed who would have the supervision of the eastern territory, including Pittsburgh, although he thought that Mr. Beyers would probably be the man.

Lent Takes on Two More Firms.

John F. Lent, shippers' traffic manager and foreign freight agent, added two more Pittsburgh firms to his list yesterday by becoming traffic manager for the McClintic-Marshall Construction Company of Pittsburgh and the John Dunlop Company of Carnegie, enamel ware manufacturers. Both of these firms are large shippers. Mr. Lent announced also that he has just opened a London office with E. G. Sparer as manager for the foreign freight agency there under Mr. Lent's name.

Heavy Travel on Atlantic Coast Line.

District Passenger Agent George P. James of the Atlantic Coast Line railway was here yesterday conferring with Agent T. D. Farrack of the Atlantic Coast Despatch and looking after Florida business. Mr. James said the New York and Florida special, the high-class winter train, started on its sixteenth three-month season Monday with a large list of passengers, the outlook being excellent for heavy travel during the winter season in the south. This is a solid Pullman train, electric lighted and accompanied on all trips by an electrician. The regular daily high-class train, the Florida and West Indies limited, which runs throughout the year from New York to Port Tampa, is also running with heavy loads now, operating each day with seven Pullman cars in addition to the other equipment. The New York and Florida special runs from New York to St. Augustine.

Agent Hutchison Leaves for Mexico.

Samuel J. Hutchison, the veteran ticket agent for the Baltimore & Ohio in Pittsburgh, left last evening for a jaunt through Mexico. The Mexican republic seems to have unusual attractions for Mr. Hutchison, as having sojourned there several years ago for a couple of weeks. He was accompanied last evening by Mrs. Hutchison and their daughters, the Misses Emma and Marie, and a couple of friends. The trip will consume about a month.

Making Up C. P. A. Tourist Sheet.

Rate clerks of the lines in the Central Passenger association are holding a two-day session in Pittsburgh to make up an all-year-round tourist sheet for the association. This is an innovation in the Central's territory, but has been used with success by the Western association. Heretofore each line has issued its own sheet covering the all-year tourist rates. The new sheet will cover all lines, stating rates from all points in the territory to all authorized tourist points. This procedure is being taken for economy and uniformity. Chief Rate Clerk Pepper of the Central association is presiding at the session. Among those in attendance are Chief Rate Clerk McFarland of the Wabash, Bliss of the Baltimore & Ohio, Scribner of the Pennsylvania lines, Strayer of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, Vinquist of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern and Doyle of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton.

Railroad Notes.

Vice President Worthington is expected home from New York this morning.

General Agent Weller of the Vandalia is looking after business at Boston.

President Delano of the Wabash is a candidate for president of the Union League club of Chicago.

General Agent Hitchcock of the Pacific express is again on duty after a fight of two weeks with the measles.

Assistant Chief Engineer Raymer of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie attended a signal meeting of New York Central lines' officers in New York yesterday.

Agent S. O. Lovis and Traveling Freight Agent Joseph W. Alfred of the Red Line Transit Company of Cleveland were here looking after business and conferring with traffic men.

Commercial Agent Hunter of the Merchants and Miners Transportation Company is expected home this morning from attending the funeral of Agent L. C. Saunders at Newport News, Va.

Freight Traffic Manager McCabe and General Freight Agents Hill and Orr of the Pennsylvania lines west and General Freight Agent Brockenbrough attended the bi-monthly meeting of the Central Freight association at Chicago the past two days.

Capt. W. H. Rhoades, who has been running on the Pennsylvania's Manor branch, has been promoted to second No. 5 east and the Pennsylvania limited west on the main line. Capt. W. S. Plummer is handling on the Manor branch until a regular conductor is assigned in 10 days.

The Wabash contracted with the Nicola Building Company yesterday for the completion of the interior of the upper four floors, sixth to ninth, of the terminal building. The fifth floor, which will be used by the accounting department, will be ready in a few days. The upper floors are to be used for commercial purposes and also for additional floor of the Wabash in the near future.

FATHER'S FIST IN BABY'S FACE

Brutal Assault in Criminal Court Which Made Crowd Boil With Indignation.

DRAWS FINE AND REPRIMAND

An uproar was created in criminal court yesterday afternoon by one of the interested parties to a suit for misdemeanor, assaulting an infant child in the arms of its mother, brutally choking it and hitting it in the face with his fist. He was immediately arrested by the court officers and Judge Taylor, while extremely lenient in fining him but $5 for contempt of court, gave him as severe a lecture as possible under the circumstances and left the assault matter for the district attorney or the Humane society.

The defendant in the case was Hayvard Ford, who was charged with a misdemeanor by Mrs. Andrew Roschriesen, who claimed he was the father of her three months' old infant, although she had been married to Roschriesen over a year. Ford denied the woman's statements, but was convicted on a tuhor count of the indictment.

While the jury was out Roschriesen and his wife, the latter with the infant in her arms, sat in the rear of the court room. In passing them one of the bystanders jokingly remarked that it was easy to see that Roschriesen was the child's father by the resemblance between them. Roschriesen turned quickly on hearing the remark and before he could be prevented caught the baby by the throat and struck it a violent blow in the face with his fist.

In an instant everybody was on their feet, and several flipstaves who had witnessed the act grabbed his arms. The wails of the infant and the cries of the mother added to the excitement. Roschriesen, his face flushed with anger, was brought before Judge Taylor, who imposed the fine and costs.

Roschriesen at first refused to pay the fine and was placed in the prisoners' box preparatory to being taken to jail. Before court adjourned the fine was paid and Roschriesen discharged from custody with a stinging rebuke.

Suit Over Church Funds.

Judge Macfarlane, in the case of the Methodist Episcopal church, Liberty street, against James W. McFarland, an action to secure possession of church property, finds that W. W. Phillips and Joseph Hamilton are the trustees of the church and are proper custodians of the money and church property. They were all that remained of the congregation and Hamilton was chosen to succeed McFarland, who was treasurer, but had moved to Allegheny, but would not surrender the church books and a fund of $1,000, contending that this election was illegal. Judge Macfarlane orders the costs paid out of the church fund, saying the defendant had acted conscientiously, although the law is against him.

Charles K. Bryce filed an equity suit against John R. Higbee, Robert S. and Mary Bryce and Ida B. Shaw, asking that the glass firm of Bryce, Higbee & Co. of Homestead be dissolved and that a receiver be appointed. The plaintiff says he owns a seven-thirty-sixths interest in the firm, and on February 1, 1905, he says, he was removed as general superintendent and manager, and since has been excluded from participation in the business of the partnership. He avers statements have been refused him as provided for under the partnership agreement, and he has been paid no dividends. He avers that the value of the partnership is constantly diminishing.

Annie Monroe demands $5,000 damages from J. T. Wanzer, Chapel Smith, Isaac Terrell, Patrick Holmes and William Branham, alleging they formed a conspiracy to eject her from membership in the New Hope Baptist church of Braddock.

Wife Missing for Ten Years.

The commissioner's report in the divorce case of Ulysses Emerick against Annie Emerick was filed. Emerick says he has searched for his wife for 10 years and has found no trace of her.

Decrees in divorce were: Rebecca F. Anderson from Charles P. Anderson, desertion; Lena Schonberg from Jacob Schonberg, desertion; Maria Klaas from Albert R. Klaas, desertion; Violet Snir from Andrew Snir, cruelty.

The commissioner in the divorce suit of Clara E. Hildreth against George H. Hildreth submitted testimony to the court taken before him. It is alleged the respondent deserted his wife and for 15 years has not contributed to her support.

Samuel Golden, a negro, left a $25,000 estate. Golden had met nearly all the famous men of the last half century at his post as doorkeeper of the Monongahela house. He devises his estate to his daughter, Margaret, and his sons, Charles, Robert and John P., and his widow. Attorney W. H. Stanton represents the heirs.

Nellie L. Blatchley, in her will, provides for the disposition of her estate "in case I do not get over the operation." She died six days later and her will leaves the bulk of an unestimated estate to her husband.

Arbitrators awarded the Guarantee Title and Trust Company $3,631.83 in its suit against Sheraden borough.

An execution was issued by George H. Shickler against John Werl for $1,817.

Charles L. Snowden and others began ejectment proceedings to oust the Pittsburgh Junction and the Baltimore & Ohio railroads from Twelfth ward property, adjoining that of the Best Manufacturing Company.

MOTHER AND CHILD.

Let the mother take Scott's Emulsion for the two; it never fails to benefit them both. One can eat for two, but nourishing two is a different thing. It calls for a degree of internal strength that the average woman lacks. People of luxury are not very strong by habit; overworked people are weak in some functions from exhaustion or their surroundings. Scott's Emulsion can be depended upon to overcome such conditions. It is a wonderful food for a mother and child.

BRIDGE COMPANY LOSES.

Judge Buffington Orders Verdict of Guilty Subject to Question of United States Law.

The suit against the Union Bridge Company was brought to an end in the United States district court by Judge Buffington directing the jury to bring in a verdict of guilty of misdemeanor in failing to comply with the order of the secretary of war to raise the bridge.

This verdict is subject to questions of law reserved, in which the act of congress giving the secretary of war control of the rivers will be considered.

COKE TRADE BREAKS ALL FORMER RECORDS

Connellsville and Masontown Fields Shipped 17,026,155 Tons During 1905.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Jan. 11.—The records for 1906 show that the coke trade exceeded in volume that of any preceding year. The relations between workman and employer were friendly. No unusually grave accidents occurred. With a good car supply nearly all the stocked coke was shipped. March was the banner month both in production and shipments, while July had the lowest production and February the smallest shipments. The greatest production of a single week was the week ended December 23, with 385,104 tons. The same week also held the year's record for shipments with 294,608 tons. The week ended July 8 was the lightest with a production of 250,899 tons, while the smallest shipments were during the week ended January 7.

The grand total of the shipments from Connellsville and Masontown is 17,026,155 tons. Production in the Connellsville region for 1905 was 768,208 tons greater than that of 1902, when the largest previous record was made. Last year's shipments were 1,240,728 tons greater than those of 1902. The production last week was about 38,600 tons greater than the first week of 1905, while the shipments show an increase of nearly 64,000 tons over the same period last year.

The week's production amounted to 284,291 tons, an increase over the previous week (five days) of 50,823 tons. The shipments aggregated 12,112 cars, as follows:

Pittsburgh district, 4,284 cars; west of Pittsburgh, 6,362 cars; eastern district, 1,266 cars. The shipments amounted to 284,624 tons, an increase of 48,714 tons over the previous week. The shipments from the Masontown field aggregated 2,502 cars as follows: Pittsburgh district, 248 cars; west of Pittsburgh, 2,104 cars; eastern district, 150 cars. The Masontown shipments are estimated at 70,052 tons, an increase over the week previous of 11,928 tons.

PLAN FOR THE MERGER.

San Francisco Holding Company to Increase Capital in Order to Take Over Philadelphia Company.

Reports from San Francisco received here yesterday stated that the United Railroads Investment Company of that city, a holding company, had officially declared a proposed increase of its common stock from $10,000,000 to $25,000,000 for the purpose of taking over the Philadelphia Company. The $105,000,000 issue of preferred stock of the San Francisco company will not be increased. The proposed increase was decided upon by Patrick Calhoun and Ladenburg, Thalman & Co., the New York bankers, who hold the controlling interest in the common and preferred stock.

Under the laws governing the United Railroads Investment Company, this proposed increase in stock cannot be formally decided upon until the stockholders have had 21 days' notice, and have voted upon the question after the expiration of that time. As Mr. Calhoun and Ladenburg, Thalman & Co., who recommend the increase, are the holders of the majority of the stock, there can be no question but that the proposition will carry. However, the taking over of the Philadelphia Company will have to await the expiration of the 21 days as prescribed by law.

Personal Announcement.

Mr. J. C. Bartlett, the well-known manufacturer of furnaces, stoves and ranges and dealer in all kinds of appliances for heating and cooking, desires to announce to his many friends and patrons that he has sold his interest and severed his connection with the Bartlett Furnace and Range Corporation. He has established a temporary office at No. 621 Smithfield street, previous to the formation of the J. C. Bartlett Company. He would be pleased to see his friends or have them address him at the above number (621) for anything wanted in his line. The future location of the company will soon be announced.
